Not long after may arrival in Paris, however, I had the pleasure of meeting him at the house of the American Minister. I saw him surrounded by a crowd, who flocked to meet him at his entrance; I saw him entertain them with conversation, bright and courtier-like, as when, half a century before, he formed the ornament of the dainty saloons of Marie Antoinette. I softly joined the number who had gathered round him, but did not then venture to be presented. I afterwards met him at many other parties, and observed, in every instance, the same appearance of vivacity and youthful feeling, which surprised me at first. Age did not appear to have dimmed his powers in the least; and at seventy-five, the old man was still the star of the saloons, the foremost of his party, the pride of two worlds.

The same writer says, (what every true American can believe,) that it was one of the most interesting occasions of his life to visit Lafayette at his home, to see him surrounded by his children, down to the fourth generation, and living among them in patriarchal dignity.

Startling Rumor.—There was a report prevalent at Exeter, on Saturday last, that a family, named Graves, consisting of a man, his wife and five children were deliberately murdered in Brentwood, on Friday night. But few particulars were given, but the general impression was, that their throats were cut.

P. S. Since writing the above, we are informed that a serious objection to any belief in the above rumor exists, to wit: Mr. Graves, the self same individual, was seen, the morning after he was killed, busily engaged in building a fence. What a boundless imagination the 'fabricator of such a story must be blessed with!" Q.

☞ The Peterborough Transcript says that a young lady by the name of Swinnerton, about 17 years of age, belonging in Lyndeborough, N. H., came to Peterborough about two weeks ago, to have her ambrotype taken, and has not since been heard from. Her parents are anxious to learn of her whereabouts.

☞ The N. Y. Police Gazette says James B. Sumner, alias James S. Boynton, a soldier in the U. S. army, was hanged at Taos, New Mexico, Aug. 17th Sumner was convicted of murder in the first degree upon a young man named Stuart, a soldier in the same regiment. He was about 22 years of age. Upon the trial he exhibited the most incorrigible hardness of heart, and sported, with his doom as a child with a toy. He wrote a very affecting letter to his parents in New Hampshire, confessing his guilt and admitting the justice of his sentence. He has also a wife and child in this State, from whom he begged that the true story of his death might be forever concealed.

Sumner was from Meredith, N. H. He forged an order, and was sent to the State Prison for three years. He was pardoned out before the expiration of his sentence, enlisted in the U. S. Army, went to New Mexico, committed murder, and has now just been hung.

☞ The Quarantine quarrel is still open in New York. The Governor and Commissioners have been breaking over the ground. At Seguine's Point they were met by a large party of Staten Islanders, who were not backward in informing the State officers that if Seguine's Point was made a portion of the permanent Quarantine establishment, the present buildings and other structures that might be erected there, would not be allowed to stand a long time. Meantime, the Quarantine Commissioners have submitted a report announcing the selection of Seguine's Point and the old Orchard Shoal, to be conjointly used for a permanent Quarantine.

Roxbury.—In the Police Court, Friday Agnes Hughes was convicted and punished for selling liquor at the Roxbury House.—At the Norfolk House, a child some three years of age, swallowed by mistake, a quantity of camphene, from a tumbler. By procuring immediate medical aid her life was saved.

Ballou Monument.—Two marble blocks, one to be eight feet long, four feet wide and four feet high, and the other four feet square, to be used for a monument to the late Rev. Hosea Ballou, in Mount Auburn, are in process of quarrying at the quarry of Isaiah Jordan, in Brunswick, Me. They will be a fine gift to the deceased from Mr. McAine, lessee of the quarry.

Installation. — On Thursday evening, Rev. A. B. Muzzey was installed as pastor over the Unitarian Society in Newburyport. There has been no settled preacher there for three years. They have, by all odds, the finest church, and the one best located in the city; and of their views there are more than enough people for any church we have.

The sermon was by Rev. Dr. Peabody, of Portsmouth, N. H., from a passage of Peter's, "Holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Spirit." It was a very beautiful production, and a powerful one, especially suited to the times, and to the liberal christians of the times, when such men as Parker and others, have disclaimed a portion and degraded the remainder of the Holy Word, often treating it with as little reverence as though it was on a level with the daily newspaper.

Dr. Peabody vindicated the Bible as not alone a great human production, but as the embodiment of Divine truth, and from its very nature, and not by any arbitrary adjudgment, superior to any other book among men. While its writers were men of ordinary human faults and errors, and while their productions varied in literary value, there was in their utterings what was essentially divine—coming not from man but from the higher and all-creative power. It was a book not only historically marking the dealings of God in the rolling ages and the progressive nations, but that which is most valued by the individual—to which we all go in times of sorrow and bereavement, in preference to any other books, however familiar we may be with their pages. To this Bible as the basis of ministerial action, and christian belief, he referred the pastor, and church.

The right hand of fellowship was extended by Rev. Dr. Thompson, of Salem. It was a most happy effort, and feelingly pronounced. Dr. Gannett, of Boston, gave the address to the people. It was a plain statement of the duties of the society in aiding their pastor. He wanted them to act in concurrence in supporting their faith and building up the society. The labors of a minister could not be profitable without aid from his church. It could not be expected that any great good would result from preaching, if the hearers were indifferent or the pews allowed to be empty. The advice given was practical in its nature, and such, if obeyed, as will place the society in the position it occupied in its early days.—Herald.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—A serious collision took place on the Camden and Amboy Railroad, to-day, between an express and freight train. The disaster occurred near Whitehorse, N. J., eleven miles below this city.

W. Siner, a merchant doing business here, and the engineer and the fireman of the express train were killed, and thirteen were wounded, some of them seriously.

The cause of the accident is said to be the anxiety of the employees on the freight train to reach the city in time to participate in an excursion, and to do this violated the time tables. One of the employees has fled to the woods.

A Trio.—The Dover Gazette, speaking of Clay and Webster, says:—

The northern portion of the Whig party, now absorbed in niggerism, followed these men down to the grave like a pack gladened hyenas; and when men like Buchanan, Cass, Douglas and Pierce—that illustrious trio of American statesmen, stood over the graves of Daniel Webster and Henry Clay, these base slanderers of a reckless and shameless press, pointed their poisoned arrows of malice at their heads.

Buchanan, Cass, Douglas, and Pierce—that illustrious trio! Here are four names: a trio consists of three; who is counted out?

☞ The Dover Gazette mentions a case of suicide which occurred at Milton, about two weeks since. A young lady, aged about 15 years, having some differences with a friend, swallowed nearly a teaspoonful of strychnine—confessed what she had done,—told the cause and died.

An Unlucky Kiss.—An English paper states that Catherine Burt, a girl of 17, residing at Bridgegate, Glasgow, had her neck fractured in a struggle arrising from a young man having attempted to kiss her.

Honor.—A letter was received at the Charlestown post office last week, directed to "The Bravest Lieutenant in the Navy Yard." It was sent down to Uncle Sam's premises, and a meeting will probably be held "in the park," to decide "who's who." He would be a brave man who would venture to take it out of the office. The writer of that letter was undoubtedly "up to snuff," whether he got a pinch out of Gen. Jackson's gold box or not.—Advertiser.

LOCAL.

LAFAYETTE'S BIRTH DAY.—Our citizens were taken by surprise on Monday morning, by the merry peal of bells, to honor the centennial anniversary of Lafayette's birth. The bells were rung at sunrise, noon and sunset, by order of the Mayor and Aldermen:—but as the order was not passed at the regular meeting (but informally)—and was not reported or much known, it had all the charm of novelty, and some of a surprise.

Some companies of firemen assembled, and one or two tubs rolled out in the morning, but no damage was done, beyond a few families who breakfasted a little earlier than usual.

At sundown a federal salute, (thirteen guns,) with cartridges not scanty, judging from the report—was fired in Marden's pasture, on South Road. No provision having been made for this, by the city or otherwise, the Commissary General of New Hampshire, Franklin Dennett, Esq., who resides here, felt himself called upon to honor the occasion, and volunteered the salute out of his own patriotism and his own pocket. If over a salute was in order, it certainly was this time; and the whole proceedings seemed to please everybody. Next year we hope the day will be observed as a general holiday all over America. We need about half-a-dozen more—say one a month in all; and let us not forget the patriots to whom we owe what of liberty we enjoy. Vive la Lafayette!

☞ Died, in Lowell, on Sunday morning, Mr. Oliver March, a native of Portsmouth, but many years a resident in Lowell. He went to a window of his chamber, for air, or some other purpose unknown, at 5 o'clock, and fell out on the piazza, and thence to the ground. The watch saw him fall, and took him up insensible. He lived about two hours.

In Chicago, a concert was given on the 17th ult., by a new aspirant for fame, Master Ernest Perabo—a lad 11 years of age, who has acquired some reputation as a violinist. He announces that he knows by heart more than a hundred fugues, by S. Bach, Handel, and Mozart, and reads difficult music at sight. He plays the violin and piano, both at the same time.

This is the little fellow who gave two concerts here a couple of years ago, with his father, and a Mr. Lawtenshlauger, (or some such name) who brought out the biggests tone we ever heard from a violin. They didn't get enough to pay expenses, however, as we regretted then and as we regret now.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ARAGO.

ST. JOHNS, Sept. 5.—The U. S. Mail Steamship, Arago, Capt. Lines, from Havre and Southampton 26th ult., passed Cape Race at about noon of Thursday 3d inst. Her advices, which are four days later than those received by the Vanderbilt and Asia, at New York, were obtained by a fishing smack and brought to this port. Commercially they are of considerable importance, but in a political point of view they are of but little interest.

This is the first successful attempt to obtain news from Europe by the steamer passing Cape Race, which in itself is a highly important achievement, demonstrating as it does the practicability of obtaining news, were a steamer employed, in about seven or eight days from Europe.

The Arago has about 220 passengers and $100,000 in specie.

ENGLAND.—Parliament had been prorogued.

Several failures among commercial men at Liverpool are reported—names not given.

FRANCE.—French ships of war are ordered to render every aid in their power to the English vessels proceeding to India with troops.

The news from Algeria is favorable to the French arms.

RUSSIA.—The cholera was abating at St. Petersburg.

TURKEY.—The harvest in Turkey had proved highly successful.

PERSIA.—The Shah of Persia was increasing his army.

MADAGASCAR.—The Queen of Madagascar had recommended the persecution of Europeans by her subjects.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—The Liverpool cotton marked closed with an advancing tendency at prices one eighth per pound higher than those of the previous Friday.

LIVERPOOL BREADSTUFFS MARKET was generally dull, with a declining tendency. Buyers demanded a reduction before effecting purchases.

LIVERPOOL PRODUCE MARKET.—Sugar was buoyant in the Liverpool market at sixpence advance.

NEWBURYPORT FOUNDRY AND MACHINE WORKS.—The fires are at last fairly burning beneath the furnaces, and these extensive works just starting. They are near the Eastern Railroad Station, on land formerly owned by the Essex Corporation—for casting all kinds of iron work and manufacturing every kind of machinery.

DR. ROSS AND HIS PARTY.—Will the Old School Presbyterian Assembly be willing to receive to their embrace a class of men who have separated from their brethren on the sole ground that those brethren held strong, but conservatives views on the subject of slavery?

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining thereto. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below are from those who HAVE MORE SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, from which he would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the nine thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced me to try of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon and entirely over the head; this induced me to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my acquaintance and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its characteristic value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by some it is not age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Bilesfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and most recommending its use to all entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BRESSE, ex-Senator, U. S.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED.)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach Dyspepsia, Dyspepsia. New York, May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to me from my experience, that they cleanse at once. If they will do to others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot but bear my testimony to the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are admirable remedies for the derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., NOV. 16, 1854.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine they have done my wife more good than I can tell you she had been sick and dreaming about 6 months, and could not get off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and say will cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctor bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among my people. I am called to them in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my Friends. J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the life stream.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her face, which your pills have cured. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA ROBERIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hinsdale, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, CITY OF NEW YORK, Feb. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and produced the most excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, I took your Pills. I did so, and their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENECA GUEST, HOUSE DIVISION, LA., 5 DEC., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have completely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SKIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Pills, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the diversity of constitutions that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it almost familiar to every man, woman and child in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities anywhere in which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and treacherous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the incidental attacks that exist upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptive it prevents from fastening their fangs on them, and cure your colds while they are curable, for neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable mister that, fastened on the vitals, only yields to death. All know the dreadful fatality of long disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We make no cost, no care, no pains, and its produce is the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCY & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and is connected with the State Treasury. The money is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons residing at a distance send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, the money is filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, after the Havana plan, and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $50 to $100 '00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers: The Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

Their business is conducted on the strictest principle of honor and fair dealing. Their tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. Prizes are drawn in combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing published to all purchasers.

Coggswell's Medical Salt, A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: removes INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and sickly countenance changed for a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among our female population. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, hysterics, hysterical fits, &c., they have been efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should not be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4,631, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, were awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which for merly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid movements, blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with a manual, or bank of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two different instruments, or by means of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, it will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON
Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instruments, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of Melodeons for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior to any manufactory, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Room at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,
who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:
Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T Gilbert & Co, Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instrument before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, the expenses at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 28, '57.

The enrollment of Lane's organized militia for the protection of the polls, goes rapidly forward; there are four or five companies, numbering from forty to eighty men, already organized in this place. Lane advertised to speak at Atchison last Saturday, and loud threats were made by some of the citizens of that well-regulated town, that if he attempted it he would be prevented by force. So some of our zealous free State men determined that he should have a chance, and that the refractory Atchisonians should hear him, whether they would or not. Accordingly some twenty armed themselves, mounted, and started for Atchison—arriving there some time Saturday forenoon. They expected to be received with open arms by the free State portion of the population; instead of which the streets were occupied by armed bands of Missourians. They rode in a body down to the banking house of Adams, Swift & Co., where they were received by Mr. Adams and a couple of Dutchmen; these represented the whole free State force in town—the rest of the citizens either leaving town or quietly remaining within doors.

Well; our boys congregated in Adams's office, and after a prolonged consultation concluded that—it would be as well to stay there; but the cry of "a row up the street" brought them out, and marching in a body to the scene of action, they found a man on the ground, and another one trying to make him swallow a revolver. The crowd were very noisy and quite drunk; but did not seem disposed to use any acts of violence toward the Leavenworth party, but (to use the language of one of them) "deviled" them unmercifully as they were passing along the street. One of the Missourians would say to another, "There, do you see that fellow there?" (pointing to one of the free State men) "well, if we get into a fight, I'm going to kill him;" "and I'm going to kill him," one of his companions would reply, pointing to another of the free State party. In that way every one of the party was picked out. No "fight," however, occurred, although Mr. Frank Adams was struck by one of the crowd, and for some minutes there was some danger of a general row. The Leavenworth party, after remaining in town for a few hours, left for home.

I suppose you have heard of the escape of Haller. He was accompanied by the two sentinels placed to guard him. The Free State men here, give a knowing wink when the subject is mentioned, and assert that the B. R.s got tired of keeping him, and hired the sentinels to escort him out of the territory.

The Free State Convention met at Grasshopper Falls last Wednesday. They decided, almost unanimously, to vote at the coming October elections. The nomination of Mark Parrott was confirmed.

Lane with a body guard of five men came into town and made a speech. He says that he will yet speak at Atchison, and will notify his friends of the time. There is a large party who seem determined that he shall speak there, and large parties are forming, here and at other places to support him. Ranson speaks here next week.

Walker is still at Lawrence. The river is very low here now.

There was a marriage of rather a singular character came off at the Shawnee House, last evening. The House is right opposite the place where I am stopping. I noticed the Lawrence stage drive up and deposit its passengers, two men and a wo—, I beg her pardon, a lady. The party had considerable baggage, and it was remarked by some one that they were "fitting" well.

No more was thought of the matter until evening, when I noticed quite a crowd over opposite, and there seemed to be considerable uneasiness among its members,—a great stretching of necks, and standing on tip toe.

I walked over to see what was the matter, and learned that the two men from Lawrence were suitors of the lady; and that she could not or would not decide between the two; that the "lovers" had taken a walk together, and that they had a short time before returned; that they both had then forthwith enquired for a magistrate, and that the "tall one" had just married her. They were married in a private room—no one present but the witnesses.

The Lawrencite expressed a fear that he would be mobbed, if he was married publicly. He evidently thought this a dangerous place. As I passed round the corner, I saw no less than three men up a small tree, trying to get a glimpse of the couple, through an open window. I must now close for the boat is leaving. F. H. B.

EXETERIANA.

EXETER, Sept. 8, 1857.

Dear Chronicle:—Your numerous readers will have noticed an advertisement in your columns to the effect that Mr. Charles W. Gale has opened a new bookstore here. Mr. G. has had much experience in his business, and thereby has acquired a knack of selling books cheap, which he cannot get over—nor anybody else, very well. Always ready to accommodate the multitude of customers, who crowd into his store to select from a large stock, he will no doubt soon secure the important book trade which Exeter has always enjoyed.

On Wednesday last the Cornet Band, with some seventy or eighty citizens, (at $2.25 per capita,) visited the Lake, returning the same evening. Among the number was Dea. Theodore Moses, who enjoys the enviable position of 'ye oldest inhabitant,' being above 90 years of age. He was born in Portsmouth, where he is well known; and by minding his "Ps and Qs" (particularly the latter, for he is a stiff old Kildermeister,) has acquired a large property.

The annual Fair and Cattleshow for Rockingham county will come off on Thursday and Friday, October 1st and 2d.—There seems to be a perfect understanding that Exeter will again be so fortunate as to have this important exhibition take place here—for a third time. Like the arrival of the Great Eastern at Portland, this affair is the local occurrence in Exeter.—Portsmouth takes no interest in it, and therefore all the bands of music, the crowds of quadrupeds and bipeds, will be monopolized by this enterprising community. And by good rights it ought to be so; for Exeter furnishes 26 names for the committee on awarding premiums, while your city is kindly let off with one: John Knowlton, as committee on "two and one-year old steers."

The splendid meteors which were seen in Boston on Thursday, the 3d inst., were also plainly visible here. They covered the northern part of the sky with perpendicular stripes of beautiful white and red. A bright light to the northeast was seen here on Saturday evening from seven till nine. It was thought to be a fire in Portsmouth, but it seems that none have taken place there. No explanation of the cause of this light has yet been received here.

A lot of land on Pine street, which was bought within ten years for $500, was sold a short time since for $1500. A gentleman from Chicago, we are informed, intends building a fine house on the lot.

There are more students from Portsmouth, at the Academy this year, than any other place out of Exeter.

We are getting to be altogether too city like. Last week a man was arrested for assault and battery, and committed to jail. Now Veritas having actually seen two men drunk in the street, was so shocked as to impart the startling news to the world through the columns of the News Letter, (our village newspaper.) He wants those who have husbands, sons and brothers, to wake up, &c. Happily to promote this grand wake, Mr. J. H. Bernard, who signed the pledge in 1841, was advertised to lecture at the Lecture Room, last evening. Hope that the "Happy Man" was not so Anacreonic in his views as to have been one of those poor sots! As has been before happily quoted:

> Nor wants that little long.

We will then hastily shut off the steam of our epistle, and draw up at the depot called Finis. Yours, F. G.

HAVERHILL, MASS.—The first liquor case originating in the complaint of the town Committee, was at the Police Court on Tuesday. One Andrew Casey was complained of for being a common seller, and ordered to recognise in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the C. C. P., in Lawrence, in October.

John Kelley, a shoemaker, while intoxicated on Monday, fell from a shed and broke his spine. He was taken to the State Alms House.

A HEAVY FAILURE.—Messrs Saroni & Goodheim, a very extensive clothing house in Milk street, Boston, stopped on Friday last. Their liabilities are estimated at nearly one half a million dollars.

☞ It is certainly much easier for the leopard to "change his spots," than the "Ethiopian his skin:" for when the leopard gets tired of one spot, he can just go to another.

FLOUR FAILURES.—New York, Sept. 7.—There were three failures in the Corn Exchange to-day, viz: Tuttle, Cutting & Co.; D. Healy, and Bates, Griffin & Livermore.

TRAGEDY AT GLOUCESTER.

On Sunday about 4 o'clock P. M., in Gloucester, Mass., Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, wife of Samuel Davis, left her residence at East Gloucester, in company with her two sisters and Mrs. Douglas, for a walk to Sayward's pasture, a short distance from the house, for the purpose of picking berries.

Davis soon followed, and after they had got into the pasture, he deliberately drew a small sized five chamber Colt's revolver, and fired at his wife. The ball took effect in the left side, just below the breast, passing through the heart and out at her back. She instantly fell dead.

Davis walked off a rod or two and fired the second time. The ball took effect in the left arm.

Davis then deliberately put the pistol to his own breast and fired. He fell on his face and expired without a word.

The Boston Herald states that Davis was 34 years of age; his wife 23. They were married in New York about four years ago, and they belong to Cutler, Me. Both have relations there. He has resided in Gloucester about two years, and followed the business of fishing, sailing from East Gloucester.

He did not attempt to shoot at any of the other ladies before he shot himself. His wife seemed to be the only victim he desired.

Mr. Davis is represented by the people of East Gloucester as a respectable citizen, of quiet and peaceable disposition, and a good and kind husband.

The Traveller's latest advices from Gloucester are to the effect that the character of the woman was not good; that she spent three nights at Newburyport with other persons, having been escorted thither by a young man. Mr. Davis had been absent some three weeks or so, on a fishing voyage, and returned somewhat unexpectedly, to find his wife absent. Becoming acquainted with the state of affairs, on her return on Saturday, he had a quarrel with her, and then deliberately planned her punishment and his own death. When he followed the woman into the pasture, it is stated, he was in hopes of finding a certain person present, intending to shoot him also, as the destroyer of his peace. At the time of the death of his wife, the sister of his wife, before referred to, tried to take the pistol from him, when he threatened the sister, if she interfered, and walking to a little distance, killed himself as above described.

TWO MEN KILLED BY A BEAR.—We learn from the Albany and Troy papers that "R. Morrison, keeper of the ferry house at West Troy, N. Y., has for two or three years past kept a couple of bears, some foxes, &c., about his premises, the bears being chained a short distance from the river. On Thursday night last, a cry of distress was heard by the inmates of the house, and it was soon ascertained that J. N. Hervey, a Canadian boatman, had been attacked by the largest bear. When discovered the man was on his back, the bear over him, growling ferociously, and chawing at his shoulder and neck. He was nearly insensible, was taken to the Albany Hospital, and died about 12 o'clock.

On Friday morning, about 3 o'clock, another cry was heard from the bear den, and it was found that the same animal had another man down in a pool of blood, his clothes torn to rags. The beast was beaten off with clubs, but his victim was so horribly bitten and bruised that he also died within a few hours of the occurrence.—Previous to his death he gave his name and occupation as John Hoey, engineer. He stated that on passing near the bears, without knowing they were there, he stumbled and fell, when he was seized by the largest one and overpowered.

The bear was finally shot. He had been kept by Morrison over two years, and during that time had seriously injured one or two persons. On one occasion he entered a baker's shop, helped himself to eatables, and scattered the remaining contents of the shop on the floor. He had often frightened people in the vicinity, and it is a wonder that such a nuisance was so long tolerated."

Yes, yes:—great nuisance, and great wonder that people tolerated it. But we have 20 or 30 nuisances, worse than bears, which tear men to pieces with delirium tremens and other tremendous diseases.

GREAT PEDESTRIAN FEAT.—Lambert, the pedestrian, who attempted the feat of walking 1000 miles in 1000 consecutive hours, at Boylston Hall, Boston, accomplished it at half past two o'clock on Tuesday morning. His 1000th mile was done in 25 minutes. He decreased in weight seventeen pounds during the performance of the feat.

☞ Official returns of violations of the Sabbath law by liquor sellers in New York, says the Daily Times, become less frequent and long.—Most of the reputable shops are shut up from Saturday night to Monday morning, and the Grand Jury are likely to fetch some of the disreputable ones up with a round turn. All the large lager beer saloons keep open and pay $50 fine every Monday morning, promptly and without grumbling.

WHIPPED IN.—Gov. Walker, has fully declared himself to be in favor of a six months 'residence and payment of taxes, as a qualification not only to vote for the constitution to be made in September next, but also for members of the Legislature and all County and inferior officers.—He is as violent against the Abolitionists as a wounded snake. We hope, and have now some show that he will tumble his speculative scheme overboard and come out under the true colors. The danger of an exposal by the Black Republicans is the only draw-back.—Westport (Missouri) Star of Empire, (border ruffian.)

SINGULAR INJUNCTIONS FOR THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.—The Austrian police has forbidden the advertisement of books, of superstition, of dreams and the interpretation thereof. It has also formally called the attention of the press to the evil effect of advertising offers of marriage and the like in the daily journals.

PORTSMOUTH SHIPS.—We learn that the ship now on the stocks at the yard of Messrs. George Raynes & Son, has been sold to Capt. R. H. Tucker, of Wiscasset, Me.

Also that the ship now in course of construction at the yard of Samuel Badger, Esq., recently purchased by Capt. T. M. Weeks and others, is to be named the "New Hampshire"—the old ship of that name having been lost some time since.

NAVAL NEWS.—The U. S. sloop-of-war Vandalia, now lying at our Navy Yard, is ordered to be got ready for sea immediately.

The U. S. sloop-of-war Falmouth has been ordered to the Charlestown Navy Yard for repairs, and not to Portsmouth, as reported by telegraph. (Wonder who misreported that paragraph? Not the Boston papers, certainly, for they have harped so long on the superiority of Charlestown Navy Yard, and in favor of sending all work there, that they begin to believe their own stories, and to think that the authorities at Washington do so too.)

The frigate Roanoke, which is to be put out of commission, and her officers detached, will be removed from the dry dock to give place to the Falmouth, which is expected to arrive soon.

The steamer Saranac, at Philadelphia, is ready for sea. Most of her officers have been ordered, and it is expected she will go into commission in a few days.

☞ Oh, hoo, hoo, hullabellow, murder, slambang, crash, ooo—ooo—such the noises by which, at midnight, the slumbers of dwellers in Hanover Street, are broken. Men half drunk, and men and women scolding, had been the entertainment all Monday P. M.—And in the night, with the reinforcent of more rum and more drunkards, the music beat all the concerts given for a year. It even beat the chorus of cats, which performed a fantasia opposite the great stable.

The music lasted till nearly one, A. M.

FIRE.—On Tuesday morning, about one o'clock, fire was discovered in a barn owned by Mr. Anthony Peavey,—situated on the Banfield road, on the farm formerly owned by Mr. George Hodgdon,—and from thence communicated to the house by a shed, and in less than thirty minutes the whole was in flames. Nothing was saved, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the inmates escaped with their lives. The buildings were probably worth about $600, and were insured for two-thirds of their value. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

ROCKINGHAM AGRICULTURAL FAIR. The Exeter News Letter publishes a list of the several committees that have been appointed to award the Premiums at the County Exhibition on the first and second days of October, and says:

"We do not learn that any final decision has been made with regard to the place where the Fair shall be held, but it will probably be at Exeter. A correspondent of the Portsmouth Chronicle, some weeks ago, urged its being held in that city, but his suggestion has not, so far as we understand, met with a favorable response from those citizens of the place, who would be most likely to carry the proposal into execution. The people of Portsmouth do not, except in few instances, appear to take much interest in the annual Fair of the County; whether they do not think it of practical consequence, or do not approve of the place where, for several years past, it has been held, we do not know. They are not farmers, it is true, but they are not independent of the products of the land which farmers cultivate, and we have often heard the wish expressed that they would manifest some active interest in this autumnal festival, or encourage it by their personal influence.

If the Fair should be held at Exeter, the people of the county know what accommodations and facilities have heretofore been afforded. We believe they have proved satisfactory, and we can assure them that no reasonable pains will be spared to make the approaching exhibition of the products of Rockingham industry, pleasant and practically useful."

We wish our farmers, gardeners, and citizens generally, would take more interest in these faire, and attend them more numerously. And we do not think any person here objects to having them in Exeter. We are only a pleasant drive (14 miles) away from that place, which is a centre for several farming towns, whereas we are in a corner. Perhaps there ought to be interest enough to get up such a fair here: we wish there was: but as there is not for this year, we hope a good delegation will go from this city to Exeter.

☞ Quite a heavy frost was visible in this vicinity on Tuesday morning, which probably did considerable damage to late corn and vines. This, we believe, is the first frost of the season.

☞ A new term of Mr. Lamprey's Dancing and Waltzing Academy commences this afternoon, at Congress Hall. This is to be a short or half term; and will close with one of those most popular entertainments usual to these occasions. This is the pleasantest season of the year for the children to learn to dance, and of course Mr. L. will be favored with a good class, as usual.

PORTSMOUTH BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.—The Portsmouth Baptist Association met at Brentwood, on the 2d inst. The organization was effected by choosing Rev. J. J. Peck, of Exeter, Moderator: Rev. L. C. Stevens, Clerk; Dea. John Kelly, Assistant Clerk; and L. W. Brewster, Treasurer.

The Introductory Sermon was preached by Rev. S. E. Brown, of South Hampton, from Romans, 12: 1. Theme—"Consecration to God." The subject was ably and impressively presented to a large and attentive congregation.

The letters from the churches comprising this body were brief and listened to with deep interest. In the afternoon, a discourse was given by Rev. Mr. Harlin, of Acton, Me.; following which, important business was transacted and interesting remarks were made. Revs. J. Peacock, S. Cooke, and C. Tibbetts preached in different parts of the town in the evening.

On Thursday, the second day, the Circular Letter was read by the Author, Rev, Mr. Newhall, of Stratham. Some strong resolutions on the subjects of Temperance and Slavery were passed unanimously. A discourse was delivered by Rev. Dr. Lamson of Portsmouth, from 2d Thess. 3: 1, "Brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course and be glorified." The session, which was fully attended and was one of great interest and harmony, was closed by some pertinent remarks and prayer by the Moderator. The next session will be held at Deerfield.

☞ The change of one or two of our city carriers, has produced some omissions in the delivery of our papers, for a few days back. Any such instances we shall endeavor promptly to correct, on receiving the necessary information.

ANOTHER HORSE RACE—FLORA TEMPLE LEADS.—Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The great contest between Flora Temple, Lancet, Miller's Damsel, and Red Bird, was witnessed to-day by 20,000 people: Lancet under saddle, the others in harness.—Flora Temple won in three straight heats. Time—2: 26¼, 2: 26, 2: 25. Lancet was second. Milier's Damsel was withdrawn after the second heat. Three prizes were awarded, viz:—$2,000, $1,000, $500.—To-day closed the exhibition, which has been in every respect successful.

THE TELEGRAPH CABLE.—New York, Sept. 7.—A letter from a well-informed gentleman in London, says:—"Should the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company decide to postpone further operations to next summer, which is thought probable, the present cable will be sold, and a new one, substantially the same as the present one, but 500 miles longer, will be made in season to be laid next June.

A PISTOL GALLERY KEEPER ELOPING WITH A SCHOOL GIRL.—The police have been for several days looking after a couple who are reported to have eloped from Saratoga on Sunday last. The female is a miss of fifteen summers, the daughter of George H. White, Esq., of Saratoga, and the man with whom she eloped is John Travis, a celebrated pistol-shooter and sporting man, who kept a pistol gallery in Saratoga at the time of the occurrence. Miss White is represented to be a very beautiful and interesting young lady, well educated and of refined manners; and it excites wonder in the minds of her friends that she should make the acquaintance of such a man. Travis was seen in New York city on Monday, and threw dust in the eyes of a detective policeman by saying that he had only travelled a short distance with the girl, and that she had gone to her aunt's in Troy. The father of the girl arrived in New York on Monday night, in pursuit of the fugitives. They, however, after stopping all night at a house in Hudson street, started next morning for the West. Travis has been guilty of a like offence once before, and then came near losing his life. He is expected to be in St. Louis on the 25th of this month, as he is a party to a shooting match there, on which there is a large sum of money staked. —Albany Argus, Sept. 4.

If somebody should happen to shoot him—perhaps the world would not suffer much loss.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scurfs on the scalp head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 6th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white, and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and skin. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my testimony and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by means of its kindness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours, SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Hillsdale before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours, SOLOMON MANN.

CARLILE, ILL., June 23, 1853.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BRADE, ex-Senator, U. S.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Mothers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will do others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1, 1854.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to pronounce them the best cathartic we employ. Their tonic yet active action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organs. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease to obstinate that it did not yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 18, 1856

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best cathartic medicine they have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Was off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of dody worms. One of our neighbors was in bad and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

ORD. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very medicine. Wherever I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grieved by afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she took your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkins, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not write you. My right foot settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. Gradually by persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease which has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SIDDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or Kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are unrivalled.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, IN INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of this American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its virtues, or that yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the lungs and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for children and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral will arrest the first consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, not neglect them until no human skill can dislodge the lurking ranker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and so they know too the virtues of the remedy, we need not dwelling on them here. We will make the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who put their trust in it the best which skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, for which Cashes Co. are the sole managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and see that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they were present and attending at the drawing, whether the managers call attention to it, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the same communication is received. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is remitted in the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tenary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $10,000. Persons ordering tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The Schemes for the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that state. A lottery will be drawn every day throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the ignorant. Prizes vary from $60 to $30,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & CO., Augusta, Georgia.

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit, irregular inflammatory action—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and sickly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular: and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions we have to mourn over. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, hysterics, fainting fits, &c. &c. they are less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to the Proprietor, Dr. C. Cheeseman, Box No. 4 681, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
AND
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, have been awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set ruining an octave hi her than the other—and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 2500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers a faithfulness, equal, if not superior to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Room at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallet & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the Manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1857.

KANSAS HARMONY.

A CONFAB.

Let us make a new territory, says Douglas, and in making it, repeal the Missouri Compromise.

We protest against it, say the 3000 clergymen, because it will bring in slavery.

Hold your tongues, replies Douglas, it's none of your business! you mind your preaching and leave government to me.

Put it through, says Pierce. It is not intended by this act to legislate slavery into, nor out of the territory.

No; says New Hampshire, it is a pro-slavery act: don't you do it.

Ready, aim, fire! says Douglas. Gen. Pierce pulled trigger, the gun went off, and he was flat on his back.

The freedom shrickers set up a yell, of pro-slavery, treachery, and border ruffian violence.

Slavery will never go there, Kansas will come in as a free State, shouts the Patriot, —and its little echoes shout it back.

Don't let slavery go in there, my dear Mr. Buchanan, says the Silliman memorial.

Slavery is already established there by law, replies Mr. B.

☞ The following note, which we clip from the Lawrence Herald of Freedom, shows that the clothing that was detained at St. Louis last fall, was not disposed of to pay the "Kansas shrickers," as the ——— press averred, but has arrived safely at its destination and will be ready for distribution the ensuing winter.

CLOTHING FOR KANSAS.—We were this week at the Unitarian Church, in the basement of which the goods sent to Kansas last fall are being unpacked and assorted. They are generally valuable and in good order; a very few are damaged a little, and some are second hand articles not worth the freight. But the citizens will find them a most timely and generous donation the coming winter. There are several hundred boxes and barrels of bedding and wearing apparel.—Herald of Freedom.

GEN. LAFAYETTE, and his son Geo. Washington Lafayette, arrived at New York, Aug. 15, 1834, in ship Cadmus, from Havre. He passed through the principal cities, receiving honors and congratulations everywhere. A committee from the town of Portsmouth waited upon him in Boston, inviting him to this place. This committee consisted of Levi Woodbury, Timothy Upham, Alexander Ladd, and Jacob Wendell. Mr. Woodbury made the formal address of invitation.

Gen. Lafayette was publicly received in Portsmouth on Wednesday, Sept. 1, by an immense procession and crowd, and by a grand display of schools, military, &c.

Wm. Ham, as chairman of the Selectmen, gave him the people's welcome. John Rice was Marshal of the Day. The Committee of Arrangements were Timothy Upham, Levi Woodbury, John F. Parrott, James Sheale, Jeremiah Mason, Clement Storer, Nathl. A. Haven, Hunking Penhallow, Langley Boardman, James Shapley, Titus Salter, John Haven, Jacob Cutter, Samuel Larkin, Henry Ladd, Eben Wentworth.

Gen. L. visited the Senate at Washington, Dec. 9,—and the House Dec. 10, where he was addressed by Henry Clay.

On the 17th of June, 1825, he attended the great celebration on Bunker Hill, and as a Freemason took part in the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the monument.

He visited the legislature of New Hampshire June 27, at Concord; and was met in the State House yard by Gen. Benjamin Pierce, at the head of a company of 200 revolutionary soldiers, who were introduced to Lafayette by Gen. Pierce, who vented his feelings in a happy speech, bringing tears into many eyes.

On the 6th of September Gen. Lafayette took leave of the President, John Q. Adams, the Cabinet, and country, and embarked on board the Brandywine ship of war, for France.

☞ The Baptist General Association of Georgia, at a recent meeting in Morgan County, reprobated the action of the American Tract Society in regard to Slavery, and recommended the withholding of patronage from, and discontinuance of, the efforts of the agents, who are raising funds by colporteurs for the sale of works, until the Society rescind their recent act, and go back to their original silence on the subject of Slavery.

A horse, owned by Dr. F. Dorsey, of Hagerstown, Maryland, died last week, in the 45th year of his age. The doctor had ridden him in his practice for thirty-seven years.

A PLEASURE TRIP OUT WEST.

NO. I.

St. Lawrence Hall,
MONTREAL, CANADA, Sept. 6.

Messrs. Editors:—I beg leave to congratulate your citizens on the possession of some advantages, at least, over several cities of much larger size. In the matter of water and sidewalks, Portsmouth is far ahead of Montreal and Portland; and, the latter city possesses no hotel which will compare favorably with the Rockingham—the United States, which is called the best, being rather dirty, though the clerks and waiters are all one could wish.

The ride from Portland to Montreal city is full of variety, presenting many points of interest. From Portland to Gilead, the country is rather poor; but from there until you get some miles above Gorham, the scenery is very beautiful,—mountains of all sizes, some bare and white as snow, as the Stratford Peaks and Whitefaco, others wooded to the very top, as Hark and Ossi Mountains,—and these present a most gorgeous appearance, as the leaves of the maple have begun to assume their brilliant colors—and the lofty peaks of Carver, Washington, Jefferson and the rest, which it were a waste of time to mention, so well are they known. The Devil's Den, near Stratford, is a precipice of considerable height, and rather more striking than even the mountains.

The rivers by the side of the road, the Androscoggin, Ammonoosuck, Connecticut, and St. Francis, must, I think, have a tendency to render the air cooler; certainly, they make the way pleasanter to the traveller. At Island Pond, Vt., where the cars stop at noon, is a beautiful pond, having, as the name indicates, a beautiful island in its centre.

Soon after you cross the Canada line, you are made aware of the fact by the half-Irish appearance of the people in the depots, and the influx of passengers shod in a manner to which no Yankee would submit. At Brompton, you pass one of the largest saw-mills in the country; and for miles below, the St. Francis is covered with its waste, some of which would be worth at least $20 a ton in Boston. About 5 miles before you arrive at St. Hyacinth, a level country is entered, which continues ten or twelve miles. The fields are all of a size, as if drawn by one pattern, all raised in ridges about about four feet wide. They are devoted to thistles, weeds, sheep, and a little grain or tobacco. Beyond St. Hyacinth, is Beloit Mountain, rising out of the plain. Half way up this mountain is a large and very deep lake. Crossing the river Richelieu, we soon reach the St. Lawrence, when you cross to Montreal.

This place contains many beautiful buildings and a great many dreadful poor ones. Among the best are the Bousscours Market, the Court House, the Cathedrals, Bank of Montreal, &c. Out in the vicinity of the mountains are fine private residences. All the way from Portland, we were surrounded by the evidences of the great fires of 8 or 10 ten years since, and in the city of Montreal, the track of the devastator was as plainly visible; on all sides were the ruins of buildings, burnt years since, tall columns, heavy stone arches, strong walls, remaining as the destroying element had left them. To-day, the streets are lively. There is considerable trouble among the military of Canada just now. The 39th Regiment stationed here, has been ordered to India, in consequence of which, there are exhibited signs of mutiny; to check which, they are kept in pretty close confinement in the Barracks. The Ninth Regiment, at Kingston, being ordered to Quebec, is fast being thinned by deserticns. Yours, abruptly, CYPRAX.

THE CAPITOL at Washington, when completed, will have cost ten millions of dollars. Originally the grounds and the old building—and a very ill-contrived and poorly built one it is—cost about three millions. The extension, now in progress, will cost five and a half millions; and the new dome to the old building a million and a half more, at least. Congress has already appropriated $4,325,000 the extension, and it is estimated that about $1,200,000 more will be necessary.

MAINE.—The East College Building of Bowdoin College, at Brunswick, was destroyed by fire Saturday night.—A new feature in church service was introduced at Portland on Sunday, by Rev. Mr. Stebbins (Unitarian.) He invited his whole congregation to participate in the celebration of that the Lord's Supper, stating this would be the course he should hereafter follow.

☞ Mrs. Coalter, of Strafford county, Va., who died recently, by her will emancipated ninety-one slaves. The executors are to provide the usual outfit for removing them to Liberia, or any other country where they may elect to live.

HISTORY OF DEMOCRACY.—The N. H. Gazette of the 5th, says,—speaking of Maine.

The Democratic party have tampered with the isms of the day to an extent which has well nigh proved its ruin. Nothing could have been more unfortunate than the course of the Democracy in regard to the Maine liquor law, which originated and was early nursed and protected by the party that should have repudiated all such tyrannical attempts at restraining the people, and kicked out-of-doors like a plague spot, this specious deceiver. Its effect has been to throw all the responsibility of the operation and non-operation of this abortion in legislation upon the Democrats, while our opponents have gained whatever political benefit has accrued from it, as they always will from the agitation of such measures of temporary expediency.

But our friends in Maine have not been alone in the exhibition of an occasional oversight like this. In New Hampshire, the Democratic party once played themselves false for a temporary object, by seeking to bow to a lower depth of abolitionism than their opponents. How bitterly and with what disgrace and defeat have the Democracy of this State retraced their steps from that vile slough of the Wilmot Proviso. Without this fatal error, Hale could not have stood a moment before the people, and we should have been spared the revolution of '47, and the subsequent Atwood defection. In fact, since Hale's traitorism to the party, we have met with a series of disasters, the responsibility of which must mainly be laid at our own doors.

The Concord, N. H. Democratic Standard, in the interest of Mr. Edmund Burke, says:—

"We take the following article from the Madison Daily Patriot, which is as applicable to New Hampshire as Wisconsin."

"Four years ago the Democracy of Wisconsin presented an unbroken front to the common enemy. They were united for a common purpose—they met their political foes—they conquered—they were invicible—and claimed the banner, for giving the largest majority of any State in the Union, proportionate to the number of voters. Where are they to-day?—flat as a pancake made of mud and tar. From the proud eminence of thirteen thousand majority, they have been hurled to a minority of near fourteen thousand. And what is the cause?

It requires no sooth-sayer or sorcerer to answer that question. The party has played with edged tools—dull as hoes, at that; and has got cut—it has flirted with political cyprians, and got jilted—it has slept with pilfering shavers, scoundrels and knaves, and has caught the Barber's itch. It has breathed the pestilential malaria fuming from the lairs of old, rotten, unprincipled, scurvy-headed, milk-and-water, broken down, cast off leprous pukes, cancerous thieves, superannuated pick pockets, Treasury plundering, refuse Abolition-office-seeking-whisky-soaked, double-distilled-buffoons and Penitentiary scallawags — who have preyed and gorged upon the party and the people, until the substance of each is all exhausted, and they look as lean, lank, thin, savage and cadaverous as twice starved hyenas, confined in the Dismal Swamp of terror and adversity, through a thousand eternities, of snow, sleet, hail, rain, thunder, lightning, tempests, and irrtrievable famine.

Such is the fated malady that has overtaken the Democratic Party of Wisconsin.

These snarling, whining, blood-thirsty dogs in the manger, have insisted on killing the Democratic Party, and threatened we to all who should attempt to resuscitate it to life. They have repoused on beds of down, rioted at the table of luxury, and rolled on wheels of splendor, at the expense of the Party, until the people have become disgusted, nauseated, sickened and outraged, that the last vestige of confidence has dwindled down to inconceivable nothingness, and the once potent prestige, the power and the glory of the invincible Democracy hath vanished in poisonous smoke and fœtid vapor."

The Democratic Standard, above quoted, was an original Buchanan paper, bitterly opposed to President Pierce's re-election,—and now bears the nominations of Cate and Voss.

☞ A farmer in Orford, MASS., who was at work in his field a few days ago, took off his vest and hung it over a fence. In one pocket was a roll of bills amounting to $205, and in the other $50. A three months old calf walked up to the fence, and ate off the corner of the vest, pocket, money and all—$205!

☞ Col. Thomas Hite, and other citizens of Jefferson county, Va., set free eighty of their slaves on Thursday last. The Colonel, as agent of the owners, accompanied them to Middleburg, Pa., when handing each individual $40 in money, and equipping them all with sufficient clothing, they were set at liberty.

☞ The most horrible case of precocity we have heard of, is noted at Rochester, N. Y. A little illegitimate son of a young woman named Beebe, aged six years, now lies in the poor house, raving with delirium tremens, brought on by a long-continued course of dram drinking.

A divine informed a sailor that the devil was chained up. "How long is the rope?" "It's over the whole world." "Is it?" responded Jack, "if so, the lubber might as well be loose."

☞ The village of Brattleboro, Vt., was visited with the most destructive fire that ever occurred in Vermont, early last Friday morning. Between one and two hundred hands are thrown out of employment. Unfortunately, the entire fire department of Brattleboro' was absent at the time, at the firemen's muster at Worcester, and the fact was taken advantage of by some heartless scoundrel, to fire the town, for there is no doubt that such was the origin of this destructive conflagration. The loss is variously estimated from $200,000 to $300,000.

The entire fire department should never be absent.

THE ARAGO'S NEWS.—St. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 8.—The fisherman who received the Arago's news from Capt. Lines, last Thursday, off Cape Race, did not show himself at the telegraph office till 4 o'clock, on Saturday, P. M., and then refused to give any information as to the contents of the parcel, until he was paid £5.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—An insurrection, headed by two desperate negro convicts, broke out in the Michigan State Prison this afternoon. Two of the convicts succeeded in creeping over the walls, but were recaptured. Others also made desperate efforts to escape, but were overpowered by the officers of the prison, and secured.

THE MOST SKEPTICAL PEOPLE

Can be convinced by trial that all the family medicines are not humbug, and that among the thousand of butterfly life, there are a few of great merit and undoubted worth. Of these, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, stands first and foremost among the remedies of the day; that can be relied on as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its proprietors. It advertises itself on every trial, for there are none who use it but tell their friends to do so, and so it goes from mouth to mouth, till all the people of the Union have learned the good of this truly valuable medicine. It is recommend, by testimonials to prove its virtue, for the cure of liver complaints of every kind, from the worst Dyspepsia to a common headache, and is particular ly adapted to Jaundice, Deranged Stomach, Bowel Complaints, and diseases of Children.

A QUESTION OF LONGITUDE.—A curious question of fact has arisen in New York in the matter of the McLoskey Estate.—The testator who died in Paris, left a legacy of $6000 to his niece living in Dubuque, Iowa. It turns out that both uncle and niece, testator and legatee, died on the same day; if she died first, the legacy ceases, if he died first, it goes to her heirs. The Evening Post says it looks now as if the question of priority of death must be decided by longitude.

LOCAL.

☞ We learn from one of the Trustees of the Rockingham Agricultural Society, that there is a probability of having the next annual Fair and Cattle Show in Portsmouth. The matter will be decided, probably, on Saturday evening next, at a meeting of the Executive Committee. The citizens of Exeter have usually contributed $200 towards the expenses of the annual Fair; and of course our citizens are sufficiently awake to their own interest, to raise the necessary funds, in order to secure the holding of the Fair in Portsmouth. Ten thousand people were estimated to have visited Exeter, during its continuance last year; and twice that number might be attracted to Portsmouth, if the thing is done up in style. More anon.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Falmouth is coming here, after all. Orders have been received at the Navy Yard to make arrangements for her reception, and letters are received at the Post Office for her officers.

FREEMAN'S POINT—ANOTHER SHIPYARD.—The Ballot learns that a tract of land on Freeman's Point has been sold by Messrs. Cushing & Blake to Messrs. Moulton & Mathes, experienced ship carpenters, who will start a shipyard there as soon as a contract can be obtained. The old Freeman farm, as our readers are well aware, was laid out in house lots two years ago, some twenty of which had been sold before the purchase of the Point, and seven houses have already been erected there.—Should a shipyard be started there, a bridge from Noble's Island to the Point would probably soon be demanded, and many working men would take up their residence there.

THE U. S. FRIGATE ROANOKE, had her back broken when launched at Norfolk. It was so stated at the time, and subsequently; but the matter was "hushed." She is now in the dry dock at Charlestown, Mass.; and will have to be built anew about midships, at a cost of $20,000.

Uncle Sam can't do better than to send his ships up here to Portsmouth Navy Yard, to be built. They don't build nor launch ships in the manner above-mentioned, in New Hampshire.

MRS. BURDELL.—A New York correspondent of the Boston Journal is out in favor of letting Mrs. Cunningham have a fair trial. He says:

No description of this lady that I have seen does her justice, so far as her looks are concerned. She is a lady of apparently forty years of age, with black hair, sharp, clear, sparkling eyes, a taking look, clear but pale complexion, excellent form, and apparently amiable disposition. No one could talk with her for half an hour, and believe that she could be guilty of the great crimes laid to her charge. Her dress is half mourning, plain but becoming. Her daughters, Helen, Augusta and Georgiana, are very accomplished, agreeable, modest in their deportment, with hazel eyes, light brown hair, winning and attractive. All speak well of them, and their devotion to their mother is above all praise.

"Don't you think we've got the dearest minister in the world?" said Laurina, as she was spending an afternoon at Mrs. Partington's. Mrs. Partington's mind sailed back majestically in review of many ministers who had officiated in the Old North, before she replied—"This is the dearest one, by a heap of money, dear, and if ministers is to be considered good according to their market value, he is the best." "Don't you like his preaching?" said the young lady, cutting the drift of the old lady's remark like a snow plow;—"I think he is divine. He's so flowery, and his description so graphic that while listening we can almost hear the sound of water and see the growing herbage." She was very enthusiastic, and the subject called out all her eloquence. "Yes he is very fluid," replied the dame, "I know—very watery,—and I've noticed the verbiage also, but I don't think he comes up quite to some of our old pastures in p'int of real strength. Why Dr. Verbal used to preach a sermon three hours long, and then have a lectur in the evening, which was well giving us our money's worth.—But all to their taste, as the old lady said when she kissed the cow." She relapsed into a chair and the conversation turned on other subjects. The question is, did the old lady alluded to, kiss her cow, and did she make any such remark?—Sat. Eve. Gazette.

SQUATTER SOVEREIGNTY.—Those New Hampshire "democrats" who were induced to approve and uphold the Kansas-Nebraska bill by the "squatter sovereignty" argument, will find themselves interested in the following extract from a recent speech of Hon. A. H. Stephens, of Georgia, on the occasion of his renomination to Congress. Mr. Stephens, many of our readers will recollect, was the acting Speaker of the House, when that "great democratic measure" was forced through in violation of all parliamentary rule, and the rights of the minority. A bright and shining light of the democracy, "he speaks as one having authority."

Mr. Stephens said:

And as for the "squatter sovereignty" feature, that was nothing but a fancy of the brain from the beginning—which was conjured up some time afterwards—about the time it was discovered that the only defenders of the bill at the North, with few exceptions, were democrats. No such principle, however, ever was in the bill. This was conclusively shown during the canvass last year, and is now generally admitted. In fact, the main argument last year was not so much to show that any such principle was really in the bill, as to prove that such was the Northern construction of it.

And yet this "squatter sovereignty feature," which Stephen says "was nothing but a fancy of the brain," conjured up to humbug the North, has been lauded as a great and important principle, and many gullible flats have swallowed the bait.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Cunningham out on bail.—Mrs. Cunningham was this afternoon admitted to bail in the sum of $5000.

Arrest of a Smuggler.—John T. Prentice, 1st mate of steamship Arago, was arrested to-day for smuggling a large quantity of laces.

Suspended.—Coffin & Haydock, auctioneers, and L. W. Kirby & Co., dry goods jobbers, suspended to-day; liabilities of the latter, half a million, with clear assets of $700,000.

Fatal Railroad Accidents.—The wife and daughter of Thos. Hastings, Postmaster at Dobbs' Ferry, were instantly killed yesterday, on the Hudson River Railroad, by being run over by the cars, while they were walking on the track.

A collision occurred last evening, on the New Jersey Central Railroad, near Fairfield, between a farmer's wagon and a gravel train. The farmer was instantly killed, as also were three laborers who were riding on the gravel train.

AMERICAN BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.—Providence, Sept. 8.—The American Board of Foreign Misions, commenced its 48th annual meeting at the Beneficent Church, in this city, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, Hon. Theodore Frelinghuysen presiding.—After prayer, the treasurer, J. M. Gordon, presented his report: The receipts of the year from all sources have been $388,932, and the expenditures $391,788.—The debt has been reduced from $36.191 to $2847. The Secretaries read their reports: Three corporate members and four missionaries have died during the year, twenty-eight missionaries have gone out, and eighteen are under appointment. Rev. Dr. Thompson, of Buffalo, N. Y., preached at night, from the text—"And lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." He inquired—who speaks in these words?—to whom does he speak?—what does he say?—and what influence should result? A very large number of members are in attendance. The church was crowded to overflowing, before the evening services commenced.

THE CAMEL EXPERIMENT.—An interesting report has been received by the War Department from Mr. Beale, Superindendent of the wagon road from Fort Defiance. The camel experiment is pronounced successful. These animals carried seven hundred pounds burden, principally provender for mules, and were much less jaded than mules. They eat but little except bushes, preferring them to grass. Mr. Beale concoives it easier to manage a train of twenty camels than one of five mules.—Their temper, tractability, capacity of bearing burdens, and going without water, while they live on food upon which other animals would starve, render them valuable for transportation on the prairies. Every unshod animal reached El Paso lame, but the camels, not one of which even exhibited fatigue.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The Postmaster General has, with the assent of the President, and in deference to the strong expression of the public sentiment, in Philadelphia, concluded to suspend the improvements on the Pennsylvania Bank long enough to enable Congress to declare whether it will exchange the use of the building now occupied as the Custom House for that of Post office.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Ontario County Bank, and the Orleans Bank, both of this State, are not received in this city.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD
OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,
Completely Preserved
TO THE GREATEST AGE.
AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Woods Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.
ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one lowly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon her hair, but because of its healthy influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend the use of it by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all those persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy
Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.
FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Bilasfield before I got the bottle of Restorative which you gave me an order upon, from your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.
Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.
CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.
I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BARNES, ex-Senator, U. S.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will do others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my family and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is prompt and decisive, and they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ROBT. McLEAN, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have cured my wife of dysentery and relax, and I was the bad been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, when soon recovered her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and we will cured him with a few doses. We have Pills which others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as your pills, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can cordially recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Prominent Merchant of Boston, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the purgative of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. MRS. MCMILLAN.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hunter, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 5, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your pills have brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew more and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now sound and well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1854.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. WM. WOODS, M. D.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Piles, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammatione, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, IN CONSUMPTION

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues, throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American Union, its wonderful cures of the most alarming complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country in this continent without some painful experience of its virtues, and there are few communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral has saved thousands by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, for neglect them until no human skill can master the disease's demanded, fastened on the vitals, sets your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not be more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their relief.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which H. Falkes & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they were present at the drawing. Another fact which the public should pay attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law of the state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prizes are payable from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of numbers on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 $50. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawings mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published in the State Gazettes, and in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets in Georgia, and the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every day in the month, but the first order received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; halves, $10; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket; and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000, and are payable in full, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Coggswell's Medical Salt,

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUDDEN INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this? Reply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill object into a solution of it, to effect the entire system.

☞ By its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring back into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a medicine has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, the most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the WHITES. These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warrant all purely vegetable and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by inclosing $1 to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

SUICIDE OF A PIGEON.—"A Bachelor," writing from Cooksville to the Macon (Miss.) Beacon, tells the following incident, which may be called beautiful, if true. He says:

"I had a pair of beautiful pigeons presented to me by a lady friend, which I reared as pets about the house, to console my lonely hours. This evening the female, perceiving the end of a cat's tail vibrating from beneath a pair of steps, and prompted, I suppose, by a curiosity inseparable from her sex, flew down for a closer inspection of the inscrutable gyrations—when, alas! in an instant she fell a prey to the relentless feline paws—another fall caused by female curiosity. The male, at first, seemed bewildered, then commenced uttering a low, plaintive noise, like the cooing of the dove; but in a few moments—as if becoming suddenly conscious of the inconsolable loss of his lovely partner—flew into a pool of water near by, and notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of myself and servant to the contrary, succeeded in drowning himself."

THE GREATEST STEAM INVENTION YET.—The Baton Rogue Gazette, under the above heading, has the following:—

Wm. St. Martin, of this city, has invented an engine, which can be constructed, boiler and all, for about $50. The machine is so simple that we might with propriety say it is merely an escape-pipe, taking no more room. The steam is admitted into the centre of a drum or cylinder, in which the shaft works; from this the power is applied directly, without further friction. The other day we saw the perfect model of the engine pumping water about twenty feet, and throwing it into the reservoir at the brewery. This is the apparatus wanted, for getting in a cheap manner, one or two horse power to drive small machinery. Mr. St. Martin has made application for letters patent, and when he gets them, we think he has a fair prospect to realize something from the result of his genius.

SHE STICKS TO ONE OF THE "PINTS."—In riding down through a part of Newbury with one of our city officers, the other day, we stopped at the house of one Isaiah—not the prophet, but whose abode is little better than the place where they thrust the prophet Jeremiah in old times; and as the official was religiously inclined, he wanted to know the spiritual state of the family. "What are the religious views of your husband, Mrs. P.?" asked he with a solemn tone. "Religion, religion—he's got no more religion than that are chick-chicken"—(she pointed to one that was roosted upon the side of a plate of turnovers, picking the meide out of one of the pies) there was a brood of chickens in the room, some on the table, some on the windows, and one or two perched on the side of the water pail—"he's got no religion, don't believe in no hell—don't think he'll be damned when he dies."

Oh, the wicked monster! he couldn't believe he was to be damned; and his wife was mad and denouncing him as a heathen because he would not believe it.—Herald.

A DOMESTIC CHARACTER.—One of our subscribers in Bellrillville, Mr. Welcome Ballou, a worthy man, has lived on the farm where he now resides fifty years, and during this half century has been absent from home only one night. In this solitary instance he was detained in Providence while attending court, about two years since. Mr. Ballou was never on board of a steamboat or railroad car, and never saw either until a short time since. He is about 80 years of age, and has been blessed with twenty-one children, nineteen of whom are now living. Ten of his children were born in the month of April, in successive and unbroken years.—Woonsocket Patriot.

RATHER DRUNK.—Last week a drunken man fell from the K. & P. R. R., between Hallowell and Augusta, when the cars were under full speed. The train was stopped, and the man taken on board and brought to Augusta, showing no signs of life. A consultation of physicians brought in that he was dead—drunk. Restoratives were applied, and the man soon revived somewhat. After casting his blurred vision round the room for a moment, seemingly engaged in collecting his thoughts, he started to his feet, placed himself in a pugilistic attitude, and cried out savagely:—"Just show me the man that struck me."

NOTHING TO WEAR.—A few days since a boy was passing on the cars on the Cleveland and Erie Railroad, handing out advertisements of "Nothing to Wear," illustrated. A lady remarked to a gentleman, "That takes off the ladies, I suppose."—"No," said her friend, "it only takes off their dresses." "Then," replied the lady, "it is proper that a strip-ling should sell it."

Gov. Gardner last week made a political speech at Dorchester. We have not room for the whole of it, but it can easily be condensed. The substance of it is: He don't like Mr. Banks' nomination, and would like to be nominated himself.—Monmouth Register.

CONVERSATION IN THE TOWER OVERLOOKING NIAGARA FALLS.—Mother: "Oh, look at that rainbow, child!" Child: "What makes it, mother dear?" Mother: "That is one of the things that it wasn't meant for us to understand." Child: "But where are the falls?" Mother: "Why, here!" Child: "Oh, that's terrible."—Mother: "Frightful, my dear, not terrible." Exeunt.

A CHANCE FOR CAPITALISTS.—The Southern steamship scheme requires a capital of eight millions. Eight thousand was subscribed at the recent convention, and since then President Buchanan, by his individual subscription, has increased it to eight thousand and one hundred. Only seven millions nine hundred and ninety-one thousand and nine hundred dollars more are necessary to consummate the scheme.—N. Y. Post.

LIQUOR PEDDLING IN WOBURN.—The practice of secretly peddling liquors in country towns is more prevalent than is supposed, and the rogues very often defy detection; but David H. Knight, who was violating the liquor law in the streets of Woburn, was not so fortunate. He was taken before Justice McLean, fined $50, and sentenced to 90 days' imprisonment, from which he appealed, and was held in $200, and in default was taken to jail.—Traveller.

☞ The New York Herald denies the report that a shipment of $1,000,000 is to be made from Cuba to New York, to sustain the sugar speculation. The Herald says that the story is raised for that purpose, undoubtedly, but that the specie will not come.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk
Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand-made spike of common English iron, and therefore is nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1857.

The Northern Independent learns on reliable authority, that at a recent communion service of the colored church at Savannah, Ga., with which Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Adams was so greatly edified, eighty communicants drank ten gallons of wine, or a pint apiece. The pastor of the same church, a negro, has been helped to the purchase of three slaves, in order that he may present the edifying example of a slaveholding minister preaching the gospel to slaves to his own race!

The quantity of wine stated above, is almost incredible,—nevertheless, we give the item as we find it. This brings to Uncle Toby's mind, a fact which may be worth repeating, viz. that the quantity of wine for a church of 100 members, was greatly diminished between the years 1825 and 1845, and still remains comparatively small. Moreover, many churches use the unfermented fruit of the vine, and do not purchase the doubtful liquor of the shops.

One of the churches in this city, which probably averages 200 communicants, usually consumes only about two quarts of wine at each communion.

POTATOES.—The Bangor Star of Friday last says: "Potatoes are being brought into market in quantities and of a quality which have not been seen here before for years.—The price has fallen since Monday twenty cents a bushel. They can now be obtained at forty cents, and will go lower. The prices would keep up better if there were better facilities for shipping them. There is but one steamboat running to Boston, and purchasers for export do not buy freely, except a day or so preceeding the day of sailing. The crop of potatoes will be exceedingly large this year. The rot is beginning to affect them to a considerable extent: but notwithstanding that, it is confidently expected that we shall, for the whole season, have a larger, better and cheaper supply than we have had for years."

☞ Isaac L. Wood was arrested on the Illinois Central Railroad near Chicago, September 3, on a charge of poisoning his wife, his brother and wife, and two of their children, in May, 1855, in Dansville, New York State, where the parties then resided. They all died with the exception of the children. The object of Wood in poisoning his brother's family was to get their property, which amounted to $40.000.—The children escaped the terrible fate and thus defeated him.

CALIFORNIA RISKS.—A California correspondent of the Fall River Star says, in reference to that State:—"This is a great country! A man can live here about as fast as the law allows, and some take the liberty of living considerably faster; for which they are liable to the accident of being hung if they do business in a small way, and the risk of a nomination for Governor or Senator, &c., if they go it on the large. I am rather cautious and shall endeavor to avoid the last chance."

☞ Mother Mary de Sales, second superior of the order of the "Sisters of Mercy," an institution established in San Francisco, died recently. She was a cousin of Daniel O'Connel, a relative of the celebrated Tom Steele, and formerly possessor of great wealth in her native country, Ireland, which she expended in donations to the poor and in behalf of her religious order. She was a lady of great piety and personal influence.

☞ Prof. Silliman states that he did not originate the memorial to the President; he merely signed it, and has not changed his opinions since the President's reply.

It was signed by President Woolsey of Yale College, Dr. Taylor, Prof. Silliman and forty others, among the most eminent citizens in Connecticut; and we think it likely it was written by Mr. Woolsey, as he uses a sharp-pointed pen.

THE BOOK TRADE AND THE HARD TIMES. At the trade sales of the publishers in New York this week, the money pressure is felt with fatal effect. Prices rule lower than they have reached before in many years, and the sales promise to be very light. In hard times there is less demand for books, and a greater demand for newspapers, than at other times.

"THE SOUTHERN CITIZEN" is the title of a new journal about to be started in Knoxville, Tenn., by John Mitchell and W. W. Swan. The prospectus states that it will be a "thoroughly Democratic and States rights journal," but will "decline to be called partizan."

FRANCE.—The Empress Eugenie patronized a bull fight with her presence at Baycane, on Sunday, 23d ult.

FIREMEN.—At the late Firemen's Muster in Worcester, last week, where sixty crack companies met, the first prize of $300 was awarded to Torrent Engine Company No. 5, of Manchester. They played a perpendicular stream of 180 feet. The 2d prize, $200, Merrimack 4, Lowell, 270 feet; 3d prize, $100, Torrent 6, Roxbury; 4th prize, $75, Independence 5, Bridgewater; 5th prize, $50, Barnicout 11, Boston. All of the tubs of the prize companies were Hunneman's. More than half of the companies burst their hose in the trial. The Hartford and other companies threw a larger volume of water, but fell forty feet short in height.

The Torrent Co. had a discipline such as no other company on the ground had attained. "Practice makes perfect" in a fire company as well as in other matters. The drill of the company was thorough. Other companies from Manchester had failed in contests of this kind, and the Torrent boys had discovered weeks ago that there was no security from the common hose. They therefore procured from the Stark Mills the ducking or "leather cloth" made there and wound it dry around the hose. They then wound tarred twine over the whole, making themselves secure from the only difficulty which they regarded as formidable.

Some of the envious unsuccessful competing companies say the Torrent boys, whom they called the "Rag Company," on account of their cloth—"stood on their hose" to force the stream up; but an eye-witness of the contest says the stream topped the 180-foot pole at three different times, and he thinks went ten feet above it. The Torrent Company was pronounced the best drilled at the Muster; and not a little of their success, as in all battles, is due to their foreman. Discipline is the thing which counts.

The successful company was received home, at Manchester, with the greatest enthusiasm, on all hands.

BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—The stockholders of the Boston and Maine Railroad held their annual meeting at Lawrence, on Wednesday, and 400 were present, though the trains specially run for the occasion must have brought over 1500 persons to Lawrence. J. C. Merrill, the present Clerk of the Company, was re-elected, and the following Directors by unanimous vote:

Francis Coggswell, Andover, Mass.; James H. Duncan, Haverhill, Mass.; Geo. W. Kittredge, Newmarket, N. H.; Daniel M. Christie, Dover, N. H.; Peter T. Homer, Boston, Mass.; Israel M. Spellman, Cambridge, Mass.; Henry Saltonstall, Boston, Mass.

The whole capital stock of the road at this date is $4,226,974 52.

The earnings for the past year, ending May 31st, are $905,914 64.

The expenses for the same period, including $17,000 allowance for depreciation of property, &c., $502,561 25.

Two dividends of 3 per cent. each have been declared, $249,342.

Leaving a balance in hand of $151,011 39.

The receipts for 1856 showed a gain of $182,024 04 over those of 1851.

Mr. Jenness of Portsmouth, N. H., offered resolutions, proposing the reduction of speed of one-fifth, after the first of November next,—that no special trains be run, but those required by law, and only two a day each way on the Portland route, and at the rate of two cents a mile,—that all stock in the steamboat Daniel Webster be sold out,—that the whole business of handling the merchandize in Boston be let to the lowest bidders,—and that no money be taken in the cars. Mr. J. said he introduced these, not with the view of destroying the confidence of stockholders in the Directors, but for the purpose of giving some indications of the wishes of the Corporation for their guidance through the coming year, and then briefly spoke in explanation of these resolutions. The resolutions were unanimously referred to the Directors.—Trav.

☞ The Doylestown (Va.) Democrat says the Asiatic cholera has made its appearance in the lower part of Bucks Co. In the vicinity of Falls, Morrisville and Bristol townships, several persons have already died of the disease.

☞ The cotton and wool manufacturers of Philadelphia have agreed to work their mills on half time on and after the 14th of the present month, until further notice. They complain that they have been for a time, losers by continuing to work their mills at the present very low prices received for goods.

☞ Rev. Dr. Rice, the distinguished Presbyterian clergyman of St. Louis, has accepted the invitation to go to Chicago, extended to him by McCormick, the reaper, and others, who desire (to use the language of the New York Observer,) the "development and spread of sound religion and conservative influences"—i. e., a stop put to the spread of anti-slavery notions.

THE BUTCHERS.—New York, Sept. 9.—The Butchers have abandoned the idea of having a Convention, on account of the failures of other cities to appoint delegates.

☞ At Albany, on Tuesday, Mrs. Hahn, calling herself an Indian doctress, was committed to prison on a verdict of the Coroner's Jury, for causing the death of Miss Martha Lockdey, aged 18 years, by poisonous drink, administered for a criminal purpose.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.—Providence, Sept. 9. The American Board devoted the afternoon and evening session to the consideration of the bright prospects in the Turkish Empire. The speakers were eminent returned missionaries from Constantinople and its vicinity. They described the Turks to be fast awaking to earnest enquiry concerning Christianity. The bible is freely sold every by Turks, even in the yard of St. Sophia's Mosque. Many have become Christians and been baptised, and some of them are preaching the gospel. The Bulgarians are also earnestly inviting the missionaries to come among them. The Koords are also gladly hearing the gospel. In every direction there is a call for direct missionary labor, and many of the native churches are open to the missionaries for preaching. The work among the Armenians has reached its highest point of demand.

Dr. Pomeroy announced that the ordinary appropriations of the Board for the coming year would be at least $375,000, and, if enough missionaries can be secured, more would be needed.

The meeting closed with singing the last two verses of the Missionary Hymn by the whole congregation.

MITIGATED AFFLICTION.—A gentleman stepped into a store where none but "mourning goods" were sold, and inquired for slate-colored gloves. The polite clerk informed him that only black goods were sold in that room; for slate-colored gloves he must step into the mitigated affliction department.—Buffalo Commercial.

LOCAL.

MUNICIPAL.—Thursday Evening, Sept. 10.—A petition was presented from J. M. Weare (contractor for building the new Custom House,) for leave of the common sewer, to carry off the waste water from the roof and water closets of the new building. Referred to Committee on Streets, Roads and Bridges.

Laconia Engine Co. No. 2 applied for new hose, that which they have now being in very bad condition. The cause of this is attributed to the location of the engine house, which is so damp as to cause the hose to rot, and mould to collect on different parts of the engine. Referred to Joint Committee on Fire Department.

Several bills were read, accepted, and, after considerable discussion, voted to be paid.

Alderman Yeaton presented before the board a project relative to a kind of "blow-out" at the trial of the new engine —which has been purchased and is to arrive some time this month; and it was voted that the board be present, and help celebrate the occasion. Adjourned.

MECHANICS' CELEBRATION.

A special meeting of the Mechanics' Association was held in the Court House, Wednesday evening last, to consider the matter of having a Celebration this Fall. A Committee previously appointed, reported in favor of having a public celebration early in October; that a Procession be formed, —the Portsmouth Cornet Band to furnish the music; to have an Oration at the City Hotel; and a Ball at Congress Hall.

The general wish of the meeting seemed to be that this programme be adopted, with perhaps slight modifications; and that all the expenses be paid from the funds of the Association. Without settling on any plan, the meeting adjourned to Tuesday evening next, at half-past seven.

This Association is a most staunch and creditable institution, and all our young mechanics should enjoy its advantages. It will do no harm to have them come out before the world occasionally; and as they are amply able, we hope they will do as suggested.

☞ Ex-President Pierce and lady are still boarding at the Rockingham House, in this city; and it is reported that they are contemplating a permanent residence here. We are glad to hear that Mrs. Pierce's health is better here than it has been for a long time; and this fact of course offers great inducement for them to abide with us.

Gen. Peaslee was in town a few days since; and it is said that he has more than half a mind to locate here, also.

☞ We understand that, in pursuance of orders just issued, the Navy Yard boats do not carry any citizens across the harbor, except such as have business with the officers, or are visitors at their quarters.

☞ A correspondent states that Mr. John Williams, of Eliot, was drowned last week near the Shoals—and that his body has never been found. His age is stated at thirty-five years. We have no other intelligence of this matter, and don't vouch for this.

☞ The Congregational Union Methodist Society of Lynn, Mass., with others, came over the Eastern Railroad, to a picnic in Kittery, on Thursday,—seven hundred strong. They were a lively company. The society are Methodists in doctrine, mainly,—but in church government are independent. They were accompanied by the Salem Bay State Band; and visited the Navy Yard, and other places of interest. The fare for the excursion was only $1.

The citizens of Concord and other towns on the P. & C. Railroad, are also visiting Portsmouth and the Shoals, in large numbers, at $2 apiece.

There is no pleasanter place to visit, or live in, than Portsmouth.

☞ Mr. Wm. Shillaber, of this city, injured on the N. Y. Central Railroad, on Tuesday of last week,— we are pleased to learn is recovering. He was very severely injured, and (apparently) had a very narrow escape from death. He was attempting to couple two cars, but was caught between the projecting ends, and compressed into a space of about eight inches. Both bones of his left arm were fractured.—There was no projection or "bumper" on one car, and the two came nearer together than Mr. Shillaber reckoned. Warning was given him and he jumped, but not in season to prevent being terribly jammed.

☞ A scoundrel, who had first stolen the name of John Smith, stole a watch on Wednesday night, from a man at Newmarket, near the Junction, who had taken him in to lodge. There are more such fellows lurking round. Beware of them.

FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Sept. 9.

The Royal Mail steamship Europa, from Liverpool August 19th, arrived at this port at 1 o'clock this morning.

GREAT BRITAIN.—Parliament was prorogued on the 28th. The Queen's speech was read by the Lord Chancellor.

Sir De Lacy Evans inquired whether it was intended by government to render any aid to British residents who suffered by mutiny in India. Lord Palmerston replied in the affirmative. Capt. Mangles, on behalf of the Court of Directors of the India Company, said aid would be rendered all sufferers, both civil and military.

Both houses adjourned sine die.

The Queen had gone to Balmoral.

Nothing official had been promulgated as to the Atlantic Telegraph, but it appears to be taken for granted that the enterprise was postponed until next summer.

The London Times and other papers are urging the immediate construction of the telegraph to India, and the acquisition of the Atlantic cable for that purpose.

The special correspondent of the London Times, writing from Macon, Georgia, ridicules the famous Arrowsmith Georgia Railroad hoax, and pronounces it a mere hallucination.

In Liverpool, John Doherty, extensive dealer in American produce, who lately suspended, had been charged with obtaining money under false pretences, and was held to bail.

INDIA.—The India mails had reached Marseilles, and were expected in London the day the Europa sailed. Bombay dates were to July 30th. The main features of the government despatch from Capliari are confirmed, and interesting details added. Sir Henry Barnard died of cholera, before Delhi, July 5th, and Sir Henry Lawrence died from a wound on the 4th, at Lucknow. The mutineers still held Delhi on the 14th of July. They had made three more sorties, but were totally defeated in each, with heavy losses.

Sir Hugh Wheeler was killed at Cawnpore. The garrison, pressed by famine, surrendered the place to Nena Sahib, by whom, in violation of solemn promises, all were massacred. Nena Sahib was subsequently twice attacked, and utterly defeated, with great loss, by Gen. Havelock, who re occupied Cawnpore.

Sahib murdered 140 women and children at Cawnpore. Amongst the killed at that place are Sir Geo. Parker, Col. Williams, Brigadier Yack, and other officers.

On the 5th of July, an obstinate battle was fought at Agra, between the garrison of that place and the Meemsuh mutineers, who had marched thither with reinforcements, which brought their numbers up to 10,000 men. The British forces were obliged to retire with a heavy loss and several officers killed.

Two native regiments mutinied at Zeal Kote (Punjaub) on the 9th of July; they massacred Capt. Bishop, Dr. Graham, and Rev. Mr. Hunter, with his wife and child. The remaining Europeans were safe in the fort. These mutineers were totally defeated on the 16th.

At Meerut, Gen. Hewitt had been removed from command for supineness.

The Punjaub was tranquil.

The latest despatch from Marseilles, (August 28) to the London Post says:—"Private commercial letters say that Calcutta suffered extremely from scarcity of provisions, but they were beginning to arrive in the rivers. The harvest is in imminent danger of being destroyed. The principal manufactories were abandoned, and the materials required for export amounted to scarcely anything."

"Even from Bombay, some discontents had shown themselves, but they had been suppressed. The regiment of Gugeral had been threatened with decimation. Movable columns are to scour the provinces of Central India. The English were organizing a regiment of Sikhs."

London, Saturday, Aug. 29.—The India Overland Mail has arrived, with full details of the late disasters. The catastrophe at Cawnpore is believed to have occurred June 24th; in consequence of Sir Hugh Wheeler being mortally wounded, the English force had accepted a proffer made by Nena Sahib and the mutineers. Nena allowed them to get into boats with all they had, and then a fire was opened upon them from the bank, and all were destroyed. Other accounts state that the wives and children of the officers and soldiers, consisting of 240 persons, were taken into Cawnpore, and sold by public auction, and were treated with the highest indignities, and then barbarously slaughtered by the inhabitants.

It is said Nena Sahib had more than 100 European prisoners in his hands, whom he intends to hold as hostages. They are, probably, the remains of Gen. Wheeler's force.

Gen. Havelock, who left Allahabad, with 2,000 Europeans, attacked and totally defeated the insurgents.

ITALY.—The Opinions of Turin, gives an account of the reception at Genoa, of a piece of ordnance, sent by the citizens of Boston to Piedmont, for the walls of Alessandria. The military and civic authorities proceeded in state, to the gates of the port, where the gun was formally delivered them.

UNSEEN SPIRITS.

BY N. P. WILLIS.

The shadows lay along Broadway,
'Twas near the twilight tide,
And slowly there a lady fair
Was walking in her pride—
Alone walked she, yet viewlessly
Walked spirits at her side.

Peace charmed the street beneath her feet,
And honor charmed the air,
And all astir looked kind on her,
And called her good and fair—
For all that God e'er gave to her,
She kept with chary care.

She kept with care her beauties rare;
From lovers warm and true;
For her heart was cold to all but gold,
And the rich came not to woo,
Ah, honored well are charms to sell,
When priests the selling do!

Now, walking there, was one more fair—
A slight girl, lily-pale;
And she had unseen company,
To make the spirit quail—
'Twixt want and scorn she walked forlorn,
And nothing could avail.

No mercy now can clear her brow,
For this world's peace to pray—
For, as love's wild prayer dissolves in air,
Her women's heart gave way;
And the sin forgiven by Christ in heaven,
By man is cursed alway.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK
Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians
Philanthropists, read their Effects,
and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been regularly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they clear up at once. If they will do so for others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Monongahela Glass Works.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organs. Indeed, I have seldom met with a case of bilious fever so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HAMILTON, CANADA, MARCH, Nov. 18, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine they have done my wife more good than I can tell you she had been sick and pining away for months. Weed off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and my two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars a doctor's bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the stomach and liver and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours,

J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, TWEEDS CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1853.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountain of the blood.

JOHN C. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Forwarding Merchant of S. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples upon her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she saw her use your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hanshaw, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should not do justice to your invaluable skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgia pains, which would yield to no remedies. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, I took your Pills. I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, IN CIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet in the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country in which there is not some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and your colds will fight off, they are curable, for we fact them, until no human skill can master the incurable canker that, fastened on the vitals, sain your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of long disease, and as they know too the virtues of a ready remedy, we need not deplore than to assure them it is still made the best it was in. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and to this we attribute the unbounded confidence it has been afforded those who put it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass

RUM DID IT.—The St. Paul (Minnesota) Times thus truthfully, without doubt, opens the source of our Indian troubles:

"We do not claim any original discovery when we assert that alcohol is the stimulating and direct cause of four fifths of the crimes among Indians, as it is of four fifths of the crimes among white men. If the government would inflict a heavy penalty on any one who sells the fire water to the red man, and then deputize a vigilant force to carry that law into execution and enforce that penalty, there might be a hope of something like a perpetual peace. Indians may smoke their kinnikinik in a calumet, but a drink of whiskey is an emblem of contention and crazy wrangling. There is four times the need to-day for the government to station troops along the frontier to prevent a set of vagabonds from pursuing this everywhere nefarious traffic, and putting to the lips of the poor Indian the cup that shall make him mad, than for the suppression of any real hostilities. This is the key to all our frontier difficulties. We sell to the wild and benighted savage something that makes him drunk, then we send government troops to bayonet him because he don't keep sober."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The reprieve granted in the case of John Smith, alias Francisco Soares, who was convicted in New York of the murder of the cook of the brig Franklin Pierce, and sentenced to be hanged, being about to expire, the President has commuted the sentence to seven years' confinement in the State Prison of the Southern district of New York.

The Attorney General has had in consideration the case of Charles Crowell, ordinary seaman, who, for striking, disobeying and treating with contempt his superior officers, was sentenced by a Court-Martial, lately convened in New York, to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary in the District of Columbia, to be deprived of his pay, and to be marked with the letter "D." on his right hip. The specific question embraced in the reference of the Navy, was to the legality of the sentence. The Attorney General holds that there is nothing illegal in it, and it is therefore to be carried out in every particular. Although the punishment is severe, it is considered that Crowell's offence was of such a character that it could not be lightly passed over without serious injury to one of the most vital elements of naval discipline.

FOR THE HICCUPS.—Travelling sometime since by railroad from Columbia to Baltimore, I took my seat directly in front of a gentleman who was suffering under a paroxysm of hic cups, to a degree that I had never before witnessed. In a few minutes a person appeared from the end of the car and took seat beside him, when he said, "Sir, can you tell me what is good for the hiccups? I have been afflicted in the way you see me since yesterday noon, and have had no rest or relief from my physician to whom I applied for assistance. I am worn out with suffering." To whom the person replied, "Sir, I will cure you in less than two minutes by your watch.—Have confidence, for I am sure I can do it. Hold up high above your head two fingers of your hand; lean back in your seat; open your mouth and throat so as to give a free passage to your lungs; breath very long and softly, and look very steadily at your fingers." In less than the time specified, the cure was performed, one hiccup only occurring during the trial. The patient could not express his gratitude, while the practitioner only extracted from him as a fee the promise that he would extend the knowledge which he had imparted as freely as he had received it, assuring him that he would never be disappointed in the result.

We were all struck with the fact. Since then I have often had occasion to practice upon patients in the same disorder, and never without the most signal success.—Water Cure Journal.

A KENTUCKY GIRL.—When the steamer Alida was sinking from her collision with the Fashion, on Tuesday night, 28th ult., and the passengers in confusion, some preparing to secure a safe retreat from the sinking craft, and some in the water making their way to land, a young girl of about seventeen summers was standing on the guard, intently contemplating the scene and looking anxiously towards the shore. A young man, in the rush of gallantry, stepped up to her, and remarked, "Miss, if you will put yourself under my protection, I will convey you safely to the shore." "Thank you," replied the young heroine, "but you need not trouble yourself; I am only waiting for the crowd to get out of the way, when I can take care of myself and reach the bank." Soon the crowd cleared the space, and the young lady plunged into the water, and swam to the opposite bank with apparent ease, and without the least perceptible fear.—Paducah Times.

WHEELING, Va., Sept. 9.—Martin Binner was arrested here to-day, by Col. Thomas P. Balfrose, Special Agent of the Post Office department, charged with embezzling letters from the Chicago Post Office.

PLYMOUTH, MASS.—The following cases were tried at the Court of Common Pleas, which was in session at Plymouth last week:—

James Robbins of Middleboro—found guilty of being a common seller of intoxicating liquors; sentenced $50 and costs, and four months in the House of Correction.

John Whitmarsh of Abington—fined $30 and costs, with ninety days in the House of Correction.

David Burke of North Bridgewater—sentenced $10 and costs, with thirty days in the House of Correction.

Levi Lucas of East Bridgewater—found guilty of being a common seller; sentence postponed.

Michael McKenna of Wareham—sentenced $10 and costs, with thirty days in the House of Correction.

Thomas Wrightington, Jr., of Carver—sentenced $10 and costs, with thirty days in the House of Correction.—Bee.

AN IMPOSTOR EXPOSED.—James McDonald, who passed himself off in Boston and New York as a revolutionary soldier, 112 years old, with adventures to correspond, was charged with being an impostor by an Albany policeman a few days since, when he admitted the truth of the charge, and owned that he was only 67 years of age.

AN INDEPENDENT EDITOR.—A country editor very piquantly remarks:—

We do not belong to our "patrons;"
Our paper is wholly our own.
Whoever may like it, can take it;
Who don't—can just let it alone.

BURDEN'S

AUTUMN.

BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

This world puts on its robes of glory now;
The very flowers are tinged with deeper dyes,
The waves are bluer, and the angels pitch
Their shining tents along the sunset skies.

The distant hills are crowned with purple mist;
The days are mellow, and the long, calm nights,
To wondering eyes, like weird magicians show
The shifting splendors of the Northern Lights.

The generous Earth spreads out her fruitful stores,
And all the fields are thick with ripened sheaves;
While in the woods, at Autumn's rustling step,
The maples blush through all their trembling leaves.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY FAIR.—In the past week some members of the County Society from the inter or have been in Portsmouth, and exertions have been made to create such an interest here as will enable the society to hold their exhibition next month in Portsmouth. It has now been held in Exeter for several years, and the Society has been so local to that neighborhood that but little interest has been taken here in the matter.—We should like to see a good exhibition of the products of the County, and of the choice stock of the farmers made in our neighborhood. Jefferson or Congress Hall would be good places to display products, and some location in the vicinity of Auburn street, Cass street, or perhaps nearer to the centre, might be selected for the stock display.

As the Society pay all premiums and the expense for keeping the stock, the expense to our city of fencing, halls and music, could not be more than $300 or $400,—half of which could be raised readily by subscription if our city makes a conditional appropriation. Such an exhibition would bring many strangers to our city, and some of our citizens would be benefitted to the whole amount of the outlay. Such individuals should of course subscribe liberally.

The annual address before the Society will be delivered by Henry F. French, Esq. of Exeter, who has recently made a visit to Europe, mainly to acquire information on agricultural matters.

PRETTY WELL DOWN.—A few years since, before railroads were known and when thermometers were but little used in the interior, a son from the Green Mountains spent a night at the old stage house in Newburyport. It was when smoke-jacks were used for roasting turkies, and at one of those cold times when every one was asking, how is the thermometer? The stranger thought he would, like the others, take a look at the weather indicator. Returning, he rubbed his hands, and remarked—"pretty tremendous cold I guess—can' get much further—the thing is most down."—Those who passed out soon discovered that the weights of the smoke-jack had been consulted instead of the mercury.—Portsm. Journal.

The oldest book in the United States, it is said, is a manuscript Bible, in the possession of Dr. Witherspoon, of Alabama, written over a thousand years ago.

In the very extensive private library of Rev. Dr. Burroughs, in this city, is a vellum manuscript volume most beautifully executed and splendidly illuminated, without a date, which is probably not far from a thousand years old. It is a valuable specimen of the few books in use before the invention of printing.

THE REVOLT IN INDIA has led to terrible atrocities on both sides. Neither women nor children were spared in the hour of insurrection, and this has led to horrible retaliation. The following, from a statement by a missionary, is shocking to boasted English civilization and progress:

"Some of the two hundred prisoners of the 55th have been tried, and we blew forty of them away from our guns in the presence of the whole force three days ago—a fearful but necessary example, which has struck terror into their souls. Three sides of a square were formed, ten guns pointed outwards, the sentence of the court was read, a prisoner bound to each gun, the signal given, and the salvo fired. Such a scene I hope never again to witness—human trunks, heads, legs, arms, &c., flung about in all directions. All met their fate with firmness but two, who would not be tied up; so to save time, they were dropped to the ground and their brains blown out by musketry."

SINGULAR DISAPPEARANCE.—On the 27th of July, a woman named Deborah Rigsby, who lived but a short distance from Kennebunk landing, came to the village, as was her custom, to get food and other necessaries. Having obtained as much as she could conveniently carry, she started for home. Since that time nothing has been seen or heard of her; although careful inquiries and extensive searches have been made. As she was quite old and infirm, being between 80 and 90 years of age, it is supposed she mistook her way and wandered into a large tract of low, heathy land where she died.

A despatch from Washington says the choice of a successor to Judge Curtis lies between Clifford of Maine and Gilchrist of New-Hampshire.

There are in this State only one in one hundred and six unable to read and write. In Vermont, one to every fifty-three is unable to read and write.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1857.

PAPERS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Manchester American contains a list of the papers in New Hampshire, and says, "the number of weekly newspapers is forty. Of these thirty are political, seven neutral, two religious, and one agricultural. Eighteen of the political papers are Republican and twelve Democratic.

Somewhat less than half of the forty papers in this State pay their publishers any profit. Only eight of them have a weekly circulation exceeding 2000, and the average number of paying subscribers (exclusive of the two religious journals) does not exceed 300 each. We are aware of the importance of a local press in each section of the State. But the subdivision may be carried too far."

There are three dailies, viz. two in Manchester and one in Portsmouth.

The Traveller newspaper of Boston has changed editors. Mr. Bowles retired yesterday, giving as a reason that the proprietors desired the paper to be conducted "after a policy he could not approve."—That policy we understand to be the rejection of Republicanism and the support of Gov. Gardner. His successor has not been named.—Newburyport Herald.

It has been said, out of doors, that Gov. Gardner's friends would contribute $5,000 in cash, towards a good organ. We have not understood that the Traveller is to be that organ, or is to receive the sum named, or any sum.

The Traveller is shortly to resume the folio form; and will continue to be a valuable newspaper.

STAMPEDE OF SLAVES.—The Washington Star, Aug. 25th, says that "on Saturday, a number of slaves, belonging to various citizens in the District, obtained a covered wagon, under pretence of going to camp-meeting in the adjoining county. They departed, but have not returned, and their owners have reasons to believe that they have emigrated by the Underground Railroad. Some fifteen slaves are missing, most of them belonging in this city and county. Among the losers are Messrs. Linton, Randolph Harbaugh and Isaac Scaggs. Officers have been in search of the fugitives, but up to this time none have been recovered."

LAW AND ORDER IN NEW YORK.—A squad of ten policemen in the Sixth Ward, New York, arrested one of a gang of garrotters who had robbed a man named John J. Benson of a gold watch, in the Bowery on Tuesday evening, shortly after 6 o'clock. At the same time an attempt at rescue was made by the fellow's confederates, and a target company that was passing joined them, and with fixed bayonets drove the police away. The "Bull's Head Life Guards" was the name of the company.—The prisoner effected his escape.

WHEAT IN FRANCE.—By the Europa's advices, it appears that Wheat has fallen in price, four francs per hectolitre. Well, what does that mean? asks a reader. A hectolitre of wheat, is two bushels and eighty-four hundredths. And as four francs are exactly equal to seventy-five cents of our money, it appears that the price of wheat in France has fallen about 26 cents per bushel.

THE MAINE STATE FAIR.—This fair commences in Bangor on the 29th inst., and will hold four days. A list of premiums is offered on trotting horses, varying from $30 to $200. A grand trial of fire engines has been provided for, and every company in the State has been invited to be present. The Bath Tribune understands that a balloon ascension will also be in the programme, and says that the whole exhibition will be the finest ever witnessed in Maine.

EXTRAORDINARY SUICIDE.—Mrs. Olive Clyde of Bristol, Vt., lately committed suicide by starving herself to death! Her husband had deserted her, and unable to support herself, she received aid from the town. Her situation so weighed on her mind that she settled into a deep melancholy, and refusing all food, after thirty-three days of fasting, died in terrible agony. Everything was done to cause her to break her determination, that prudence could dictate, but in vain.

☞ At the new Island Trotting Park, at Portland, the first trot took place Wednesday, for a purse of $150. Mile heats, best three in five, to harness, between the well known trotters, Mary Taylor, and Harry Walton, formerly Jack Potter of New York. Harry won the race, in 2:42.

The Essex County Temperance Society will hold a meeting at Amesbury and Salisbury Mills on Wednesday, Sept. 16, to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M.

T. B. A.—The September number of the New York Quarterly "Cosmopolitan Art Journal," containing a tolerably correct Portrait of Thomas Baily Aldrich; with a brief sketch of his life, and the best critical notice we have ever seen of his writings. It says:—

A sensuousness of rare grace pervades all that he writes, and makes him, characteristically, the poet of the Beautiful. His themes strike into exquisite chords and delightful harmonies:—the grand and sublime, the passion of power, the subjectiveness of the seer, are not, apparently, within the compass of his lyre. Experience, age, study, may give to his pen more directness and strength; but we surmise it will ever retain the idiosyncracies of the sensuous school of poets, whose prototype is Keats.

A MOTHER IN ISRAEL.—Died, in Wilmington, Mass., Aug. 31, Mrs. Mehitable Eames, widow of the late Jonathan Eames, a revolutionary soldier, 99 years. She possessed a mild and amiable temper, which, together with her industrious and temperate habits, may account for her great longevity. She had 6 children, 40 grandchildren, and 64 great-grand-children.

☞ On Tuesday, at Lowell, Mass., was found in the Pawtucket canal, the body of Maria T. Hall, a girl 17 years of age, who has a mother and sister residing there.

The News says:

She left home about dark on Friday evening last, and told her folks she should be absent but a short time. She was near sighted. She occasionally worked in the mill. It is also stated, that she, though of Yankee origin, associated with the rowdy young Irishmen of that quarter; and it is suspected that she was in company with more than one on Friday night, and that she was thrown into the canal! Her person indicates this. Her wrists are scarred, and there is a wound on her head, evidently from a blow.

☞ At a late temperance meeting in Manchester, as reported in the Mirror, a well-informed citizen "estimated the number of grog shops in Manchester, at 100, and stated the number of their patrons at 3100, out of a population of 23,000. If these statistics were right, the obstacles, though great "were not so great as had been supposed."

☞ The store of J. G. Elkins, opposite the Eastern railroad depot, in North Hampton, N. H., was broken open, and robbed of a considerable amount of goods on Wednesday night. Mr. Elkins offers $25 reward for the return of the goods and the detection of the thief, or half that sum for either.

☞ At the great horse show to come off at Springfield, a pair of splendid horses from New York will be present, whose aggregate ages are 52 years, and who now easily make their mile inside of five minutes. They will be entered as specimens of proper feeding and good care.

☞ The New York Times has a chapter on swill-fed milk, to the use of which a large proportion of the deaths among children is attributed. Not one-third of the milk used in New York and Brooklyn is country milk, but comes from distillery swill-fed cows.

☞ Some rogue stole a horse, belonging to F. J. Parker, of Brewer, one night last week. A telegraph message was sent east, and just as it was being read in the Eastern Hotel, in Machias, the identical thief and horse were coming down street! An officer took possession of both.

☞ The funeral of James McGary, Dr. Kane's lieutenant, was attended at New London on Sunday, by one of the largest assemblages of people ever known there. He leaves a wife and two children.

☞ Mrs. Catharine Donnely died at Woodstock, Ill., on Tuesday week, aged 111 years, the oldest person in the State. She was a native of Ireland, and for the last fifty years has restricted herself to one meal a day.

☞ The Boston Bee says there are one hundred and twenty-five eating houses in that city, and the money taken by them amounts to $6,000 per day. The number of customers is about 25,000.

Mr. Thomas H. Holt of Kentucky, has at last been appointed to the vacant office of Commissioner of Patents at Washington. This post should have been given to Edmund Burke, of this State, who is vastly better qualified for the duties of the office. Besides, five-sixths of the Patents are from the free States.—Manchester American.

Mr. A. V. Stevens trapped and shot a bear at Shelburne, on the 3d inst., which weighed 250 pounds, and stood seven shots before he gave up the ghost.—Manchester American.

FIREMAN'S MUSTER.—Keene, N. H., Sept. 10.—The firemen's muster at this place to-day was well attended. The result of the playing for prizes was as follows:—Torrent 122 feet; Pioneer 127; Eagle 128; Alert 150, (burst hose three times); Mazeppa 147; Contocook 144; Niagara 146; Hope 141; Mechanic 127; Deluge 152; Aquarius 133; Franklin (of Greenfield) 151; Hancock 139.

The prizes were awarded as follows:—Deluge Company of Claremont, first prize, $150.

Franklin Company, of Greenfield, Mass., second prize, $100.

Alert Company, of Winchendon Mass., third prize, $50.

Pioneer Engine burst hose twice, as also did the Mechanics, and Hancock Engine burst its air chamber.

SUSPENSION OF THE BANK OF NEW JERSEY. New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 10.—The Bank of New Jersey temporarily suspended this morning, but will probably resume in a few days. The entire liabilities of the bank are $200,000, while their means to pay with are over $500,000.

MRS. CUNNINGHAM INDICTED. — New York, Sept. 10.—The Grand Jury to-day brought in an indictment against Mrs. Cunningham, founded on the bogus baby affair. She was released this afternoon on bail.

LOCAL.

STOREBREAKING.—On Thursday night, the stores of Messrs. Leonard Akerman and John Harrat were entered, and $16 (in change) was taken from the former, and $10 from the latter. The scoundrels had considerable difficulty in getting at the money in Mr. Akerman's store, it being in a stout safe, set in the wall, and they were obliged to use crowbars and pickaxes to break it open. They entered by a back window. No goods were taken from either store, money being their only object, evidently.

There are plenty of thieves and rascals in the city at this time, and it would be well for citizens to be on their guard, and watch them.

☞ We learn that a letter has been received from Massebesic Engine Co. No. 4 of Manchester, stating that they intend visiting this city on Thursday next. They will be accompanied by the Manchester Cornet Band.

Piscataqua Engine Company No. 4, in this city, have had some talk of receiving them; but we do not know what decision they have come to.

NOTICE.—All Firemen or citizens who are in favor of receiving Massebesic Engine Co. No. 4 of Manchester, on Thursday next, are requested to meet at Jefferson Hall this (Saturday) evening, at 7 o'clock.

Per order of the Committee.

☞ The Methodist Camp Meeting at Newmarket Junction, closes this morning. The weather during the week has been remarkably fine, the attendance large, and the meeting quite gratifying to those most interested.

☞ As some folks have made considerable talk, in a certain newspaper and out, respecting the appointment of Commodore's Clerk,—or, more accurately speaking, Clerk to the Commandant, at our Navy Yard,—we deem it advisable to refer to the matter once more. Capt. Pope, the new commandant, a few weeks since, politely tendered the office to John Christie, Esq., the long-proved incumbent; and by a letter received in this city from him, on Friday, we learn that he accepts. He is now in Leavenworth, but will probably report himself here for duty, in the course of a few weeks.

So the petitions in circulation for other individuals can't amount to much, of course; and the mere idea of getting up such, seems to us, to reflect upon the Commandant,—as a man fit for a sergeant's commission, wouldn't hear to such a proposition as retracting an offer once made. We are sure that Mr. C. will be cordially welcomed back to his old post, and to reside among us,—and with as much unanimity, probably, as any other individual in the city would be.

☞ In answer to several inquiries which have been made of us, concerning Lyceums in this city, for the coming winter, we will just state that we understand the Mercantile and Mechanics' Associations are each making preparations for a course of lectures; and that it is probable there will also be a series of Sunday Evening Lectures, under direction of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The city of New York alone, sells three times as many "pure, imported brandies," and four times as many "pure, imported wines," annually, as all the wine and brandy producing countries export. Somebody, it is clear, drinks a spurious article!

Somebody, in Portsmouth, does that same: and within a short time, four or five persons have died in towns in the vicinity, of the effects of such liquors, bought here.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 10.—Mayor Wood's speech was an indignant protest against the passage of the resolution and the proposed action of the Convention, which he denounced as an unauthorized interference with the political rights of the metropolis. The resolution was withdrawn. The resolution which divided the city delegation equally between the Wilson Small or Mayor Wood delegation and the Cooper delegation, was finally adopted.

THE AMERICAN BOARD. — Providence, Sept. 11.—The American Board met at 8 o'clock this morning, and disposed of the reports of committees to whom various portions of its annual report had been referred.

The doxology, (in long metre) was sung, and the Board adjourned to meet next year at Detroit.

REPORTED SLAUGHTER OF INDIANS.—St. Louis, Sept. 10.—The Independence Messenger of the 5th inst., publishes a report that Col. Sumner had overtaken the Cheyenne Indians, who were retreating towards Arkansas, and that a battle ensued between them, which resulted in the indiscriminate slaughter of 400 or 500 Indians—men, women and children. The report is discredited here.

BELKNAP COUNTY.

A correspondent of the Manchester American, writing from Laconia, Sept. 8, gives the following account of the Court there. "The September term of the Supreme Court for this county began its session here on the 1st inst. Judge Perley presided. Attorney Gen. Sullivan was present, and our new Clerk, Samuel C. Clark Esq. entered upon his duties.

There were 120 entries on the docket, and about as many old cases from the last Court. The Grand Jury found ten indictments, of which eight were against John H. Moulton, Esq., ex-member of the legislature from Centre Harbor, for violating the liquor law. Moulton has for some years been the prince of grog-dealers in the northern part of this county, and is a man of considerable shrewdness. He was found guilty of each charge, and was fined $400, and costs, with 30 days' imprisonment in jail. He has the means to pay, and will be compelled to suffer the full penalty of his crime.

The other business of the court was chiefly of local interest. Its proceedings showed a marked contrast compared with the laxity which prevailed at the recent term in Merrimac."

S. J. COURT, Amherst, Hillsboro' Co. Sept. 8. Judge Bell charged the Grand Jury on the selection of jurors. It was an able, practical address, in which the qualifications and disqualifications of jurors were plainly discussed, and allusion evidently made to the proceedings of the jury at the recent court in Merrimack County.

The remarks were attentively listened to and well received.

The Attorney General is present in attendance before the Grand Jury. A large number of cases will be presented, for indictment; forty-two from Manchester.

The first case for trial, No. 26 civil docket, is commenced, and a witness upon the stand is making curious developments—reflecting no honor, if true, upon some clients in court, and those who have transacted business for them.—American.

The Grand Jury and the Attorney General will have no lack of work, as an unusually large number of cases will come before the former, probably keeping it busy for a week or more. A less indefatigable and clear-headed man than Mr. Sullivan, would recoil in despair from the continually augmenting labors that attend his office. It can be truly said that he seems especially designed for his place, which without him it would be hard to fill.—Mirror.

Gen. McLean, in a recent speech in Kansas, said he was in favor of slavery, because there must be a menial class in every society. He wanted a servant to black his boots, and he preferred a negro to a white man, because he could kick a nigger, if he didn't do it right, with more complacency than he could a white man, as he was more accustomed to it.

A GREAT FEAT FOR A HALE OLD MAN. William Comstock, now residing in Jaffrey, who was 87 years old in May last, walked, on the 25th ult., from the road to the top of Grand Monadnock, and back again, in five hours.—Keene Sentinel.

"Father," said a cobbler's lad, pegging away at an old shoe, "they say that trout bite good now."—"Well, Well," replied, the old gentlman, "you stick to your work, and they won't bite you.

"YOUNG AMERICA."—One of our physicians, the other day, was walking down to the south end, with a cigar in his mouth, when as he was passing two boys sitting in the gutter, neither of whom was more than seven years old, one jumped up and pulling a piece of cigar from his pocket, exclaimed, "I say, mister, can't you give a fellow a light?" The doctor would have rebuked the boy for such a practice, but the opening of his mouth let fall his own cigar, reminding him that he was not the man for that business, and he went on, ruminating upon the signs of the times.—Newburyport Her.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK
Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians
Philanthropists, read their Effects,
and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been so completely cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse most effectually. If they will do others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.
Yours with great respect, ED. W. PRENLE,
Clerk of Common Carriers.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their unequalled action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.
Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

FORT OTTER, BIDDEFORD, ME., CO., MECH., AUG. 14, 1855

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and my child of fearful cases of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it too, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars apiece bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.
GEO. F. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the stomach and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of life. JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and eruptions on her face, which your Pills, after our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PLEASE HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Feb. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I admit the accuracy of the cure of your shill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgia, which continued to increase in violence. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but steadily persevering in the case of them I am now entirely well.

SENTE CHERZER, EATON HOUSE, La., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Pits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its improper use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the fearful, fatal and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared, and fastens its fangs in a victim ere believes the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumption it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, and neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable marker that, fastened on the vitals, sets your life away. All know the deadful fatality of lung disorders, and all they know the virtues of this great remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and then offer it to those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRAZER & Co are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and are conducted under a commission elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another feature which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the week, Sundays excepted, and as named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. Prizes and tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (which is printed on a blank, and forwarded on application. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the results be mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun and Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

The Manager would respectfully solicit attention to the following: [illegible] a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the first drawing after their receipt [illegible] s to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1; halves, 50; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved
TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scurf, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dye, &c. I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence only some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and quite white, and before completing one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head. I have since tried it on my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its characteristic claims, entirely removed, and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: REDUCE INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Its virtues are demonstrated by no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin, dissolved into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among females. Nausea, dimness of the eyes, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, Dr. Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. All cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. We warrant them purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each Box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box 4 Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

Letters from London speak of progress making in a new translation of the Scriptures; and that the very celebrated preacher, Mr. Spurgeon, is actively engaged in it.

So says an exchange paper; but it is not exactly correct. The new translation of the scriptures spoken of in the London letters, is the Baptist Union version, now in progress in this country. Mr. Spurgeon, being a Baptist preacher, it is said, approves of the new translation; i. e. he would like a Baptist version of certain passages. But Mr. Spurgeon is no more engaged in making the translation, than Uncle Toby is. He, (Mr. Spurgeon,) has neither the time, the scholarship, nor the position, to do any such thing. He is a great revivalist, a leader of the common people—but among the translators he would be a mere cypher.

A BEECHER AT GEORGETOWN, MASS.—The Congregational Church and Society in Georgetown last week, gave a call to Rev. Charles Beecher to become their Pastor.—Mr. Beecher has been preaching for them this summer to great satisfaction. In his pulpit exercises and general character, he supports the Beecher reputation.

There are a number of interesting facts connected with the church and society, over which Mr. Beecher has been called, worthy of note. This society was organized, and the Rev. James Chandler was ordained, in the year 1732. His successor was Rev. Isaac Braman, who is now the senior pastor, and in the enjoyment of all his faculties. At the dedication of the present house of worship, the celebrated George Whitefield preached the sermon.—Additions and alterations have since been made, but the main pillars that gave back the echo of his unrivalled eloquence still hold up. The pulpit in this house was presented to the society by George Peabody, the London banker.—Herald.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—Since the failure to lay the wire from Ireland to Newfoundland, the idea of laying it from Newfoundland to Greenland and thence, via Iceland and the Faroe Islands to Denmark, has been revived; and the New York Journal of Commerce and some other papers are asking for a government survey of that route. As early as 1854 a grant for laying the cable was obtained from the king of Denmark. This route, if there be nothing in the bottom of the ocean forbidding it, would have this advantage over the St. John's and Valentia, that no single distance from land to land is over five hundred miles, and the whole length of cable required would not be more than to Ireland. The short distances would give much less risk in laying the wire; and if at any time it should break, but a small portion of the whole would be lost.

A few years ago the ladies wore a handy sort of hood, which was called "Kiss me-if-you-dare hood." The present style of bonnet has a "kiss-me-if-you-want-to" look.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents.
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters concerning the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are hereby saved inventors.
Testimonials.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of getting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1857.

TYRANNICAL ACT.—The New Haven Palladium narrates the particulars of a case in which a Catholic priest attempted to prevent a marriage between an Irish Protestant and an Irish Catholic. It appears that an Irish Catholic named Connolly, a harness maker by trade, and of considerable intelligence as well as some pluck, paid particular attention to an Irish Protestant girl named Mary Ann Gibbons, who was also far above the average of her countrywomen in intelligence. When Connolly offered his hand, it was accepted with certain conditions. She was to be left undisturbed in her Protestant religion, and to be married by a Protestant clergyman;—but was willing, if it pleased her "intended," to be married also by a Catholic clergyman. Matters thus understood, Connolly, who had been working at the South, came to New Haven to be married. The couple invited their bridesmaids and groomsmen to accompany them to witness the ceremony, and proceeded to the residence of Rev. Mr. Littlejohn to have it performed, but that gentleman being absent, they repaired to the Catholic priest of New Haven. The scene is thus described:

While in the presence of the Romish priest, he asked the woman if she belonged to his church? and she said "No!" that she was a Protestant. He then inquired if she did not intend to adopt the religion of her husband and go to his church? She answered that she did not. He then asked her if she did not intend to bring her children to his church, and allow them to be brought up in that faith? She said she had no children and might not have, and if she did, she could make no pledges on that subject. Upon which the priest brought his hand with great force upon his book, and said—"Connolly, why don't you put away this woman and get one of your own church? I will not marry you, and I forbid you going to a Protestant to be married. I forbid it, on pain of excommunication—and you, who have come in this company, if one of you go to see these persons married by a Protestant, I will excommunicate you!"

The bride and groom thereupon left, together with one of their companions who was not afraid of his soul's salvation, under the ire of the ghostly father, and proceeded again to the residence of Rev. Mr. Littlejohn, where they were joined in the bands of holy matrimony. The affair has created a good deal of smothered indignation among the better class of Catholics, and it is quite probable that it, will be the means of making a "heretic" for life, of Connolly.

THE EMPRESS OF FRANCE AT A BULL FIGHT. On Sunday, the 23d of August, the Empress Eugenie visited Bayonne, to attend a bull fight in the Faubourg of St. Esprit, where these sports have been held for the last few years. The King of Wurtemburg was also present at this humanizing amusement, so dear to all Spaniards, and consequently to Her Majesty of the French.—Two animals were killed, after undergoing the usual process of torture, to the apparent satisfaction of the amateurs; and as a similar pleasure was about to be afforded by a third butchery, a heavy thunder storm came on, at once interrupting the sport.

A number of spectators rushed for shelter to the gallery or platform where the musicians were stationed, which was, excepting the boxes occupied by dignitaries, the only spot covered in the arena. This structure, which was unusually fragile, gave way beneath the weight of the hundreds who pressed upon it, and all were precipitated to the ground. A great panic arose, and it was at first feared that several persons were killed, but it soon appeared that only one was crushed to death, although several had limbs fractured.

The manager of the bull-ring thought that the disaster would release him from presenting the rest of his animals. But the crowd insisted on the continuance of the "sport," and no bull making his appearance, fell to tearing up benches, breaking down barriers, and demolishing everything they could lay their hands on. The Empress, whose sensibilities were only pleasantly affected by the inhuman torture of the bulls, became disgusted with the unexpected scene, and retired; but the rioters continued their uproar, and troops had to be called in to disperse them.

Whether the Empress will again patronize Sunday bull fights, is not stated. It is said that the Emperor is strongly opposed to them, and desires to introduce a more thorough observance of the Sabbath in France; but his wife is a strong-minded woman.

COOKING THE MATE.—"Are you mate of the ship?" asked an emigrant of the cook who was an Irishman. "No, sir; I'am the man that cooks the mate!"

LEGAL TIT-BITS.

A correspondent sends us the following anecdotes of those "necessary evils" in society, lawyers:

Old Lockwood was a man of much brain but of little education. While it was manifest he was in no wise familiar with the classics, it was doubly evident that Lindley Murray was never his vademecum. One of his efforts at the bar, made while he was tarrying at the Jericho of small-try pleading, awaiting the growth of that beard of wisdom which would fit him for practice in a more dignified court, was indeed a brilliant affair. Some young men had broken into the hen roost of the plff. on the night of his marriage, and while then and there perpetrating, as the old pun has it, fowl outrages, the plff. himself appeared. His presence being greeted from behind the door with a liberal quantity of water; which, inasmuch as it had no brandy with it, and was taken externally, instead of cooling the plff.'s rage, elevated it to the boiling point. L. appeared for the plff. His exordium was nearly as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Jury,—When a man is married for the first time, and has just got to sleep, and some of his neighbors comes and kicks up a row in his hen-pen, gentlemen of the jury; and he goes out for to protect his rights, as a good husbandman had ought to do; and a bucket of cold water is thrown all over him, from head to foot, gentlemen of the jury, if the law don't give no remedy, then it ain't no use!" The plff. gained his case.

At the commencement of H.'s practice in the town of M——, a minister of the town preached a melting sermon from the 37—40th verses of the 22d of Matthew. A day or two after its delivery, H. met its author, who inquired how he liked the sermon.

"A pretty piece of business, sir!" rejoined the lawyer with a twinkle in his eye. "One of us must trump out of this town. If you are going to preach the doctrine of loving thy neighbor as thyself, how do you suppose we disciples of Blackstone can get along, when all are as meek and cooing as doves? 'Twas very true, sir, very true, what you added: if folks do this you may well say, 'hang all the law and the profits!'"

The witty and shrewd Squire H. was taking testimony before a justice whose only skill seemed to lie in perfectly misunderstanding every statement made by witnesses. One person on the stand having said that a certain individual had a violent love for the sea and became a sailor, His Honor did not seem to comprehend the fact.—"Why," exclaimed H., "it is very plain: the fellow took a sea cant (secant) and went off in a tangent!"

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for October contains another 50 cent Slipper Pattern, and a perfect Steel Plate, "the Sisters," one of Godey's best. This No. is the first of a new series, and inauguration of an entirely new series of the Lady's Book. Whatever, says the editor, "may have been considered good in the past, will be better in the future. A new era has dawned upon the Lady's Book—with the advance of science, so advances the Book—and from this month forward, "Godey" will be improved far beyond what its most devoted friends may have imagined." In this number, we find the usual one hundred pages, sixty four engravings, and sixty articles; one Steel Plate, one colored Fashion Plate, one Plate printed in blue, and a Slipper Pattern printed in colors.

The literary execution of Godey is excellent; among the writers are Marion Harland, author of "Alone" and "Hidden Path," two of the most popular works of the day, the author of which writes for no other magazine; Mrs. Victoria Meta Victor and Mrs. Alice B. Haven, (late Neal,) both of whom write exclusively for the Lady's Book; Miss Virginia Townsend; and Mrs. Hale. Anything these ladies write may be read aloud in the family circle.

☞ Gen. Wool, some time since, published a letter reflecting upon the delay of Colonel Jefferson Davis, late Secretary of War, in forwarding him a sword which Congress had voted him in recognition of his gallant services in Mexico. Colonel Davis replied in a long letter, in which he not only denies the charge, but more than intimates that Wool behaved anything else but bravely in Mexico. The latter, it is reported, will soon respond to the Ex-Secretary, and we shall have, in all probability, a second edition of the famous Scott and Davis correspondence.

☞ The trotting mare "Lady Langley," which won $150 in 2:41, 2:44, 2:45, at Portland, on Thursday, was entered and driven by Henry H. Smith, of Newmarket.

☞ The Annual Election in Maine, takes place this day.

MARBLEHEAD.—The Salem Gazette says that great excitement was created at Marblehead on Wednesday, by the examination of Franklin Hulse and Thomas Aitken, charged with the murder of Harris F. Silver—that resulted in their being remanded to jail for trial, in October, at Lawrence. The hall was crowded with men, women and children, and hundreds thronged the passages to catch a glimpse of the prisoners. The prisoners appeared much dejected, in consequence of a crime which has not before happened in that town for half a century, and might not now but for rum—accursed rum, that maddened their passions and frenzied their brains.

They are both young men, just emerging from youth into manhood. Hulse, the principal, is but 17 years of age, and has a mother, brother and two sisters residing on Long Island, where he was born. For five years, since he left home for the seas, he has given himself up to profligacy and vice, till at last in a drunken row he has taken the life of a fellow being. Aitken is a Scotchman, 23 years old, who has been in this country nine years. He had a pious and devoted mother, who was hurried to her grave by his wildness. Rum—rum was the beginning and the end of evil with him.

☞ It is reported that Mrs. Cunningham has retained David Paul Brown, Esq., of Philadelphia, as her counsel in the coming trial upon the bogus baby charge.

The notorious Dr. Catlin is still incarcerated in the Tombs, where he is held as a witness against Mrs. Cunningham. He has made no disclosures, as was rumored, and tells the reporter of the Evening Post, that his character is gone, his wife has left him, his business is broken up, he has neither money nor friends, does not care to expose himself to the derision of his enemies, and being contented where he is, would not get bail if he could. After giving his evidence in the case for which he is detained, he intends to start for Australia.

☞ Some idea of the extent of the great wall of China may be gathered from a remark of Dr. Bowring, in a lecture on that country recently delivered in England. He said that it all the bricks, stone and masonry of Great Britain were gathered together, they would not furnish materials enough for such a wall as the wall of China, and that if all the materials in the buildings in London were put together, they would not make the towers and turrets that adorn it.

THE HUNTINGTON FAMILY.—The Huntingtons had a large and interesting family gathering at Norwich, Conn., last week. Representatives were present from all the New England States, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Tennessee and the Canadas. Hon. Elisha Huntington of Lowell, presided at a public entertainment, and Huntingtons played voluntaries on the organ, read orignal poems and songs, made the prayers and addresses, and did nearly all the speaking.

BEAT THE WORCESTER TRIAL.—At the fireman's muster in Elmira, N. Y., last week, only seven engines contended for the prizes. The first prize of $500 was won by Franklin No. 4 of Geneva, N. Y., a 10 inch Button Engine, which threw water through 300 feet of hose 199 feet and 11 inches.

Pamphlet Laws, June, 1857.

LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE,—passed June Session, just received by J. F. SHORES, Jr.,
sept 14 No. 1 Congress Block.

☞ Mr. T. B. Peterson, the eminent publisher, in Philadelphia, has in press, "Mrs. Hale's Receipts for the Million," containing four thousand five hundred and forty-five receipts, facts, directions and knowledge for all. It will be published and for sale on October 3d.—Price $1.25; 800 pages.

The same publisher has in press, another new work from the unpublished manuscripts of the world-renowned authoress, Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz. It is entitled the "Lost Daughter," and must prove to be one of the most popular works ever published, written by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz.—The price of this book is $1 in paper, 1.25 in cloth. It will be published on Saturday, Sept. 6. The Dollar Newspaper says, "Mrs. Hentz was the most successful female writer that our country has produced, and Mr. Peterson has published "The Lost Daughter," uniformly with her "Linda," "Courtship and Marriage," the "Banished Son," &c., in a beautiful duodecimo volume. She combined power of delineation and grace of style in a remarkable degree, and was a close observer of human nature, so that all her characters seem as natural as life, while she always had a moral aim in her writings, which commends them to the fireside of every family in the land as profitable and pleasant reading. We must commend to her many former admirers this posthumous edition of her last nouvellettes, and we are sure they will be eagerly inquired for by all whenever the work is announced for sale."

Copies of either edition of the work, will be sent to any part of the United States, free of postage, on remitting the price to the publisher, in a letter.

CHELSEA, MASS.—Dr. Charles Chase, one of the oldest residents of Chelsea, who has for eighteen consecutive years, been a member of the school committee, in which time he has probably done more to advance the cause of education in Chelsea, than any other person, is about to leave the city for Deerfield, N. H. In order to testify more fully to Dr. Chase for his labors in behalf of the common schools, and also the high esteem in which he is held as a friend of the afflicted, the citizens generally, including the teachers and scholars in the schools, have united in purchasing a horse, chaise and harness, which were presented to the Doctor through a committee, accompanied by a letter expressive of the kindly sentiments of the donors.—Boston Journal.

A COSTLY BUSINESS.—It is estimated that the "border ruffian" raids upon Kansas cost Missouri two and a half million dollars. A leading merchant of Independence stated recently, he could not have continued six months longer under it.—The demands of the leaders of military companies were imperious, and not to be denied. Barrels of sugar, provisions, clothing, were demanded, and if refused, the party was stigmatized as an abolitionist and at once became a marked man and his store and goods given up to plunder. As a natural consequence, the merchants who at first favored the ruffians, now as bitterly oppose them. Self-preservation, that first law of nature, has driven them into it,—otherwise they would become bankrupts.—Lowell News.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—We receive late news from Utah, with dates to Aug. 13, by the arrival of Elders Samuel W. Richards and Geo. G. Snyder. The Mormons were in a hopeful condition, not at all dismayed, and in a state of profound wonder as to the purpose of the government in sending troops against them. The harvest has been very plentiful. Work was progressing on the new Temple. Elder Richards reports having passed on the Plains a Mormon emigration of 4000 persons, on their way to Utah; all were in good condition, and the hand-carts were in high favor.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY FAIR.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the Rockingham Fair, held at Exeter, Sept. 12th, the following votes were passed:

Voted, That the next annual exhibition of this Society be held in the city of Portsmouth, provided the hall, the field properly enclosed, and the music, be furnished free of expense to the Society.

Voted, That Benj. F. Clark, Esq., be a Committee to confer with the citizens of Portsmouth on this subject.

WM. P. MOULTON, Sec.

It will be seen by the above that our citizens can now have the Rockingham Fair held in Portsmouth, for the first time, if they only say the word. Mr. Clark, above named, will be in town to-day to confer with those interested; and we have no doubt that the amount necessary can be raised without much trouble. For every dollar judiciously appropriated for such a cause, ten will come back.

☞ The Massabesic Fire Co., of Manchester, is to leave on Wednesday for Portland, remaining there over night and returning by way of Portsmouth on Thursday; will return to Manchester on Friday. They have engaged the services of the Manchester Cornet Band.

☞ One of the largest and best Stocks of Dry Goods ever kept in the State of New Hampshire, is to be found at the present time in the store of Jones & Mendum in this city, whose advertisements in this day's Chronicle give only a general idea of their variety, but not of their amount or detail.

It is well known that the Store of Wm. Jones, jr., and of Wm. Jones & Son, for near half a century, has been most ample and complete in its assortment—and the present firm of Jones & Mendum, are preserving the most valued reputation of the Store, and adding every modern improvement to keep up with the times.

Every variety of desirable Dry Goods for gentlemen, ladies, and household service, are constantly received, sold, and freshly replenished in this complete establishment, which need not fear comparison with similar stores in larger cities.

☞ Work has been suspended on the Custom House foundation for a day or two, waiting the arrival of a cargo of stone.

THE CONCERT TO-MORROW EVENING.—Russell, the well known English vocalist, gives one of his popular entertainments to-morrow evening. See advertisement.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, Sept. 11.—The Democrat to-day publishes the address to the people of the United States, prepared by the Committee appointed by the Grasshopper Falls Convention in Kansas. The address states that the convention agreed to participate in the coming election in compliance with urgent appeals from the States, but expresses little hope of success.

The document contains a special clause, addressed to the people of Missouri, setting forth the relative positions of Kansas and Missouri, and imploring the citizens of the latter State to refrain from another invasion if they would avoid a protracted and bloody war. The address concludes with an exhortation to the people of Kansas.

MORE FAILURES.—New York, 11.—Suspension of Grant, Sales & Lord, and Starling & McCulloch, produce receivers, is announced. The liabilities of Robertson, Hudson & Pulliam, dry goods dealers, previously announced, are between eight and nine hundred thousand dollars. Frederick G. Swan's liabilities are said to be twelve hundred thousand dollars.

Wm. J. Bell & Co., bankers with foreign connections, failed to-day.

SLIGHTLY PERSONAL.—The editor of the Louisville Democrat lately said, "we live neighbors to the free States,, and see some of their people every day, and they look and talk pretty much as we do." To which Prentice of the Journal adds: "Well, really, if the people of the free States look pretty much as you do, we cannot wonder that a large portion of the South is in favor of dissolving all connection with such an ugly race. We don't know but what we shall have to go for dissolution ourselves."

HEAVY FAILURES IN PROVIDENCE.—New York, Sept. 11.—A despatch from Providence announces the failures of Philip Allen & Son and Zachariah Allen; both manufacturers doing an extensive business. The liabilities of the first firm are said to exceed $2,000,000.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound. Molasses for 48 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. au18 tf

Use the celebrated Carminative for Colic, and Cholera morbus. It is a sure cure for children. Try it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring he tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connection with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. F. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK avalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, your whole Kindreds, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

PITTSFIELD, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will do by others as they do me, the fact is worth thousands.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 26, 1855.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is truly admirable, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not yield to Ayer's Pills.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HAVILAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1853

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best cathartic we offer our children. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at Niagara Falls, but came home well. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery, by clearing out the bowels. I shall send my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured even so. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

Yours, DR. J. griffin, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the best cathartic we have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1853.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the foundation of the blood.

Yours, J. P. WORTHINGTON, M. D.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my child of a dreadful disease of scrofulous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grieving by sympathy with the child's pain and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawley, of the Methodist Episc. Church,

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Oct. 3, 1853.

HONORED SIR: I should not be faithful to my trust were I still has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which continued with great violence. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Buckner, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 3 Dec., 1853.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured of the worst form of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the fearful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues, throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Say, few are the families in any civilized country in this enlightened without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptive it prevents than it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, our neighbor that until no human skill can master the inexorable maker that, fastened on the vitals, cuts your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not despare than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, nor toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCE & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and are conducted by them, a firm of people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as safe as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that the Maryland Lottery is alone to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is specified, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No money need be sent unless the parties agree for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertary combinations, which pay amounts from $20 to $150 00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to parties immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers: The Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the state of Maryland, and the drawings are conducted by commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the business is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present at the drawing, and respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co are chartered by the legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dispatch. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. ml8 1y

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scurvy, red head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

NEW ALBANY, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months ago, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white, and before she had used one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy, so on, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and scalp. Some dozen of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and values are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or ashy gray, to the brown tint of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now buying and recommending its use to others, as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CANTRIL, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BARRES, ex-Senator, U. S.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

IT instead of being a pauper for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE ANTIDOTE—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SURDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, bowels, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the relief of

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain in restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature back to her career, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health when she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the seeds of many diseases has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No 4,681, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, were awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set sounding an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by one of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that will seat from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON
Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Room at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,
who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:
Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
P. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,

George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

No. 76 State st., opp. Kilby st, Boston,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American, or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are a component for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are certainly considered far superior to the hand-made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1857.

AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

We have received a circular from the American Tract Society, dated New York, Sept. 10, and signed by the whole Executive Committee,—from which it appears that the Society finds itself greatly cramped and crippled by the pro-slavery pressure from the South, and the anti-slavery pressure from the North.

The circular speaks of a work in preparation, which has now been stopped, thus:

The Publishing Committee had, at the time of the last anniversary, a treatise on the "Duties of Masters" under their consideration. It was composed of articles before issued by brethren of various evangelical denominations at the South, and was supposed to meet the views that are presented in the resolutions of that anniversary. * * * * * *

Since the preparation of this treatise, one of the authors from whose addresses or tracts it was compiled, has been removed by death. Two others of these brethren, honored and influential, known as true friends of the Society, have judged it inexpedient, in the enkindled and excited state of feeling awakened North and South upon the various relations of this topic, that those writings of their own, which were to form a prominent portion of the treatise, should be issued with a Northern imprint. They have accordingly interdicted our further use of the matter thus supplied.

But in addition, from all quarters of our Southern field we have received, and from tried and fast friends of the Society, expressions the most decided and unanimous, that any publication by our press bearing upon the topic of slavery, even though of Southern authorship, and carefully kept within the terms of the plan, could have no other result than precipitating the entire withdrawal of the South from co-operation with the Society. The new works would find no gate of access; and the separation would henceforth exclude even our older issues, by flinging over them the suspicion of their origin from a quarter supposed to have become hostile to the interests of the South. Of those accredited issues, the siftings of a rich evangelical literature in our own and in European lands—books on which God's Spirit has put his evident and gracious approval—it seemed a sad necessity to be compelled to clog in any way their circulation.

From Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia; from Alabama, Louisiana, and Tennessee, we hear but one testimony, as borne by State Branches and Auxiliaries, by the Society's officers, General Agents, Superintendents, and Colporteurs, by ecclesiastical bodies, and by the religious press. Over the South we have now a virtual suspension of collections, and if the present distrust and alienation but remain, there must speedily ensue a withdrawal of colporteurs and distribution throughout the South We must surrender all the South and South-western States. To proceed, is thus to palsy one whole side of our institution. * * *

The Publishing Committee therefore voted with entire unanimity to arrest the issue of the work that had been before them; ——and the Executive Committee united in sustaining this as the only present action conservative of all the interests, and just to all the parties involved.

The committee did well to pause. The South side of the institution is palsied already. The virtual suspension of collections will probably be perpetual; for to keep the South, now and hereafter, not only must the Society not speak against slavery, but it must speak for it. That's the doctrine in politics—why not in religion?

STAGE ACCIDENT.—At Norwalk, Conn., on Saturday, the horses attached to a stage took fright and ran, when a Mrs. Raymond leaped from the vehicle with an infant in her arms, and was very seriously if not fatally hurt. The wife of Rev. Wm. Huested, a small, frail woman, who was also in the coach with three children, made them lie down on the bottom of the stage, and then climbing forward, seized the reins, and succeeded in bringing the horses to a stand, after a run of a mile and a half, without further accident.

A smart woman, and possessed of uncommon firmness,—but what business has the driver of a stage, or any other vehicle, to leave women and children exposed thus? It is full bad enough to leave loose horses in the street, without more directly endangering human lives by leaving them at the mercy of horseflesh.

☞ At a late meeting in Manchester, Rev. Mr. Tillotson of the Universalist church, alluded to the strength of the appetite for drink, when once aroused, mentioned to an instance of his own observation. A young man came to him drunk, promised to refrain, and he, the speaker, believed he was honest in his promise, and yet he went from his presence to the saloon and drank, and had continued it ever since. His appetite overpowered him.—He pitied him, as he did all the victims of intemperance, and he knew no better way to answer the question, "What shall be done?" than to take the drunkard by the hand and the drunkard maker by the collar, plead with the one, and punish the other.

DOCTOR UHL INDORSED.—The New York Medical Monthly for September (Drs. Edward H. Parker and J. H. Douglas, editors,) indorse fully the course of Dr. Uhl in the part he performed in the Cunningham bogus baby production. "His position," says the Monthly, "was a trying one, but he has acquitted himself manfully in it, and the thanks, not only of the medical profession, but of the community, are justly due to him, for aiding the officers of justice so efficiently, though at so great a personal sacrifice."

His course, in its main features, is indorsed also, by the common sense of justice which exists in all mankind. It a bear steals corn from a field, or a mouse gnaws a cheese in the cup-board, you set a baited trap to catch the depredator.—So swindlers and criminals of all sorts that conceal their plans with rogue-craft, must be ferreted out and caught by a counter-craft in the detective. Some criminals and their counsel are very squeamish, and wonderly sensitive on this point,—but common people set traps to catch rats, without any great compunction.

MURDER AND LYNCHING IN MISSISSIPPI. A man named Abernothy, living near Redland, in Pontotoc county, was shot and killed week before last, while pulling fodder in his field. At first, no one was suspected, and considerable mystery hung around the foul act. The conduct of a man in the neighborhood, by the name of Gray, at length aroused suspicion, and on the 5th inst., he was arrested and carried to Pontotoc, and lodged in jail. The people in the neighborhood where the killing occurred, became very much aroused, and on Sunday, a number of them assembled and proceeded in a body to Pontotoc, took Gray out of prison, carried him to Redon land, tried, condemned, and executed him the spot where the murder was committed. Gray confessed after the rope was placed around his neck.

☞ The editor of the Laconia Democrat has some correct notions about every-day matters. Hear what he says to rum-drinking, tobacco-chewing border ruffians about Laconia:

One thing people might as well understand, and most people probably do understand, that if they want to live in any condition befitting a human being, they had better let alone as much as possible, all this miserable drinking of liquor, smoking and chewing tobacco, taking medicines without necessity, swallowing opium, getting the blues, being nervous, or anything of the sort. Eat the best you can get of wholesome food, go to bed in decent season, keep a clean conscience, and a clean hide, and you will live in good shape, at least, as long as you do live.—That's our doctrine.

☞ The Lady's Home Magazine of Literature, Art, and Fashion, edited by T. S. Arthur and Virginia F. Townsend, contains in its October number, a notice of T. B. Aldrich and his poems, in which it is said:

We learn that Mr. Aldrich is under a vigorous course of Dramatic and Elocutionary tuition, preparatory to reading his poems in public. If he delivers them in the full, rich, graceful, musical style in which they are written, he will hold his audiences spell-bound by the hour.

GROWTH OF ST. LOUIS.—The report of the St. Louis Assessors shows an increase in the city valuation of twenty-five per cent. A St. Louis paper says the great influx of labor and capital into the city has constituted a large part of this increase; and has contributed also in no slight measure to effect the additional valuation which is thus seen in so short a space of time to have attached to the real estate.

DANIEL WEBSTER had an admirable insight into human nature at times. In his Marshfield speech Mr. Webster said:

I am afraid, fellow citizens, that the generation of "dough-faces" will be as perpetual as the generation of men. For my part I think that "dough-face" is an epithet not sufficiently reproachful. I think such persons are dough-faces, and dough-heads, and dough-souls, that they are all dough; that the coarsest potter may mould them at pleasure to vessels of honor or dishonor, but most readily to vessels of dishonor.

HENRY CLAY, in his last great speech in the United States Senate, said:

I repeat it, sir, I never can, and never will, and no earthly power can ever make me, vote directly or indirectly, to spread slavery over Territory where it does not exist. Never while reason holds her seat in my brain—never while my heart sends the vital fluid through my veins—never!

☞ We learn that the traders in our city have agreed that after this (Tuesday) morning, to take the Spanish Quarter for only twenty cents. It being at the same rate that other cities are taking them, and quietly sending them to our market, at a profit of 25 per cent, it is time to put a stop such speculations on our traders. *

JEWS AND GERMANS AT THE SOUTH.—A correspondent of the London Times has been lately travelling in the Southern States of this country. His last letter is dated from Macon, Georgia. He says:—

"Germans abound in the interior of the States; they seem to have ousted the native American from whole branches of traffic. You may pass rows of shops with names and faces that are genuine importations from Whitechapel, the streets of Frankfort, or the towns of the Rhine.—The Germans proper are bakers, or watchmakers, generally practising some handicraft; the Jew, German or other, is, as generally, a trader only, especially in those beautiful fits that are so well got up to the eye and wear so badly. A Frenchman is seldom seen; the Italian is much more common, and he devotes himself to pastry; if the place will support a confectioner, he will be a Giovanni or Fratelli. In these national distributions of trades one American town is exactly like another, the division seems almost as unvarying as the plan of the streets. What are the natives, it may be asked? It is not so easy to say.—For many the petty trades are too slow of profit, and they flock to the West to speculate in land."

☞ It is said that a purse of $25,000 has been contributed for Beverly Tucker, as was done for Col. Forney, as a consideration to induce him to take the Liverpool consulship, which is worth only $10,000 a year. These politicians are needy fellows.

Thomas Jefferson, when a member of the Old Congress of the Confederation, introduced resolves into that body setting forth "that no man could have a right of property in his fellow man, and that no community could rightfully hold in bondage, any portion of its members."

☞ The police of Wiesikon, in Switzerland, have been obliged to interfere, to put a check on the proceedings of the Mormons. Three individuals calling themselves priests of that sect, but whose conduct was anything but clerical, have been marched to the frontier by the gendarmerie.

☞ A maritime conference of various European Powers is about to be held at Paris, to consider the subject of collisions at sea, which of late have been so numerous, and to adopt measures for their future prevention.

☞ Galignani says:—"M. Babinet, the astronomer, has just announced to the Institute that, in consequence of a favorable change in the currents of the ocean, a series of years of heat has been entered on, of which the present is the commencement."

PROPOSITION FOR A FRANKLIN MONUMENT AT WASHINGTON.—At a meeting of the Columbia Typographical Society of Washington, on Saturday evening last, a committee was appointed to confer upon the feasibility of procuring, through the contributions of the printers of the country, a statue of "Franklin, the Printer," to be placed in one of the public reservations.

A good idea. Do it.

It is stated that there are 60,000,000 of human beings who use tobacco, and that the world produces annually 1,480,000,000 pounds of this fascinating and poisonous weed. Opium eaters number about 100,000,000; Indian hemp eaters, 150,000; butternut eaters, 100,000,000.—The value of these articles consumed, to say nothing of the coffee and tea, is computed at $300,000, 000 per annum. Suppose we add intoxicating liquors, what a frightful aggregate of expense we would show! Hard times would cease, if man would cease to poison himself.

A DAY OF DOOM.—Tuesday, (Sept. 15,) will be a fatal day to human greatness.—Men who are rejoicing to-day in full blown honors, will shed their laurels, and appear the barren stalks they are. The old New Hampshire Militia expires on this day, and in its doom will involve the whole race of Generals, Colonels, Majors, Captains, Lieutenants and Ensigns, and they who before might have stood against a "world in arms," will find themselves all unarmed, defenceless, and of no account. Corporals alone remain untouched; being an institution above the law, no law can reach them.—Nashua Telegraph.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Judge Denio was yesterday renominated for Judge of the Court of Appeals by the Democratic Convention. A platform was adopted, congratulatory of the people on the election of Buchanan; approving the Kansas Nebraska Bill, and the recent letter of Mr. Buchanan to Professor Silliman; condemning the reckless expenditures of the recent State administration, and the passage of the Metropolitan Police Bill; approving the Dred Scott decision, and expressing regret at the death of Mr. Marcy. No settlement of the New York City difficulties was made, though several resolutions looking that way, were introduced. Adjourned sine die.

TREASURY DECISION.—Washington, Sept. 11.—Secretary Cobb to-day decided that no duties are illegally paid unless paid under protest, which, it is said, will cut off claims to the amount of many thousands of dollars. This is in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court in 1853, which was overruled by Secretary Guthrie.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Steamship Baltic has anchored below in the fog. She brings 135 passengers.

The Baltic left Liverpool at 11 o'clock, Wednesday, 2d inst.

There is nothing definite in regard to the Atlantic Telegraph Cable.

The French papers publish a dispatch affirming that mutiny had showed itself in Bombay, but had been suppressed.

The U. S. frigate San Jacinto, Portsmouth and Levant were at Shanghae July 4th.

It is rumored that a secret treaty between the United States and Mexico provides that the former shall furnish 15,000 to 20,000 armed volunteers to take Cuba under the Mexican flag, in case of a war with Spain.

The English papers discredit the French rumors of the mutiny at Bombay.

The French settlements in India are tranquil.

Private letters state that the mutineers are short of ammunition.

CHINA.—A correspondent of the London Times gives the following as the course resolved upon by Lord Elgin: He will proceed with a fleet of six vessels to the mouth of the Pei-Ho, near Pekin, when he will transmit to the Emperor a letter requiring him, within a specified time, either to recognize or repudiate the acts of his officers at Canton. If he repudiates and makes compensation for the past, and gives security for the future, well; if otherwise, Elgin will declare war, occupy Canton, and take further measures to bring the Emperor to reason.

Liverpool Breadstuffs—The weather continued very fine, and the Wheat crop had been secured in good condition.

LOSS OF LIFE ON THE GRAND BANKS.—We learn that a vessel arrived in Plymouth yesterday, bringing tidings that two men belonging to the schooner Engineer, and an equal number attached to the schooner Seadrift, of that place, were drowned on the Banks since the arrival of those vessels there. It is supposed that the seamen drowned were visiting their acquaintances in other vessels. The cause of the death of two of them was the upsetting of a dory, in which they were returning to their own vessel, after having made their accustomed visit. The accident occurred on Sunday. The other individual in the boat was rescued after being in the water six hours.

A. B. C. F. M.—The meetings of the American Board for Foreign Missions, which have been held for several successive days in Providence, R. I., closed on the 11th inst. Favored with the most delightful weather during the whole period, and enjoying a session of entire harmony, deep interest and highly fraternal communications, the satisfaction of those in attendance has been very great. With the whole debt of the Board paid, and a larger amount received into the treasury than ever before, and under the most encouraging prospects of future support and labor, the friends of this organization have abundant reason for rejoicing and thankfulness to Divine Providence.—Boston Courier.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

The Fifth Annual Cattle Show and Fair of Rockingham County, is to be held on Thursday and Friday, October 1st and 2d —probably in this city. To ensure this it is necessary for our citizens to raise $300,— to fence a field, provide a band of music,&c. A subscription paper was in circulation yesterday, with fair success; and others will be waited upon to-day. Let every one "do what he can" for this object. If Boston, Portland, Manchester, and other places can contribute and appropriate money to get up good shows, why not Portsmouth? If all take hold who should, there will be such a display as was never seen in old Rockingham County before. Portsmouth will do her full share, we warrant; but the first thing is to get the three hundred dollars. Shall it be put down at once?

The exhibition of Manufactured Articles, Fruits, Flowers, &c., will probably be in Jefferson Hall; the show of Stock, &c., in some field not far from the Creek.

Say the word, down with the money, and let us have one grand show for the year.

We are requested by Hon. Henry F. French, to say that the announcement that he will deliver the annual address before the Rockingham Fair, was made without his authority, and that he hopes Hon. Ben: Perley Poore will accept the invitation of the trustees to render that service.—Exeter News Letter.

For the Chronicle.

THE LYCEUMS.

It was stated in the Chronicle of Saturday last, that both the Mechanics' and the Young Men's Mercantile Associations were making preparations for Courses of Lyceum Lectures, during the coming season.

We have learned, however, from good authority, that the Mechanics' Association have determined not to get up a course, but have had the courtesy to leave the field, for one season at least, to the Mercantile.

The Mercantile will undoubtedly improve this opportunity; and as they have always done, will use their best efforts to make the course satisfactory to the public.

We need one Course of Lyceum Lectures in our city during the winter season, and a majority of our most intelligent citizens would regret the total cessation of them; they have become a feature in our winter evenings—decidedly one of our New England institutions.

It is too much for cities considerably larger than ours to support two courses in one season, especially when some unfortunate selections of lecturers happen to be made; but one course, supplied by the best lecturers, cannot well be dispensed with. If any dissatisfaction was expressed at the close of last season, it was occasioned by the excess of lectures in number, and by the bad qualities of a few of the lecturers—and not by their inferiority as a whole.

The Mercantile Lyceums have thus far given good satisfaction in general; one or two of their courses have never been surpassed in Portsmouth. Among the many lecturers who have visited Portsmouth, we think none (with the exception of Rufus Choate) have given better satisfaction than Rev. A. L. Stone, Rev. E. H. Chapin, J. C. Bodwell, and William Stark; and we trust their services will be secured, with other good lecturers.

Would it not be a pleasant and highly satisfactory feature in a course, to have music from our new Band occasionally, and, if possible, get Mrs. Wentworth from Boston to come and sing one or two of those songs which all of us admire; and last, but more pleasant than all, get Albert Laighton to write a Poem? N.

☞ Our friends of the Charlestown (Mass.) Advertiser, copy our paragraph, a few days ago, in which we mentioned that "the Boston papers have harped so long on the superiority of Charlestown Navy Yard, in favor of sending all work there," &c. and remark thus:

Our readers will see that Uncle Toby is a little testy in his last paragraph. Can't help it, however, and the old gent must try to bear up—'taint our fault, you know, because we have such a fine naval station. If we had any influence, however, with old "Buck"-rum, we would drop him a line, and see that the first rate mechanics down in New Hampshire were not neglected; for they turn out as handsome girls and vessels in Portsmouth, as any place in the world. There now, old fellow; don't grumble any more.

Uncle Toby don't often get testy, and had nothing to do with that "paragraph" —nor this. It is just as the Advertiser says—Portsmouth mechanics do turn out vessels as handsome and good as any in the world; but as for the girls, they are altogether too handsome to "turn out" of anywhere. Come down, friends, and look for yourselves. We'll devote one day to your service. Y.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—There will be a meeting of the citizens of Portsmouth at Jefferson Hall, this (Tuesday) evening, at 7 o'clock; to take into consideration the propriety of holding the Rockingham County Fair in Portsmouth, during the first week in October. Let there be a full attendance.

Per Order.

☞ Commodore Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, and Hon. John P. Hale, U. S. Senator from New Hampshire, visited the Navy Yard on Monday, in honor of which, the usual salutes were fired.

☞ One of the largest and best Stocks of Dry Goods ever kept in the State of New Hampshire, is to be found at the present time in the store of Jones & Mendum in this city, whose advertisements in this day's Chronicle give only a general idea of their variety, but not of their amount or detail.

It is well known that the Store of Wm. Jones, jr., and of Wm. Jones & Son, for near half a century, has been most ample and complete in its assortment—and the present firm of Jones & Mendum, are preserving the most valued reputation of the Store, and adding every modern improvement to keep up with the times.

Every variety of desirable Dry Goods for gentlemen, ladies, and household service, are constantly received, sold, and freshly replenished in this complete establishment, which need not fear comparison with similar stores in larger cities.

☞ The election for State Officers, &c., took place in Maine on Monday. Kittery threw 267 Democratic to 142 Republican votes—a large gain for the Democrats. But the whole State won't go that way, for the reason that the Navy Yard does not reach all over the State.

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they clean out soon. I know they will do others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, EO. W. PEBBLE, Clerk of Penn'a Conference.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the most perfect cathartic pill we have. Their tendency to operate on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Interior Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

FORT DEFIANCE, HAVELOCK, MIRA., NOV. 16, 1854.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Your pill set to be destroyed all great exertion, and is better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards completely cured her and children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around him had given up the twenty dollars doctors bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. A. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those, I am called to visit in distress. Yo regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours,

J. V. HIMES.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From aRor.ewship Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is vaunted in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and eruptions on her face, which her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ARA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Blanchet, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

CINCINNATI, PRESCOTT HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GEORGIA, Nov. 15, 1855.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in the severest rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Bond, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATOR CRAWFORD, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by the use of your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT GLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or Kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the fearful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the fatal diable and dangerous disease of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the sudden attacks of croup that come upon them unprepared. We have abundant proof to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the contemptible it prevents than by those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the incurable malady that, fastened on the vitals, sent your life away. All know the deadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not dwell upon them to assure them it is still worthy their trust. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & CO are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and is consequently the only Lottery in Georgia, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the managers of the Lottery who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons who have a legal right to order tickets for Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day, consequently if no particular day is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are sent, however, without the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (either 1 or 2 figures) and 1 or more combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers: Sun, Clipper, Commercial, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received during the week filled the following week, and the money mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the hair restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scurfs, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, prostrating headaches, would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since. When you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not from vanity, but because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, and have the same happy effect, therefore my skepticism and doubts in references to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and conscientiously recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and to me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now urging and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it. Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CARLISLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming thin, and prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BAZZE, ex-Senator, U. S.

Coggswell's Medical Salt, A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MAL-ADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit, unpacks DEPLETION to the system, and restores its form to locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, high as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that the vacuum matter, if required merely what adheres to the point of an pill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been successful as any other in the treating of

and has been used with never failing success.

The Carminative is emphatically

and is the only Child's Medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "dose of opium."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded, are known to the Medical Faculty, and is a most effective and safe remedy, approved by the physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all. Price only 25 cents.

Parents who value rest should not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain for restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature back to proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, produced by the want of nature; it has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "WHITES." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing of injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return mail.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer, or to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON
Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of an great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,
We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS item on Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,
who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:
Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instrument before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and, legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and other works in the United States, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1857.

OLD AND POOR.—The Boston Courier thus touchingly expresses a great truth:

"It was formerly our fortune—not an enviable one—to administer the insolvent law. An old man who came under our jurisdiction, once said to us, 'It is hard to be old and poor.' It was a simple remark, but the tone and look gave it a pathos and significance; and how sadly, painfully true it is. The young man can confront fortune; the stone which she flings at him, he can pick up and set as a jewel in his crest; but the old man falls under the blow. Rejoice, then, man of genius, in thy genius! O pure in heart, rejoice in thy purity! and O young man rejoice in thy youth; for time and thou are good against any two."

Uncle Toby read the above in the Eastern Argus, where he first saw it, though he reads the Courier, every day. It is very well and quite scriptural, says he, to advise the young man to rejoice in his youth. But why should the old man despond, tho' he be poor? Almost all men wish for length of days—and surely all men need not be rich, nor in a christian land need they suffer much, though they be poor. The poor man, who was kind and useful when he was young and in middle life, will rarely be neglected and cannot be despised when he grows old;—and if he has been otherwise, the common asylum provided for poverty and old age combined, is a good retreat from a busy world of foes,—where the old sinner may repent and do his first works. Let no old man grumble over his hard lot. Grumbling will not soften it in the least.

Rather let the old man or woman read the two tracts, All for the Best, and Temper is Every Thing.—It's not half so bad, to be old and poor, as it is to feel poor and have the blues at any age.

NEW HAMPSHIRE MILITIA LAW.—A correspondent makes some remarks, from which we infer that he expects to see something like the old-fashioned trainings,—as the consequence of our new Militia Law.

The new law does not propose to revive the old trainings, nor any thing like them. It does provide, that volunteer companies may be raised, and that if raised, the soldiers shall be paid one dollar per day, for three days training per year, if the town where the company belongs, shall approve of its formation, by a vote in town meeting, called for that purpose; and then the town foots the bill.

The law further provides for an annual enrolment of men; for keeping arms, drums, records, &c.; and in short, for all the dry bones of a militia, ready to be clothed with flesh when wanted; but one little clause shows that we are to have no trainings, except as before stated, by volunteer companies. This clause reads thus:

The militia of the State, other than volunteers, shall be subject to no active duty, except in case of war, invasion, insurrection, riot, inability of the civil officers to enforce the execution of the laws, or other public danger or emergency.

LOWELL, MASS.—The News of Sept. 12 says:—"James McCabe was beaten and put out of a groggery on Gorham street by Patrick Bradley. McCabe complained at the Police Office, and Ellen Macklin, who kept the groggery, was brought up to answer, and held for trial at the C. C. P. for maintaining a nuisance, and also for being a common seller of liquor. Bradley followed Ellen to the Police Office, and there he and McCabe got into a jaw and were ordered off. On reaching the sidewalk, Bradley knocked McCabe, who was somewhat intoxicated, down, and jumped on him, cutting a bad gash in his head and otherwise injuring him. Bradley then fled, but was arrested, and this morning, in the Police Court, was fined $10 and costs, and ordered in $100 to keep the peace for six months."

SUDDEN DEATH AT AMESBURY, MASS.—The Villager says that Mr. John Johnson died very suddenly in the yard of the Powow Mills Co., on Wednesday morning last. Mr. Johnson had been afflicted with the heart complaint for some months to such an extent as to forbid his following his customary daily occupation, but he was in the habit of resorting thither for the purpose of stripping bark from the logs, and indulging in a little exercise.—While thus engaged, he was seen to fall, and before assistance could arrive, he was struck speechless and died in a few moments. His death was caused by disease of the heart, and although sudden, was not wholly unexpected by his friends. He was 44 years of age.

☞ George Ackerman, the editor of a vile sheet called the Venus' Miscellany, at New York, has been tried and fined $50. He was also given to understand that if he continued the publication he would be indicted by the Grand Jury.

☞ Samuel Green of Springfield, and a Mr. Taft of Vermont, whose family are now staying at Holyoke, were killed by the giving way of some of the timbers while engaged in putting up the rafters of the new Congregational Church in Lee, Mass., on Saturday afternoon. A Mr. Street of Holyoke was seriously injured, and H. M. French of Springfield had a very narrow escape from death. Both he and Mr. Green were precipitated from the top of the building to the cellar, some 50 feet, and the escape of the former was a most miraculous one.

DOGS.—The Newburyport Herald understands that the keeper of the Dog Pound finds a very poor business. In the first three days but four commitments had been made. Some of the boys said it was no use to catch the dogs, for under the Dred Scott decision the pound keeper could not pay the fees.

No doubt the dogs of N. are a nuisance. But such boys as would readily become dog hunters would be considerably worse.

☞ The Milledgville (Ga.) Union learns that John I. Bass was killed in his own house in Hancock county, by Mrs. Hudson. Bass came home drunk, maltreated his wife, and drove her and her children, and Mrs. Hudson and children out of his house. Mrs. H. bursted two caps at him, then went home, and next morning very early, just as Bass was getting up, placed a pistol to his breast and fired, killing him instantly.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Friday, the 4th inst., an intoxicated woman, nearly sixty years of age, was run over by a train on the Camden and Amboy Railroad, about five miles from South Amboy. The Coroner who was called to sit upon the body, states that he saw the woman half an hour previously, walking on the track, and warned her of her danger.

S. J. COURT, AMHERST, Sept. 14.—The following persons were indicted for liquor selling in Manchester; Dennis Cochran, W. N. Young, (on two complaints) Robert Young (two complaints) Dennis Goodenough, Charles Clough, Ebenezer Clark, Damon Y. Stearns, J. T. Bond, A. Hollis, C. W. Hurd. Patrick Shehan, Thomas Welch, Jacob Whittier and Horace Bonney. Against Samuel Scripture of Nashua, there were three.—Mirror.

FIRES.—We learn from the Manchester Mirror that the houses and barns of James Blake and Levi Tilton, in Pittsfield, N. H., were destroyed by fire on Friday morning. Most of the furniture in the houses was saved. Blake was insured, but Tilton was not. The loss was between $3000 and $4000.

On Thursday night the Mitchell Block, in Hooksett, N. H., was consumed by fire.

☞ The United States District Court for the District of New Hampshire, commenced a term in this city, on Tuesday; Judge Harvey presiding.

The case Clarke v. Hackett, occupied the Court till the adjournment. Adjourned to Wednesday, at 9 A. M.

WILL NOT SUBMIT IT.—It is pretty certain from recent evidence that the "border ruffian" managers in Kansas do not mean to submit their proposed new Constitution to the test of a popular vote. We would like to see how the general government will act in such a case.

NORTH AND SOUTH.—A curious spectacle is presented in the fact that while the New York Democracy endorse President Buchanan's Silliman letter, the Charleston (S. C.) Mercury thinks the President had done better if he had let the Prof. Silliman memorial alone.

FAILURES.—The banking house of Messrs. Prairo and Nourse, in Washington, suspended payment on Monday, owing to a difficulty in raising money on their securities. They have made an assignment, and it is represented that their assets largely exceed their liabilities.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.—The Concord Statesman contrasting the advantages of old sleepy "has been" cities, with new towns out West, whose whole history is in the plan of the place, exclaims: "Blessed, say we, be the 'Places that have a Past.'"

The town of Somersworth has, for a second time refused, by a decisive vote of 274 nays to 84 yeas, to accept a city charter.

They are "bound to their" town form of government—"let them alone."

MAINE ELECTION.

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.

The vote of Portland stands as follows for Governor.

Morrill (Republican)	1818
Smith (Democratic)	1437
Scattering	3

The vote last year was; Hamlin (Rep.) 2439; Wells (Dem.) 1757; Patten (Whig) and scattering 337.

103 towns heard from return Morrill 24,850, Smith 17,925, giving a Republican majority of 6925. The vote last year in the same towns stood: Hamlin 32,868, Wells 18,913, Patten 3577—giving Hamlin 10,378 majority; thus showing a Republican loss of 3458 votes. The aggregate vote in these towns falls short of last year 12,583.

The Legislature is overwhelmingly Republican in both branches.

Morrill's majority will probably be from 10,000 to 12,000.

The vote of Bath was as follows: Morrill 623, Smith 295.

Rockland—Morrill 509, Smith 489.

Augusta—Morrill 691, Smith 392.

SOUTH BERWICK—Smith 255, Morrill 201.

FAILURES IN NEW YORK.—New York, Sept. 14.—The dry goods house of Nesmith & Co. have failed; also the hardware firm of Swords, Walton & Co. Both of these houses have been in a very extensive business, and it is believed have ample means to liquidate all claims.

Condition of the Banks.—The weekly Bank statement shows an increase in specie of $1,953, 888, and a decrease in loans of $2,235,793 in circulation of $350,876 and in deposits of $3,102,941.

The amount of Specie on hand is $12,-181,857; to be increased by expected remittances from California per steamer Central America, now overdue.

The Gold Snuff Box.—Mr. Jackson, the custodian of the Jackson Snuff Box, has declined to deliver it, and returns with it, to Tennessee, to-morrow.

☞ Isaac N. Robertson, who lived in Charlotte county, Va., died on the 22d ult., and left a will emancipating about 75 slaves, and dividing his real estate and other property among them. Provision is made in the will for their removal to Liberia.

KANSAS—LYNCH LAW.—The steamer Omeha arrived at St. Louis on Tuesday, from Leavenworth city. We learn that just as she landed at that port, on the morning of the 3d, two men by the names of Gordon and Gillespie had been arrested, and were to be hung in the course of an hour or two by the citizens. They were charged with having brutally murdered a man by the name of Walls, from Ohio.—He was stopping at the time at the Planter's Hotel. It is supposed that he was decoyed to the levee, there murdered and robbed, and the body dragged to the river and thrown in.

When Gordon was arrested he denied all knowledge of the murder, though it was observed that his shirt and clothes were stained with blood. The populace were greatly excited. A rope was placed around the neck of the supposed felon, and he was elevated a short distace from the ground. This seems to have brought him to a proper sense of his situation, and he asked to be cut down, and proceeded to make a confession. He admitted his criminality, and implicated a fellow by the name of Gillespie, well known in St. Louis, and a man named O'Brien, as parties in the murder. He acknowledged that he stabbed his victim once, that Gillespie stabbed him four times, and O'Brien twice, before they succeeded in killing him. Soon after this confession, Gillespie was arrested, and the execution of the murderers was only delayed in the hope of catching O'Brien. As the Omeha left, preparations were being made for the execution of Gordon and Gillespie, whether they were successful in running down O'Brien or not.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—The paper of a commission house in this city, chiefly engaged in the cotton and sugar trade, went to protest yesterday and to-day. The house has been established here for years, and has connections in other parts of the South and in Europe.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—James Ripka, an extensive manufacturer in this city, suspended to-day.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 14.—The Citizens' Bank of Smead, Colcord and Hughes suspended to-day.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Col. Benton continues to improve, and his physicians say he is in a fair way of recovery.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Royal Mail steamship Persia, from Liverpool 5th inst., arrived at this port at 8 o'clock this morning.

The London Underwriters on the Atlantic cable offer to pay 36 1-2 per cent, and give up all claims of salvage.

The Court of Assizes of Paris has condemned Ledru Rollin, Massini, and others to deportation.

The Turkish Porte still insists that England shall evacuate the Isle of Perin, and restore it to Turkey.

The steamer Ripan has arrived from Calcutta with a number of fugitives from the massacre of Meerut, including the American missionary, Mr. Hay, and family.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—Steamship Philadelphia brings Havana dates of the 9th inst., and San Francisco advices of the 20th ult.

The yellow fever was increasing at Havana.

The San Francisco markets were active. The Settlers' Convention had nominated Hon. Edward Stanley (the Republican candidate) for Governor, and a mixed ticket.

In Washington Territory Stevens, Democrat, has been elected to Congress.

Mr. Sullivan, the British Minister at Lima, had been murdered by six Peruvians. Different causes (Political and woman) are assigned.

The Costa Rican government has decreed that the expected Walker expedition is piratical and all connected with it of course will be punished with death.

☞ In the Court of Oyer and Terminer at New York, Monday, Mrs. Cunningham was arraigned on the bogus baby charge, and plead not guilty. Her trial was set down for next Monday.

☞ Dinsmore's American Railroad & Steam Navigation Guide, for September, is just published.—Every traveller needs it, who goes across the country.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 14.—Messrs. Ward & Nash, tobacco dealers of this city, failed to-day.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.—At the meeting held at Jefferson Hall, to make arrangements for holding the County Fair in Portsmouth, Col. Z. Clement was called to the Chair, and Jos. C. Walker was appointed Secretary. The following gentlemen were appointed a Committee of Arrangements:—A. W. Haven, Robert Morrison, Wm. R. Preston, Chas. Hayes, Ebenezer Haynes, Jas. M. Carr, Geo. N. Carleton, Daniel H. Spinney, Geo. W. Pendexter, Jas. F. Shores, Jr.

It was reported that the sum of $160 had been subscribed, and the success of the movement was considered certain. The meeting was adjourned to Saturday evening next, at Jefferson Hall, at which time the Committee will report progress.

POLICE COURT.

Before Justice Odell, Sept. 11,—"One Smith" was accused of stealing a watch on the 9th, at Newmarket. Plead guilty;—held to bail in $400, to the S. J. Court, and for lack thereof committed.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting of the Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society, was held in the Temple, on Monday evening.

Voted, that the Choice of officers be postponed to the second Monday evening in October, and that this meeting, when it adjourns, be adjourned to that time.

Voted, that the annual accounts be referred to the president and treasurer, to report at that time.

Voted, that measures be taken to increase the number of corporate members by subscriptions in the record book, in the mean time, especially by young men.

Resolved, That we highly approve of the good beginning made in behalf of the Youth's Temperance Pledge in this city, last spring;—and that we hope to see this enterprise carried still further, and with renewed zeal.

Resolved, That in our view it is highly desirable and important to have Temperance Lectures by men of acknowledged influence and ability,—and that we respectfully invite the several Pastors of our Churches to arrange a series of temperance sermons or lectures for delivery on Sabbath evenings in the Churches, by themselves or by clergymen with whom they exchange: these lectures to be commenced, as soon as arrangements can be made.

Adjourned to the second Monday evening in October.

RUM'S DOINGS.

Messrs. Editors:—Passing the Brick Market on Tuesday morning, about six o'clock, I heard a poor fellow calling at the top of his voice, from the watch house, for some one to "come and let him out."

"I want to come out;" said he, "do let me out! I don't want to lose a day's work! I want you to get the watchman and tell him to come and let me out! I did'nt want to come up here, but the watchmen wanted me to go with them, and when I got in here, they locked the door, and left me; I did'nt do anything bad! Come, do let me out!" and thus we left him pleading and entreating for some one to release him from his lonely quarters. We pitied him, and thought, as we passed on, that if the person who sold him liquor, could have been there, unless he had an adamantine heart, he would never have sold another drop of the poison. We might extend our remarks to a greater length, but forbear. These instances,—which are of daily occurrence,—speak plainer than we can write. WITNESS.

Let this answer for Portsmouth. Now let us turn to Concord, where the Manchester Mirror's correspondent says:

An old fellow, who had the tremens so bad that he came nigh shaking himself out of existence, obtained a half pint of the worst kind of rum, a few days ago, by giving his coat and shirt from off of his back to a liquor dealer on Cross street.

Next, we will look at Boston, at what the Bee of the 14th, well entitles "A Sad Sight."

A boy, about 10 years old, went up Washington street last evening, about 7 o'clock, reeling with drunkenness. He required the entire width of the sidewalk to navigate in, and, between bumping against shutters and buildings and tumbling over the flag-stones, he presented a spectacle indeed; and it was sad enough. The man, or monster, who would sell or give intoxicating liquor to a lad of 10 years—and that to an extent to make him reel through the public streets—is unworthy of the brotherhood of humanity or the palo of civilization.

☞ We learn that the office of the City Mission is removed from the City Rooms to No. 29 State street. Office hours, from 9 to 12, A. M.

☞ Michael Foley, a laborer at the Navy Yard, was killed on Tuesday, by falling from the Joiner's shop, through a hatch, striking his head and shoulders on timber below.

Mr. Foley was a laborer in the Engineer's Department, an estimable man; and leaves a family.

SANDWICH, Mass., Sept. 14.—The machine shop and foundry of the Manomet Iron Company, at North Sandwich, were entirely consumed by fire on Sunday morning. Cause unknown. Loss $25,000; partly insured.

John Minor Botts goes to Europe in the next Vanderbilt steamer.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound. Molasses for 40 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices, the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cts.; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. au18 tf

sept4 JOHN NUTTER.

Morning Chronicle.

LUDICROUS MISHAPS.—A gentleman who recently left an Eastern city for New York, to be united in marriage, with a young and charming lady of that city, stopped for a day, in Boston, to make some additions to his outfit. Arrived at one of our hotels, great was his dismay at finding that in place of his own trunk, containing his wedding suit, another had been substituted, in all respects like his own, but filled with patent medicines, tooth-washes and the paraphernalia of an itinerant peddler, all, perhaps, of a certain value, but not at all suited to his immediate needs. Not willing to be incumbered with such trash, he gave a description of his own baggage to several railroad and steamboat agents, and went on his way to New York. On his arrival by steamboat in that city, he was struck by the appearance of a trunk at the landing, which proved to be in want of an owner, and impressed with its similarity to his own, he caused it to be conveyed to his hotel, delighted with the prospect of being able to present himself, at last, in suitable attire, to the Dulcinea of his affections.

But another disappointment awaited him, for trunk No. 3 being opened, revealed the wardrobe of a boarding-school miss, as was evinced by the "towel, silver fork, and spoon." If the pedler's wares were of no use to him, the second collection of personal effects was of still less service, and so he was fain to wait at the hotel for a few days more, until at last, relief came in the form of a telegraphic despatch, which was soon followed by his original trunk with all its contents safe. The gentleman made speedy use of it, and the marriage was consummated at once, under propitious auspices. It is said that upon the bridal tour, he kept a careful watch of the trunks, boxes and parcels which contained the effects of himself and wife.—Boston Ade.

PHENIX HOTEL.—This spacious and beautiful edifice, furnished with all modern improvements, and which we feel persuaded, will be surpassed by no similar establishment in New Hampshire, is being rapidly carried towards completion. The expectation is entertained that it will be in readiness for company early in October.—It will be kept by Messrs. Ephraim Hutchins and Samuel Clark—whose names are a sufficient guarantee of a first rate "Travellers' Home." No exertions or expense will be spared in order that the hotel may sustain if not surpass the very wide reputation it so long enjoyed. Major Hutchins grow up in the old Phenix, kept it several years, and knows every rope in the ship.—Mr. Clark has industry, energy, good judgment, civility and experience, so indispensable in keeping of such an establishment.—Concord Statesman.

MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.—Samuel Clark, an old gentleman seventy years of age, was last week returning from the South to his home in Lincoln, Me., when he fell in with an agreeable young man calling himself David Kelsey, who proposed that they should journey together. Mr. Clark accepted the acquaintance, and his new friend, by assiduous attentions, so won his confidence, that he unguardedly exposed to him the contents of his carpet-bag, $182 in gold. On their arrival at the steamboat wharf in Portland, Mr. Clark went into the wash-room of the boat to perform his morning ablutions, and placed his carpet bag near him upon the floor. When he looked for it, after the lapse of a minute, it had mysteriously disappeared, and with it had gone the polite Mr. Kelsey, who has not been heard from since.

In 1745 hoops were worn as large as now. Sir Robert Strange, fleeing from pursuit after the battle of Culloden, was concealed in the crisis of his trouble by a young lady, who offered to shelter him under the ample folds of her petticoat.—To this strange proposal, considering all circumstances, it is not strange that he assented, and here he remained undiscovered. Either love or gratitude suggested the sequel, and they were subsequently married.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and are conducted under the laws of the state, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who may send their money to the managers of lottery tickets entitled to prizes, shall be faithfully attended to, as the managers have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month, but no particular class in any one day; orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. Money may be remitted safely, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket; rather than the Havana plan, and Tontine combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in Baltimore, and in New York City, Philadelphia, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

THE Lottery of Samuel Hanna & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well attended to as those who were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Hanna & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received prior to Saturday will be drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in ten number must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that persons can fall to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer and New York Weekly Day Book. A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and nothing but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the head and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one lously trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; those were my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend it to all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours.

SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Toledo, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BRIZEE, ex-Senator, U. S.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its name, or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it acts upon the system, even when the point of an awl dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deadly countenance changed to the healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from cause, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. For as they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. Cheeseman, No. 63, Fort Onoe, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.
The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.
By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.
THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This, connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.
THE ORGAN MELODEON
Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.
Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings
511 Washington Street,
We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee as entire and perfect satisfaction.
Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.
As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following
Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,
who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:
Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.
MELODEONS RENTED.
Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, and enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.
Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory references, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANCED ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, which, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
Testimonials.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent to be trusted worthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

BURDEN'S

ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which they owe their superior tensile strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand-made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1857.

☞ "The North has nothing to do with slavery," used to be the cry, twenty years ago—and in Northern legislatures and conventions and caucuses, it used to be Resolved, that we are as much opposed to slavery as anybody; Provided, however, it is none of our business, as we can't touch it.

Now the tune has changed. We see newspapers in New Hampshire and in Maine, occupied with the most miserable apologies for slavery, with deplorable rhetoric and broken-backed logic. One of these the other day contained an article on the Necessity of Slavery.

We don't hear, now, the old stupid saw, we have nothing to do with slavery,—but the true-blue union-saving doctrine is,—We have nothing to do against slavery, but must must do everything we can in its favor, and labor to strengthen, enlarge and perpetuate such a blessed institution. He that can't swallow all this is no patriot and no christian, but must be cast out and have his portion with hypocrites, fanatics, and black republicans.

Utah and the Mormons.—By the last Utah mails we have advices from that Territory to August 12th. The tone of the press indicates much excitement in regard to the United States troops despatched thither. The file of the Deseret News contains a series of articles touching the federal movement, talking in an unmistakable manner about liberty and the right of conscience.

Brigham Young joins his thunder to that of the press in the following language extracted from one of his sermons.

The time must come when there will be a separation between this kingdom and the kingdoms of this world, even in every point of view. The time must come when this kingdom must be free and independent from all other kingdoms. Are you prepared to have the thread cut to-day? Now let me tell you one thing—I shall take it as a witness that God designs to cut the thread between us and the world, when an army undertakes to make their appearance in this Territory to chastise me or to take my life from the earth.

On the 3d of August John M. Bernhisel was chosen delegate to Congress.

On the 24th of July the tenth anniversary of the entrance of the Mormons into the valley was celebrated at the mouth of the Big Cottonwood, where 2587 persons, with 464 carriages, 1028 horses, and 332 oxen were encamped.

Man Drowned in Hampton.—Messrs. Editors:—On Saturday last, 12th inst., two young men from Brentwood, came to the beach in this town, and went into the surf to bathe. They indeed waded out beyond the surf, into such a depth of water that on attempting to return, they found themselves unable so do it by wading, on account of the strength of the undertow. One of them, whose name was Swain, then called upon his companion to swim. Both attempted it, and Swain reached the shore completely exhausted. The other swam till he reached the surf, when he foundered and was seen no more. The name of the person drowned was Thomas Hanson. He was about 21 years of age, and is said to have been an only son.—The body has not yet been found.

Hampton, Sept. 14, '57. D.

Church and State.—The Archbishop of Milan lately met—so goes the story—the Empress of Austria on the staircase of the Duomo, and the robes of the former got so caught by the hoops and crinoline of the latter, that a tearing of garments became necessary to effect a separation. This is not the first instance of a collision between Church and State, nor the first instance where the parting of them has damaged both parties. In regard to the present entanglement, it is said the diversion of "the young and august victim was immense." How could it be otherwise than immense, considering the extent of the circumference that must have been shaken by the royal cachination?

Beecher on Boys.—The "star" writer of the Independent has been devoting an essay to boys. He says:—"The real lives of boys are yet to be written. The lives of pious and good boys, which enrich the catalogues of our great publishing societies, resemble a real boy's life about as much as a chicken picked and larded, upon a spit, and ready for delicious eating, resembles a free fowl in the fields. With some few honorable exceptions, they are impossible boys, with incredible goodness. Apples that ripen long before their time, are either diseased or worm-bitten."

☞ The Maine Election is one of the happiest events of the year. In Portland, both the Advertiser and the Argus are rejoicing over it. Surely the outsiders ought to be satisfied. The Advertiser rejoices that the Republicans hold the power in all the branches of the State Government; and the Argus rejoices in Democratic gains.

The Argus says:

The majority for Mr. Morrill, we think, will not come up to 12,000 in the State.

For the Senate the Republicans have probably carried every district, except, perhaps, York, of which there is some doubt, and Washington, which is in the same state of uncertainty.

☞ The Representative from York, is Wm. H. Scott, (dem.)

A gentleman from that County who has seen returns from all but 5 towns, inclines to the belief that the Republicans have carried the Senators there.—It must be a close vote, either way.

☞ The Gold Snuff box humbug has exploded. The presentation of Gen. Jackson's gold box to Major Dyckman did not take place on Monday in New York, Mr. Jackson declining—for reasons which are set forth in a letter from him—to permit the relic to pass from his keeping at the present time. The committee having this box affair in charge were greatly incensed at the course of Mr. Jackson, and both branches of the Common Council of the city adopted resolutions expressive of their dissatisfaction.

A regiment that was to escort the box, and the brave Dyckman who was to receive it, turned out to do that duty—but, alas, there was no box. Mr. Jackson, "the nephew of his uncle," whom he calls his "father," had vamosed, leaving only a letter behind, to this purport, that when the whole people of New York would agree that some one of her braves was the bravest, then and there he would give the box to that man.

Well! we think he will keep the box a long day yet, if he waits for that.

Vive le humbug!

☞ We understand that one of the Cotton Mills of the Newmarket Manufacting Company, of Lamprey River Village, was destroyed by fire, between 3 and 4 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

The watchmen of the mill states that but half an hour before the fire he went through the mill, when he found all right.

The loss is estimated at $100,000, with so far as ascertained $44,000 insurance, viz.: 20,000 at the Boston Manufacturers' Mutual, $8000 at the Manufacturers', $5000 at the American, and $3000 at the Merchants' office in Boston.

☞ A Bloomington (Ill.) paper says:—"Wheat declined to fifty cents per bushel in this market Thursday. The main cause of this rapid decline is, that in the present unsettled state of affairs East, the Chicago bankers refuse to discount the drafts of produce dealers, (or of any body else, in fact,) many of whom are, therefore, unable to continue buying. At present rates, we presume farmers will generally withhold their grain from market."

Bogus Votes.—The Portland Advertiser says that on Monday, in Ward 2, an Irishman was brought up to vote and gave his name as James Herbert. The name was found, and he was about to deposit his vote in the box, when a Republican, who knew that the real James Herbert was not in the city, challenged his right to vote in that name, and his fraudulent attempt to vote was stopped.

☞ "A balloonist" attempted to make an ascension at Albany last week—but it was no go. He got up high enough though to clear one or two blocks—came down in in a private garden, breaking the shrubbery—lost his pocket book—was arrested for damages, and was put in the watch house. That's what may be called "ballooning extra."

☞ On Saturday morning a man named O'Brien, and his wife, living on Charles street, East Cambridge, both of whom had been sick of consumption for a year, died within three hours of each other. The one who died last was not apprised of the death of the other.

Maine Election.—Portland, Sept. 15.—One hundred and seventy-five towns heard from, give Morrill (Republican) 33,000 votes for Governor; Smith (Democrat) 24,946, a Republican majority of 8060.—The same towns last year gave Hamlin 43,254, Wells 25,639, Patten 4381, a Republican majority of 13,234; which shows a nett Republican loss of 5174.

Exactly; so it does; and it shows also pretty nearly where the Straight Whigs have gone.

Norwalk, Ct., Sept. 15.—Clarke Bissell, ex-Governor of this State, died in this city to-day.

EXETERIANA.

Exeter, Sept. 15, 1857.

Dear Chronicle:—Who was the man in the Iron Mask—Who wrote Junius' letters—Who assaulted Mr. William Patterson,—are all questions of great importance, which have kept the curiosity of the world upon the rack ever since they were proposed; but these are thrown in the shade by the all absorbing enquiry—where is the next "Exeter Fair" to be holden. It seems that this institution can be weaned from Exeter. The people of this town are generally in favor of its being located elsewhere, for a year, at least. It is sad to think that Portsmouth cannot manage the affair so well as they have done it here; yet such must be the fact, for everybody here says so. It is thought quite probable that a larger sum, for the holding of the Fair in the only city in the County, can be raised there than in Exeter. It is said that our hotel-keepers, and those of our citizens who are most directly benefitted by the Fair, are the most unwilling to contribute their share of the prior expense. In that spirit of generous rivalry that has always existed between the two shire towns,—we expect that you will seek to do as well as we have, for the last three years, if not better. We are sorry that this is to occur in so short a time, for as soon as it is over, our people will find nothing else to talk about, except, perhaps, the w—whether next year's fair will be held inExeter or not.

Villages do not often outstrip cities, yet occasionally they do. The Gordian knot, so to speak, has been untied, and the excellent practice of rolling nine-pins has been separated from its quondam companions, liquor-drinking and gambling. Several of our best citizens have lately constructed a fine bowling-alley over the machine shop, where the best medicine in the shape of good exercise can be procured at all hours of the day. This, we believe, you lack in Portsmouth. We would suggest that your semi-annual croaker on gymnastics, in his next, should give us some pertinent remarks on the advantages of a first class bowling-alley in Portsmouth.

The Second Congregational Church (lately Mr. Mann's) have, procured a new bell, which was needed much more than Greeley needs a new hat,—(or, we were going to say, editors need money, but would it not be "drawing it too strong?")—(The Gazette's echo answers,—"It would, decidedly!") The bell is from Meneely's foundry, at West Troy, N. Y., weighs 1745 lbs. and cost about $700. The old one bears the inscription, "Chapman and Means, London, 1782."

One of the largest and most expensive paintings that has ever been seen in this vicinity has just been completed by a master artist, as yet to fame unknown. His subject, tho' a lofty one,* has been treated in a manner that bespeaks a knowledge of the art, and a proper appreciation of public taste. (If "J. F." does not inform the readers of the News Letter, next week, that the Academy building has lately received two coats of paint, we may take the liberty to do so hereafter.)

The old proverb has been amended so as to read:—"Of holding fairs in Exeter, there is no end." The Ladies of the First Congregational Church have a fair on Wednesday evening, of this week. The Cornet Band, Ice Cream, several novelties, Hot Coffee and Cake, have all consented to appear.

Judge French returned from Europe, on Saturday last. His journey will have given him still larger knowledge of agricultural affairs,—which we hope will be made evident by an address from him at Portsmouth in October next.

Yours, F. G.

*About 50 feet in the highest part.

Hit 'em Again.—A Boston paper accounts for the fact that some persons always go out of the concert room before the last piece, by supposing that they are servants who have received permission to stay out only a part of the evening.

☞ "The Atlantic Monthly," is to be the name of Phillips, Sampson & Co.'s new Boston magazine. It will appear about the 1st of November, and will command some of the best pens in this country and in Europe.

☞ The inimitable Pete Morris is having his celebrated Comic Melodies published in fine style, by Russell & Richardson, Boston. For sale by Charles C. Harvey, Portsmouth.

Calvin's Discourses.—It is said that there are nineteen hundred sermons by John Calvin, extant, and that not one of them has a text taken from the four Gospels.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 16, 1857.

The United States District Court adjourned to-day, after a session of two days, Judge Harvey presiding.

The bill in Equity, Ferdinand N. Clark, vs. Wm. H. Y. Hackett, was dismissed, with costs for the defendant.

The petition of Hackett, assignee of Clark in bankruptcy, that the bankrupt pay into the Court $1958,00, paid the bankrupt at the U. S. Treasury in 1855, was argued and submitted. The Court have not yet delivered their opinion.

On motion of the assignee, in the matter of F. N. Clark, case in bankruptcy, the Commissioner's report, preparatory to a dividend, was made, and the usual notice for the December term ordered.

For the motion, Hackett, Woodbury, and Emery. Against it, Towle.

☞ The Massebesic Engine Co., No. 4, of Manchester, with the splendid Cornet Band of that city, will visit Portsmouth to-day—coming from Portland; and will be the guests of Piscataqua No. 4 of this city. Our Fours know how to take care of them; and will do the thing up in shape. There is to be a grand Firemen's Ball at Congress Hall this evening; and we doubt not it will be as successful as that given recently by No. 6. Such social interchanges of visits are commendable, when conducted aright.

☞ Commodore Joseph Smith of Washington, D. C., Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, made his usual annual visit to our Navy Yard on Monday last, and was received with the customary salute. He made a minute examination of the works in the Civil Engineer's Department, and expressed his satisfaction in flattering terms. Mr. Chandler is one of the most skilful and efficient Engineers in the service, and a walk round the Yard, presents repeated evidences of his devotion to his profession.

☞ We learn that a man named Charles Westcott was injured on Wednesday afternoon by an iron bar falling on his head, while at work on the U. S. frigate Constitution.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The Secretary of the Treasury, on appeal, has reversed the decision of the collector of New York, who assessed a duty of 24 instead of 19 per centum on colored or printed flannels. The fact of their being colored or printed does not change their character as known in trade, or remove them from the schedule in which flannels are provided for especially.

The Secretary, on appeal, has also reversed the decision of the same Collector, who imposed 24 instead of 19 per centum on the checked flannels. That they are checked and larger nap raised on them than ordinary, does not change their distinctive character of flannels.

In another case the Secretary says:—"In estimating the foreign character of wool, with reference to its exemption from liability to duty, the appraisers can determine such value, independently of the invoice by price current, and other reliable means of information, of the article in foreign markets, such as they employ in ascertaining the foreign values of other staple articles of import.

A sudden heavy run caused the partial suspension to-day of the Georgetown Bank of Commerce, but it redeemed its issues, and paid such of its depositors as were needy. It is supposed that the stockholders will resume in a few days, as it is represented that they are able, and that they will protect the Bank.

The run was also kept up on most of the private bankers, but all demands having been promptly met, the excitement subsided before the closing hour.

THE BRATTLEBORO' FIRE.—LIBERALITY OF MRS. WENTWORTH.—A pleasant episode to this destructive conflagration, we have learned. Mrs. Emma A. Wentworth, the talented vocalist of Boston, was spending a portion of her summer vacation (while Kings's Chapel, where she sings, was closed) in Brattleboro' at the time of the fire, and was an eye witness to its fury.—Immediately thereupon, in the kindness of her heart, she determined upon placing her talents under contribution for the purpose of aiding the sufferers. She at once telegraphed to Boston for Mr. Lang, the pianist, who was paid for his services by Mrs. W., and with his aid and the voluntary assistance of a visiting gentleman vocalist, a concert was given on Thursday evening last, and the entire proceeds (about $100) placed in the hands of the Committee of Relief, for distribution among the poor and suffering.—Boston Journal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A Mobile paper says $150,000 have been raised in Georgia in aid of Walker's proposed decent upon Nicaragua.

The Cotton Crop.—Texas papers say the cotton crop will be larger this year than ever, and sugar will not yield more than three-quarters of the average.

RONDOUT, Sept. 15.—The banking office of Davis, Suydam, Dubois & Co. closed its doors to-day.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The failure of Paird & Nourse has created quite a panic here. Some heart-rending scenes occurred at their establishment to-day. Clerks, employees, and laborers in various departments had deposited their all in this concern, amounting in all to upwards of $140,000. Runs have been made upon other establishments, and it is believed that some of them will go by the board. It is rumored that the Bank of Commerce, in Georgetown, has closed its doors. The capital of Paird & Nourse is reported to be wholly absorbed in Western lands.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—A private letter from Keokuk, Iowa, states that a fire occurred there on the evening of the 11th inst., which destroyed over $100,000 worth of property.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound. Molasses for 40 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices, the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cts.; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. aug18 tf

THE MOST SKEPTICAL PEOPLE Can be convinced by a trial that all the family medicines are not humbug, and that among the thousand of butterfly life, there are a few of great merit and undoubted worth. Of those, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, stands first and foremost among the remedies of the day; that can be relied on as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its proprietors. It advertises itself on every trial, for there are none who use it but tell their friends to do so, and so it goes from mouth to mouth, till all the people of the Union have learned the good of this truly valuable medicine. Morning Chronicle.

A SAD AFFAIR.—A noted house of ill repute in Market street, was searched on Saturday by the police, and from it was taken Mrs Elizabeth Taylor, the wife of Mr. Robert Taylor, doing business in Seventh street, below Chesnut, by a warrant granted by Alderman Ewen, upon complaint of the husband. Mrs. Taylor is a person of prepossessing appearance, and by no means inelegant manners. She was taken from the above place at about six o'clock in the morning, and committed to prison in default of bail. She was subsequently released. On Sunday evening, the unhappy woman went on board the ferry boat Mary, plying to Camden, and when midway across the river plunged overboard. With great difficulty she was rescued, and taken in charge by some persons residing across the river.—Philadelphia North American.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and have found them so much superior to any they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently if they are not a valuable remedy for derangements of this organ. LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to see that everything is done with everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who invide a lottery ticket are properly protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland lotteries and be legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders will be filled by first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are forwarded, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations, and the amount drawn ranges from $50 to $15,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, Times, Chronicle, Republican, Baltimore Saturday Visitor, Saturday Evening Post, Sun, Baltimore Sun, Baltimore Clipper, Baltimore Patriot, Baltimore Chronicle, Baltimore Republican, Baltimore Times, Baltimore Visitor, Baltimore Post

The Providence Journal, speaking of the sugar trade, says:

Whatever may be the individual losses in the failure of the sugar speculation, there is no real loss of property, no destruction of food or any article of human consumption, as in the case of fire or flood. There is just as much sugar in the world as there was before the price fell, and it is just as sweet. The only difference is that certain persons who thought they had made fabulous fortunes of the rise, find themselves mistaken. The Cuban planters, on whose account large quantities are held, and who are making great efforts to sustain the price, will not receive the enormous profits they anticipated; the speculators who have paid two per cent. a month to hold sugar, will some of them fail, and all of them lose money; some regular merchants who hold sugar in their ordinary business, or who have advanced upon it to their correspondents, will participate in the losses, and the people will have sugar at prices that they can afford to pay, and will buy it.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE IN GLOUCESTER.—The alarm of fire which was given last evening was caused by the partial burning of a dwelling house situated on the road to Annisquam. The firemen were promptly on the spot, when it was discovered that an infant child of Capt. Thomas P. Dunton was in the chamber where the fire originated. Several of the most daring firemen hastened to the door of the room, but the flame and smoke beat so fiercely in their faces that to enter and live was impossible. A ladder was procured and placed at the window, when Mr. Allen Grant, a fisherman, immediately mounted the ladder to the window, which striking out with a blow, he bravely dashed into the burning apartment. A moment of suspense followed, when he appeared at the window with the child in his arms, which was handed to the ground; but alas, it was lifeless.

The first intimation the mother had of the danger was given by the neighbors, who saw the fire bursting through the roof. It is supposed that fire was communicated by a lamp which had been left or used in the chamber. Capt. Dunton is absent from home. The house was insured by the Annisquam Mutual Insurance Company, and was but slightly damaged. —Boston Journal.

A free colored resident of Liberia, who migrated from one of the Southern States, in writing back to his old home, says:—"Tell Mr.—— and Col.——, and any other of your neighbors, that if they have any very bad negroes that they wish to punish severely, to send them to this place."

An officer of a military company in Cleveland, returned his thanks for the honor of an election in the following speech: "My brave men; them who voted for me I respect—them who didn't, I disgust."

AUBURN, Sept. 14.—Fire.—The steam flouring mill at Port Byron was burnt on Saturday, together with all the stock and machinery. Loss $50,000. Insurance about $27,000. It was owned by Redfield, Roberts, & Co.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1857.

THE FOREIGN NEWS AND THE FLOUR MARKET.—The intelligence by the Persia has given an upward tendency to the market for breadstuffs, and it is probable that the lowest point of the season has been reached for shipping brands. Extra brands are too high for exporters to touch as yet. The stocks in the British market are light. At Liverpool the deficiency since the first of June, as compared with last year, is 151,200 qrs. wheat, 227,574 qrs. Indian corn, 397,474 bbls. and 19,934 sacks flour; the average deficiency exceeding the total stock and supplies this year. And at Glasgow the deficiency amounts to 58,000 bbls. flour, or nearly one half. This, taken in connection with the well-authenticated failure of the potato crop, is calculated to renew the strength of our market.

The deliveries of wheat at the principal market towns, by the English farmers, for the last week reported, were 92,646 qrs., against 65,735 qrs. same week last year.—Average price 60s. 4d. per qr. against 70s. 8d. corresponding week last year.—Tribune.

THE CURRANT CROP.—A telegraphic dispatch from Patras, Greece, dated Aug. 26, says:—"General and unceasing rains during twenty hours have destroyed more than one half of the currant crop. Only four thousand tuns are secured. The remaining fruit runs the risk of being totally destroyed.

Another dispatch, three days later, says: The rains have caused considerable damage and more than half the crop has been destroyed at Zante and Cephalonia.

At Patras the prices have opened at $100 per 1000 lbs., at which price the fruit in England will cost 32s.

On the receipt of the above telegraphs, great speculations have been made in London and Liverpool, and by the last advices by the Persia they have paid even 75s., being an advance of 25s. from the lowest previous rates for good fruit."

LATER FROM HAVANA.—The Charleston Courier, of Monday, contains the arrival of the steamship Cahawaba from Havana and Key West, 10th.

The brig Black Squall picked up a boat on the Great Bahama Bank, with three men in it, who stated that they belonged to and were the sole survivors of the brig Albion Cooper, which was wrecked. One of them afterwards stated that the captain, mate, and one seaman were murdered by the other two, and the vessel burned.—They were all in prison at Havanna.

Two slavers had been run ashore and burned between Cardenas and Matanzas.

Three cargoes of slaves had been landed within a week.

At Havana freights were nominal.—Stock of sugar was unchanged; Muscovado was nominally 10 a 13 reals. There was no molasses for export.

The Metropolitan Theatre in San Francisco, was burnt on the 15th of August.

In Washington territory 20 Democrats and 5 Republicans had been elected representatives. Stevens' majority for Governor was 519.

Sandwich Island dates are to July 9.—The cane crop promises abundance; the coffee crop had been attacked by blight, and the yield would be reduced one-third.

☞ Maine election, by the returns in the Portland Advertiser of Thursday, stands thus: the whole vote is about 3-4ths as large as last year. Morrrill's majority this year is about 3-4ths as much over Smith—as Hamlin's was last year over Wells and Patten. Therefore the Republican majority is relatively the same, tho' actually smaller. The Argus of Thursday says "returns come in very slowly."

☞ Some time since, says the author of "A Week at the Bridge of Allan," an Englishman visited the field of Bannockburn, and offered a pecuniary recompense to his guide. "Put it back," said the Scot;—"your countrymen have paid dearly enough already for seeing Bannockburn."

PORT AU PRINCE.—New York, Sept. 15. Advices from Port au Prince of Aug. 15 furnishes some additional important intelligence relative to the progress of the revolution in San Domingo. It appears that the partizans of Santa Anna have gained important success in the field, and it is moreover stated that Baez had been obliged to hastily quit the country, and that quiet had been restored. The Haytian government took no part in the quarrel. It is, therefore, probable Santa Anna has been recalled from exile and reinstalled in the Presidency.

LECOMPTON, K. T., Sept.—The Constitutional Convention has adjourned till the third Monday in October. The free State delegates were refused seats.

Preparations are being made by the proslavery men for the October election. The taxes are to be collected, or none can vote. Sheriffs are to be at the polls to collect the taxes. The troops are to be there also.

THE SUICIDE AT NIAGARA FALLS.—We published a despatch, stating that "W. T. Allen, from New England, threw himself from Table Rock, Niagara Falls, the day previous. The Traveller gives the following account of him.

It seems that the man came from Montreal, and while crossing the Suspension Bridge, inquired of the driver if any one had ever been known to go over the Falls and live. The Jehu replied that no such case had come to his knowledge. The passenger assured the driver that he should accomplish the feat. Arriving at the Clifton House, he registered hianame, called for a room and a bottle of champagne, and, after imbibing the wine, addressed a letter to Miss Allen, (supposed to be his sister,) in Ireland; another to a firm in Montreal. He then went to Table Rock, walked into the water near the edge of the precipice, threw his hat over, and immediately made a similar disposition of himself.—Whether he intended to commit suicide; or simply out-jump Sam Patch, probably no one will ever be able to tell. He seemed to have plenty of money, and a gold watch and chain, all of which, with his body, will probably lie wedged in the crevices of the rocks at the bottom of Niagara river.

SEIZURE OF AN OBSCENE NEWSPAPER.—One George A. Ackerman, the publisher of a scurrilous sheet called the Venus Miscellany, was arrested a few days since, in New York, and pleading guilty to the charge brought against him, was let off with the paltry fine of $50. The police, however, were not satisfied with this result, and subsequently discovered where the paper was printed. They next day visited the locality, and seized some fifteen or twenty thousand copies of the paper, together with the presses, and other materials, and some five thousand obscene books, some of them elegantly bound, and filled with the filthiest engravings. Besides these, the officers seized all the private papers of the establishment, including the names of the correspondents, and the subscription books of the Miscellany, which contain about three thousand names of men and women from all parts of the country. The Evening Post says that a large number of the men appear to be college students, and that the list will be published, in extenso, hereafter. There were a number of females employed in the book-binding department. Several persons connected with the establishment were arrested. Ackerman was absent.

STEALING AND ARREST.—Last Friday evening, a trunk was stolen from the Cocheco Railroad train between Dover and Alton Bay. Wm. W. Jones who has lived in Farmington, but makes Alton Bay his home at present, showed some women's clothing and offered it for sale, which led to his arrest at Farmington, on Tuesday evening, by Sheriff Barnard on complaint of Geo. C. Kimball, Esq., Supt. of the road. The barn of Hiram W. French, where Jones sometimes stopped, was searched, and in a few minutes the trunk was found, secreted in the hay, broken open and robbed. Jones was taken to the jail in Dover, the same evening, and will be brought before the Police Court as soon as the owner of the trunk can appear. It is understood that the evidence is conclusive against Jones. He is considered a hard character, has been guilty of similar offences before, and has been several times in Dover jail.

Since writing the above, an accomplice, Charles E. Cooley, has been arrested, who confesses the whole transaction. Cooley has been committed.—Dover Enquirer.

☞ Doesticks has been on a visit to Boston, and commends the boys there, as he says:—

They have not once consigned me to that place of warm temperature wih which the boys of our own city, appear to be prematurely acquainted. This latter omission was a great relief, for in New York, a man is so often told by youngsters, to "Go to —," the place unmentionable, that he might naturally suppose the juveniles were all employed by Satan to recommend his accommodations to strangers; or that they owned building lots in that torrid locality, and from interested motives were anxious to encourage immigration.

☞ The Missouri Democrat, at St. Louis, has more than doubled its circulation, since it espoused the interest of free white labor.

☞ The New York Tribune complains of the decrease in the circulation of its weekly paper, owing to the hostility of the Democratic Postmasters in the Western States.

☞ The salary of the governor of the English colony of Victoria is fifty thousand dollars a year, with a snug little retiring salary annexed.

☞ At the Newburyport Lyceum, Gen. Cushing has accepted an invitation to deliver the opening lecture; and among others engaged, are Theodore Parker, Mr. Dix, Dr. Chapin of New York, Rev. Wm. R. Alger, and others equally celebrated.

MEANNESS.—If there is any human action which deserves to be called meanness, it is to take a paper, get trusted for it one, two, or three years; then, without paying for it or asking to have the amount due given to them, and the paper stopped, refuse to take it from the Post Office, or move away and leave the paper still to be sent to their former place of residence.

One year ago, when we took charge of the Era, a bill was sent to a subscriber who was owing for the paper for three years. The bill was at once returned to the office with this endorsement: "Mr. — —— has been dead two years and a half. Please stop the paper." Certainly the dead man did not read the paper all the time; if he did, he could pay for it.

Week before last, three different postmasters sent us notice that a subscriber refused to take his paper from the office. On looking at their accounts, we found each of them owing for the Era over fourteen months. We have written them, but they have not noticed our letters. Such subscribers should be known to publishers, and it is our purpose in future, to publish their names and residence. We believe it is our duty to do it; and we shall include the three already referred to, unless we hear from them soon. From this week's paper, however, we withhold their names. Boston Christian Era.

We are grieved to say that there are some of that same sort of "mean men" in New Hampshire. We think of publishing a similar list of delinquents on our Weekly list soon—(on our Daily list we think there is not one who owes us even for a year.) And it is not often we give anybody a chance to have a one-sided account with us for three years.

All readers should know that (in law as in common honesty) if they take a paper from a post office or elsewhere, they are bound to pay for it; and if they don't take it, the postmaster must notify the publisher.

THE WOLF COMETH.—In the Christian Era, we read the following item, being part of a Report of the late Meeting of the Meredith Baptist Association, held at Danbury, N. H.

The Conway Church complains of being in a deplorable condition; rent and scattered, as they say, by political preaching. One ministering brother at the Association, prayed that if there were political preachers, they might repent and preach politics no more.

Pro-slavery papers, east and west, north and south, please copy.

☞ "Surgeon" writes to the Transcript that the legs of a horse can be as securely splintered as those of a man, and with as good a result. He thinks that it should be generally known that the art of surgery is as applicable to the lower animals as to man, and that their reparative powers are even better.

On FRIDAY, at half-past 9 o'cl'k—PLOWING MATCH.
At 11 o'clock, ADDRESS, at the Field.

A Good Band of Music will be in attendance.

ADMISSION.—Members of the Society will have one free admittance to the Field and Hall. All others will be charged an admission fee.
Single Tickets, admitting to the Hall, 10 cents;
do. to the Field, 10 cents.

Premiums will not be paid until 30 days after the exhibition.

Pens will be provided on the Field, for the exhibition of the Stock; and posts to which working oxen may be attached—and the owners are requested to bring chains for that purpose. Owners of Bulls must be provided with rings and chains.

Stock will be numbered, and the same numbers will be put on tickets, which will be delivered to those who enter Stock at any time between the time of entry and 9 o'clock on the day of the show. No person will be allowed to put his stock into any pen except that designated on his ticket.

All competitors for premiums who are not members of the Society, will be required to pay $1 at the time of entry—except for Plowing, which will be $5.

Two days' previous notice being given to the Secretary, provision will be made for keeping the stock previous to the show, animals which may be driven or transported more than five miles—reckoning from the residence of the owner to the place of exhibition.

Hay will be provided for the animals through the exhibition.

The Field will be enclosed by a fence.

No article to which has been awarded a premium, will be afterwards entitled to the same or a lower premium; and no gratuity will be awarded in any case where a premium is offered.

No highest premium will be awarded in any case, unless the article is of superior quality; and no premium will be awarded merely for want of competition.

Notice should be given as soon as possible to the Secretary, of entries for premiums. No entries can be made after 9 o'clock on the first day of the Fair.

☞ The Ladies of the County are invited to contribute to the Exhibition, articles of home manufacture—Specimens of Needlework, Painting, Drawing, Flowers, and the like.

A special Committee has been appointed, with authority to award $25 in Premiums for such objects.

LOCAL.

MUNICIPAL.—Thursday Evening, Sept. 17.—In Board of Aldermen, an application from Charles Robinson & Son for a chamber over Spring Market, for a store house, was granted.

A communication was received from the Common Council stating that that Board was then in session, and was ready for any business that might be transmitted to it.

The Committee on Fire Department to whom was referred the subject relative to the condition of the hose of Laconia Engine Co., reported that said Company needed new hose much. The report was accepted, and sent to the Common Council.

The following resolution was received from the Common Council:

Resolved, That the Committee on Fire Department be authorized to purchase 500 feet of hose for the use of the city, and that the expense of the same be paid out of any monies in the Treasury, not otherwise appropriated. Adjourned.

☞ It will be seen by our advertising columns that it has been decided to hold the Rockingham Fair in Portsmouth, Oct. 1st and 2d. The location of the field is not yet determined.

☞ The Committee of Arrangements for the County Fair, met on Thursday evening at Mr. Preston's store, and appointed the necessary sub-committees. The adjourned meeting of citizens, appointed for Saturday evening, is considered unnecessary, and will probably not be held. All the arrangements are being perfected, and our people may be certain of a "good time" on the 1st and 2d of October.

☞ The Massebesic Engine Company, of Manchester, with the Manchester Cornet Band, came hither from Portland, in the Thursday afternoon train, and were received by Piscataqua Company—as arranged.

The whole appeared finely, on the march, and all drilled well. Our Fours looked neat and trim; and compared with the handsomely-uniformed Fours of Manchester, full as well as does the pay of the members of the two companies.

There are 48 of the Manchester Company, and 16 members of a company in Biddeford (where they made a short stay on Thursday) came with them. In the Massebesic Company are seven printers!—Our Piscataqua boys received their guests in good style. At Biddeford, when the Massabesics first learned from the Daily Chronicle, that there was to be a Ball, they gave long and loud cheers for the Portsmouth Firemen.

The Manchester Band is getting to be quite well known and appreciated among us, and is amply able to speak for itself.—It has a style of its own, and excels, for street playing, most bands we ever heard. Much of their success is doubtless owing to the skill and taste of Mr. Goodwin, the teacher of music, who is a member of this band.

The Ball at Congress Hall, last evening, was well attended, and all passed off pleasantly and satisfactorily.

REFEREE CASE.—The suit of Frank T. Pickering versus James A. Pickering and Joshua R. Pickering, is on trial to-day at the Court House, before W. W. Stickney, Ira St. Clair, and W. H. Y. Hackett, referees. It is expected that this reference will terminate a long-protracted controversy. Wells and Goodall for plff., Emery and Rollins for deft.

"PORTSMOUTH ADVERTISER."—The first number of a neat little newspaper with this title has just been issued by Mr. Charles C. Harvey, Exchange Buildings. It contains much useful and entertaining matter relative to musical instruments, a generous sprinkling of interesting literary matter, and the advertisements of some of our most enterprising business men. It is designed for gratuitous circulation throughout Rockingham and York counties, and is gotten up in good style.

☞ "Sensitious'" "poetical effusion in the night, about a big drum," will appear to-morrow. Good! "We hate the drum's discordant sound."

THE MANY CURES OF DYSPEPSIA and kindred diseases performed by the Oxygenated Bitters, after all other remedies have failed, should be sufficient to induce any one, suffering from these complaints, to give the medicine a trial.

☞ The wedding pocket handkerchief of the English princess royal is worth £500 (or $2500) it is said.

The saying of a White Mountain stage driver, to a New Yorker sitting with him: "I s'pose it I went deawn to York, I should geawk round, jest as you folks deu here," is not bad.

MARRIED.

In this city, Sept. 15th, by Rev. L. Whiting, Mr. Hiram Pierce to Miss Annie S. Blake, both of Portland, Me.

DIED.

In Pittsfield, N. H., Sept 14th, Andrew Mack, son of Dr. W. H. and Ellen S. Mack, aged 4 years and 6 months.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound. Molasses for 40 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices, the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cts.; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. aug18 tf

Dr. Wilson's Dysentery Powders are a Medicine long needed. Persons are often suddenly attacked with Dysentery, Diarrhea, and Cholera Morbus, without being able to procure medical assistance, until the disease has completely prostrated the patient. No family should be without these Powders. One, taken in the first stages of the disease will almost invariably check it. They are perfectly safe and effectual. For sale by J. H. Thacher and Wm. R. Preston. aug25 3w

RATS, ROACHES, BED BUGS, INSECTS, &c. "Costar's" Rat, Roach, &c., Exterminator; "Costar's" Bed Bug Exterminator; "Costar's" Electric Powder, for Ants, Insects, &c. (The only infallible remedies known.) "Costar" sends by mail, prepaid, a Sample Box of the Rat, Roach, &c., EXT. to any address in the U. S., on receipt of $1, or the Electric Powder for 65c.—(The Bed Bug EXT., being a liquid cannot be sent by mail.)

"Costar" will furnish Druggists, Dealers and Store keepers, a $10 sample package of his various preparations (assorted) with Circulars, Bills, Posters, &c., on receipt of $5, (leaving bal. of $5 due when sold,) in order that they may test their merits.

See Advertisement. For Circulars, &c., address "Costar," No. 388 Broadway, New York.

THE MOST SKEPTICAL PEOPLE Can be convinced by trial that all the family medicines are not humbug, and that among the thousands of utterly useless preparations, there are a few of great merit and undoubted worth. Of these, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, stands first and foremost among the remedies of the day; that can be relied on as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its proprietors. It advertises itself on every trial, for there are none who use it but tell their friends to do so, and so it goes from mouth to mouth, till all the people of the Union have learned the good of this truly valuable medicine. It is recommend, by testimonials to prove its virtue, for the cure of liver complaints of every kind, from the worst Dyspepsia to a common headache, and is particularly adapted to Jaundice, Deranged Stomach, Bowel Complaints, and diseases of Children.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!! MOTHERS!!! AN OLD NURSE FOR CHILDREN.

DON'T fail to procure Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. It has no equal on Earth. No mother who has ever tried Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children will ever consent to let her child pass through the distressing and critical period of teething without the aid of this invaluable preparation. If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of Bottles of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.—None genuine unless the fac simile of "Curtis & Perkins" is on the outside wrapper.

Morning Chronicle.

TOMB OF DAVID.—The mysteries of the Tomb of David are at last revealed to the Christian world by an ingenious ruse of Miss Barclay, for some years a resident of Jerusalem. This adventurous lady, after having visited the harem enclosure at the risk of her life, determined to explore, in the disguise of a Turkish lady, the very tomb of the "Prophet David," for more than six centuries in the jealous custody of the Turks.

The blind Dervise who kept the entrance to this sacred spot was deceived by the familiar use of the Arabic language, as well as the assurance of her friend, in the person of a liberal-minded and very beautiful Turkish girl, who initiated her as a pilgrim from Constantinople, come to perform her devotions at the shrines of their lords and prophets, David and Solomon. Her devotional feelings were put to a strong test on observing this devotee of Islam take the saturated wick of an oil lamp and deliberately devour it as an act of religious devotion. After her form of prayer had ended, she raised the splendid silken canopy overhanging the tumulus containing the body of David, and there, in royal state, was the veritable sarcophagus of David, having its marble cover adorned with the most beautiful festoons of grapes, the emblem of the Jewish architecture, and other ancient devices, which she carefully transferred to paper, to be presented to the public in the pages of the "City of the Great King," soon to make its appearance.

No traces of its ancient treasures, that have so often been pillaged by the eastern monarchs, remained. Hyrcanus, the son of Simon the Maccabee, is said to have despoiled it of three thousand talents, prior to its exploration by Herod the Great, who, when he had penetrated these mansions of the dead, found nothing to gratify his cupidity save some furniture of gold, which he carried away. At another time rolling balls of fire are said to have burst forth, and by the superstitious believed to have consumed the seekers of bullion and treasure said to be inhumed there even at the present day. This interesting and tabooed spot, as well as the Mosque of Omar, will soon be open to Christian inspection without Turkish let or hindrance, as the writer of this hasty sketch (furnished by Miss B.) is already satisfied from personal experience in his explorations of the latter though not less sacred edifice.—Philadelphia Ledger.

☞ Too much haste makes bad speed.—A late English writer, Mr. Stirling, in comparing American workmanship with English, says:

Twenty-five thousand miles of railways intersect the American continent—they cross swamps and mountains, the St. Lawrence and the Mississippi—but their frail trestle-work is continually coming down; their bridges are crazy, their roads often unballasted, their whole apparatus flimsy. The consequence is, you enter their cars with fear and trembling, and thank God at your journey's end. I need not dwell on river and lake steamers; a prudent man makes his will before he goes on board.—And so it goes on, down to the minutest article of domestic use throughout this country. There is not a lock that catches, not a hinge that turns; knives will not cut, and matches will not light. The doors will not shut, the windows will not open; and all this is made more striking and provoking by its contrast with the pretension to finish and refinement. You sit on a fine velvet sofa, and are startled by coming down on a spring as hard as a cricket ball. The hotel, whose doors are creaking and windows gaping, is gilt and carpeted like a palace; and the Mississippi steamboat, on which you are snagged and blown up, is gilt and painted, and goes twenty miles an hour; you cannot sail to destruction in greater luxury or at greater speed.

GOV. MARCY AND SMALL BILLS.—Gov. Marcy had a very small opinion of theoretical politicians, and once pleasantly related the following mistake of his own as an instance in point:

The first time I saw Col. Pratt was when I was Governor, in the days of Jackson's administration. I was seated in the Executive Chamber, preparing some State papers, when the Colonel came in, accompanied by the Senator from his district. After an introduction, among other subjects the conversation turned upon a bill I had recommended to the Legislature for the prohibition of all small bills under the denomination of five dollars. I approved the measure and spoke in its favor. The Col., with the native frankness so characteristic of him, replied, "You will undo us, Governor, you will undo us, if you press that law upon the Legislature! We business men know the value of having small bills to pay small debts; such a law will ruin us in the State." I said, "I guess you will have to take it, Colonel." Well, the law was passed that winter, and you all know what a storm it raised in the State. The ensuing fall I ran for Governor again, and Billy Seward beat me by a large majority. A short time after the election, I happened to be at Catskill, and there I met the Colonel, and I could not help telling him that if I had listened to his advice and suggestion, I would have been better off and served another term as Governor. He relished the incident greatly.

Daniel Pratt, Jr., the great American traveller, has paid a visit to President Buchanan's house at Wheatland. In a letter to the Lancaster, Pa., Times, he says:—"I thought to myself, if I owned such a fine residence, and was able to keep it, I would try to find a lady to take me by the hand in mutual matrimony, for a wife."

IT IS NOT A DYE.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Tansey & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything is conducted in the fairest and most honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they lived in Baltimore or present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are kept up with the regularity of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 $20. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner, in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the state of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for improvement, the business of Lottery is a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every day throughout the year, and orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number to each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $60 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full, no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scurfs, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (scuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and strikingly white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and scalp. Some three of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and virtues are entirely removed, and I can, and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of age, fogs or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you in Hillsdale before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the owner lost its color in age, to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BRYSON, ex-Senator, U. S.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: possesses intensatory power whatever, be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids, which is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin, dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and has been used with never failing success.

The Carminative is emphatically

as it is the only Child's Medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and in various cases fatal Paregoric, a remedy cure to be followed by a "dose of physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded, are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour stomachs, relaxed bowels and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

One regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all. Price only 25 cents

Parents who value rest should not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "troubled children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain in restoring nature to its proper action in every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular: and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, are what always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "WHITES." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No 4581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their residence by return mail.

LAND WARRANTS!

FROM SIAM.

Official advices from Commander Foote of the sloop-of-war Portsmouth, dated off Menam river, Siam, June 16, state that on arriving there he proceeded in the king's steamer to Bangkok, with Consul Bradley, the bearer of the treaty concluded between the United States and Siam. During their stay they were presented to the two kings of the country, and were received with marked consideration by the members of the court. The second king, by invitation, visited the Portsmouth, it being the first instance of a King of Siam going on board a foreign vessel.

The kings sent a present of lamp oil, rice, sugar, dried fish, and fruit to the ship, for which payment was positively declined.

Commander Foote is of the opinion that the treaties between Siam, Great Britain, France and the United States, are rapidly developing the resources of that country. Several vessels were about leaving for the United States, with sugar, which is the chief staple of the country.

☞ The Manchester (England) Alliance News, of Sept. 15, says:

The Working Men's Council in aid of the Alliance in Manchester(Eng.) resolved to invite Hon. Neal Dow to a soiree of the working classes which they propose to hold in Manchester on his return from the continent. They intend upon that occasion to present a working men's address to their esteemed friend and benefactor.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the shortest notice, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
Testimonials.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MAGRUDER,
Commissioner of Patents.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk
Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the common spikes of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

MECHANIC ASSOCIATION.—The Association has voted to have some sort of a Celebration of their anniversary early in October, and have left the details to a committee of arrangements. The best arrangement would be, to come out in the procession which will be formed at the time the County Fair is held in this city, and give their influence as a body to add interest to the occasion. A hundred dollars spent in aid of the fair would be far more satisfactory to the Society, than to spend in an hour's gratification of the appetite double the sum over a dinner table, at a dollar a head. To give encouragement to manufactures is one of the legitimate objects of the Society which they have rarely had opportunity to bring into exercise. An opportunity is now presented—in which the Association can do credit to themselves and benefit a good cause.

LYCEUM.—We are gratified to learn that the Mercantile Library Association have made arrangements for a course of lectures the coming winter, the programme of which will be issued in due time. We can only say that for the opening evening ALBERT LAIGHTON has been invited to prepare a Poem. The services of the evening will be attended by the appropriate instrumental music of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, and MRS. WENTWORTH will give several of her choice songs.

We like the domestic spirit of this commencement, and trust that the committee for selecting lecturers will keep so near home that none will be invited from distant parts on that doubtful fame which many professional lecturers are too active in manufacturing for themselves. There are some very acceptible abroad who are familiar to a Portsmouth audience, and ever acceptable—but the effort to bring in the costly novelties of last winter was generally a most lamentable failure.

Messrs. Editors,—Passing through Charleston, S. C., on my way to N. Orleans, I was present at the sale of an interesting family of mulattos, by a Jew auctioneer; and the indignation I then felt will never be effaced from my memory.

The family consisted of five persons, three males and two females, all of adult age, and were said to be a part of the estate of a person lately deceased. The slaves no sooner made their appearance than there was an examination of their respective merits, by feeling their arms, looking at their teeth, and ascertaining the strength of their hands and ancles. They were well clothed, and the women even had bonnets and shoes. The three men and one of the women were sold separately at high prices, for the auctioneer gave them excellent characters, and they looked healthy.

The last placed on the auction block was a young woman of about twenty years of age. She had a modest, downcast look, and was evidently infirm. She spoke not, nor offered any resistance to the rough handling of the buyers. She was recommended by the seller as a good cook, washer and ironer, nurse, &c.—but no one bid for her.

"Gentlemen," asked the auctioneer, "why do you not bid? she is worth more than the woman just now sold, for she can do everything." But still no one bid. The salesman grew furious, and recapitulated her excellent qualities, with many appeals to his "sacred honor." All others were silent. At length, a gentleman who stood very near the woman, asked her what ailed her? She said she was subject to fits. The auctioneer exclaimed—"it is one —— lie" He then reached down (for he stood above and behind her) and raised her bonnet from her face, and said in a most insulting manner, "you are pious—you preach don't you?" She made no reply, and was after much delay, knocked off at about half the sum the other woman brought. C. T.

Gen. Pillow has recently addressed a remarkable letter to the people of Tennessee. It makes some extraordinary development in relation to the War with Mexico, and will no doubt elicit a reply from Gen. Scott. Gen. Pillow, it appears, is a candidate for the United States Senate, and preferring his claims for that responsible station, he has deemed it proper to review some of the most striking events in the struggle between the United States and Mexico, and to give a detailed account of an alleged effort to bribe Santa Anna.—This secret story is full of curious interest. It is charged first, that in conjunction with Mr. Trist, the Commissioner appointed by President Polk to accompany the army with authority to negotiate a Treaty of Peace with the Government of Mexico whenever the incidents of the war should induce them to accept terms of pacification, Gen. Scott entered into arrangement with General Santa Anna, by which that celebrated Chief was induced, by the offer of the enormous bribe of a million of dollars, to bring the war to an immediate close, by concluding a treaty with with the United States on satisfactory terms.—Gen. Pillow, states that in fact, ten thousand dollars of this stipulated bribe was actually paid to Santa Anna, in advance, and that the consummation by which an additional million was to be paid, was defeated only by the active interference of Gen. Pillow himself. The arrangement, however, he asserts, was so far carried into effect by Gen. Scott in opposition to the protestations of General Pillow, aided by General Worth, that after the successful battles of Contreras and Churubusco, an armistice was agreed to by General Scott for fifteen days, although it had not been asked for by the enemy, and that this armistice delayed the movement of the American army, during that period, and thereby enabled the enemy to remove his heavy artillery, and to reorganize and rescue his army by the addition of a large number of men; in consequence of which, the advantages of those two battles were lost, and in subsequent operations the American army was subjected to the sacrifice of a great number of its bravest men.

It is further alleged, that on the close of the campaign, which soon followed, and while Gen. Pillow was prostrated on a bed of sickness, which continued for several months, he was arrested—deprived of his sword—his gallant division was taken from his command, and ordered to remote positions in the interior of Mexico—and he was confined a prisoner in the city of Mexico, where he remained for ninety days, and until released by order of the President,—and further, that after a long investigation of the charges against him, his reputation was triumphantly vindicated, in a manner that overwhelmed his enemies and persecutors with shame and falsehood."

These are, indeed, startling allegations, and are naturally calculated to produce a sensation. The Treaty of Gaudalupe, it will be remembered, took place under circumstances somewhat singular, and after Mr. Trist had been recalled. When President Polk communicated the Treaty, he thus alluded to the recall:—

"I deem it my duty to state that the recall of Mr. Trist as Commissioner of the United States, of which Congress was informed in my annual message, was dictated by a belief that his continued presence with the army could be productive of no good, but might do much harm by encouraging the delusive hopes and false impressions of the Mexicans; and this recall would satisfy Mexico that the United States had no terms of peace more favorable to offer."

The Senate, while in Executive Session, asked the President to communicate all the correspondence with Mr. Trist after his arrival in Mexico. This was done, but said correspondence was confidential, and no part of it has since been published. The developments of Gen. Pillow will probably lead to a thorough investigation.—Phil. Enq.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1857.

☞ We have seen a very general fault finding, in the newspapers of all sorts almost, with the juries, at the late session of the S. J. Court in Concord. The Statesman, for one, found fault; and we published the item.

Now, the Patriot, of the 16th, turns round, and fights the fault-finders, especially the Statesman, and says:

If as honest and intelligent men as composed the juries at the last term, are not "suitable" for jurymen, where shall we find men, who, in the Statesman's opinion, are so?

Yet the same Patriot, of two weeks before, published the most crushing condemnation of the jury in one case, which we have seen from any quarter. We republished the condemnation verbatim from the Patriot. It was to this purpose:

Lucy A. Warner, went clear, though guilty of fornication.—No counsel having been employed by her, Col. George, with his customary generosity, volunteered to defend her. The evidence for the State showed her guilt, beyond any reasonable doubt.—But Col. George, for the defence, set up, says the Patriot, [please mark the words,—"A plausible theory enough, but sadly lacking evidence to sustain it. However, the jury were not satisfied of the guilt of the respondent, and failed to agree, standing "six and six."

Now if we can understand words at all, this means that the jury by disagreement, gave her a virtual acquittal, against good evidence, but on account of a mere plausible theory, without evidence, by the Patriot's own showing!

And yet, if these men were not honest, intelligent, and suitable, where can such men be found? Alas, indeed, where?

If the jurors who give verdicts contrary to evidence and without evidence, are not good jurors—who can be good?

Uncle Toby does not know one of these jurors. He judges them by their works—and he judges those works by the report which he read in the Patriot. If this Report be true, half that jury were better fit for the jail or hospital than for the jury box. Neither knaves nor fools should sit there.

THE DEMOCRATS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The Newburyport Herald says, speaking of their State Convention:—"The Convention was large, having 795 delegates, representing 305 towns, and was most thoroughly partizan in its resolutions, speeches, and all its action. It endorsed the administration, the Nebraska bill, and the Dred Scott decision; it condemned Americanism and Republicanism as alike hostile to the democratic party and democratic principles; and especially their speakers urged that no toleration should be shown to Gardnerism as a choice of evils in the State government.

The democrats, as we have said, have presented an unexceptionable ticket, all their candidates being substantial men of good character and abilities, who are cut off from election simply by the intermixture of State and national politics. The people of Massachusetts are not in favor of the administration, and still less partial to the Nebraska act, and least of all pleased with the Dred Scott decision; and therefore Democratic views upon State policy will be overlooked and lost."

The above comes very near being a true bill. Mr. Beach last year had 40,000 votes for Governor; Gardner 92,000; Gordon 10,000; Bell 7000, Quincy 5000; scattering 1200.

This year Banks, republican; Gardner, American; and Beach, democrat, are the candidates. Mr. Scattering, and some others, will join in the chorus. Banks seems likely to lead.

YORK COUNTY, ME.—The Portland Argus of Friday, says:—the full returns from York County give Mr. Morrill a plurality of 348. We do not perceive, from the returns of the few towns in that County, which we have of the Senatorial vote, that there is much difference between the vote for Governor and that for Senators, and are of the opinion that the whole republican ticket in that county is elected.

In Washington County, the vote is very close, and nothing but the official returns can decide as to who are elected Senators in that county.

POOR CHANCE FOR PAY.—Judge Green, of the First District Court, in New York, has decided that the members of the old police, who served under Mayor Wood, after the Metropolitan Police Act went into operation, must get their pay from the Board of Commissioners, if from anybody. As the most noticeable services rendered by them was breaking the heads of those who went over to the standard of the Commissioners, they will probably have to wait awhile for their per diem.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 16.

Before Justice Odell.—Catharine Crowley was accused of assaulting Ellen Sullivan on the 12th inst., pulling her hair, biting her arm, and other wrongs. Plea not guilty. Found guilty; fined $2; costs 6,88, and ordered to give $30 bonds to keep the peace. The prisoner was committed.—One of the fruits of strong drink among Irish women.

The same Catharine accused Ellen Sullivan of making a brawl,—but the evidence did not support the charge—and Ellen was discharged.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of war Falmouth arrived in Lower Harbor Thursday night, about 12 o'clock, from Norfolk, 11 days out. She is to be taken into the Dock and repaired, and the most of her crew will probably be transferred to the U. S. sloop-of-war Vandalia, which is to be immediately rigged and sent to sea.

The Falmouth is under command of Capt. E. Farrand, and is recently from a cruise on the coast of Brazil.

It was rumored here that the Falmouth had the yellow fever on board, but we learn that the report is wholly unfounded.

GREAT SHIPWRECK.

A Charleston, S. C., dispatch of the 17th, says:—"The steamship Thomas Swann, from New York, has arrived here, and reports having spoken on the 15th inst., about 15 miles north of Cape Hatteras, the Norwegian bark Eloise, which had on board forty passengers of the steamship Central America, who stated that the Central America foundered on the 12th inst., with 500 passengers on board, only 60 of whom were saved. Nothing is mentioned concerning the specie."

It appears from the New York papers that the Central America was well guarded against accidents of all kinds, and amply provided with means of safety in case of disaster. She had on board plenty of life-boats, life-preservers, and means for the instantaneous construction of rafts; and also two of Worthington's patent steam pumps, and two or three force-pumps for use in case of fire. Her specie, about one million six hundred thousand dollars, is insured, principally in London.

The steamer Atlanta, which arrived at New York from Charleston last Saturday, reported that on Monday 13th inst. off Cape Lookout, she passed a quantity of wrecked material, supposed to be a steamer's wheel-house, and house on deck; it seems probable that these things belonged to the Central America.

The Central America had 535 passengers, and 104 officers and crew. She is said to have had on board two millions of treasure, including 400,000 remitted from Havana, which is principally insured in London.

SAFETY PLATFORM.—A new contrivance for the safety of railway passengers, is thus noticed in the Boston Courier.

Happening at the Eastern Railroad station, we noticed a new arrangement by which passengers are prevented from falling between the cars, when they are in motion. It is called the Safety Platform, and is simple in its construction, not liable to get out of order, and is found to answer admirably, the design for which it is intended. No matter whether the cars are drawn apart to the utmost tension of the drawbars, or as close up as possible, the effect is the same, for by no means can a person fall to the ground. By the general application of this invention it would seem that all this class of accidents might be prevented. This arrangement is attached to the easy, sixteen-wheel cars of the Portland train. The Eastern road is always ready to adopt any invention of utility and real merit.

NEBRASKA AFFAIRS.—St. Louis Sept. 17.—The Board of Canvassers which met at Omaha City, Nebraska, on the 5th inst. decided on the election of a Delegate to Congress. After denying the authority to investigate the illegal returns or to correct the frauds of certain Mormon precincts, the Board gave Mr. Ferguson a certificate of election over Mr. Chapman by 40 votes. Mr. Chapman will contest the seat.

Fire.—Yesterday afternoon a fire broke out in Eleventh, near Market street, and before the flames could be subdued, every building in the block was destroyed.

The extensive lumber yards of William Morrison, and Wright & Co., containing between 2 and 3,000 feet of lumber, were also destroyed.

The total loss is estimated at $150,000. The amount of insurance not ascertained; doubtless small.

NORFOLK, Sept. 18.—The barque Eloise arrived at Hampton Roads this morning. She rescued 50 passengers, including 26 females. The officers of the steamer are all lost, excepting Frazer, the second mate. The chief engineer took a boat and deserted the vessel.

All the specie, about two millions, is lost. The Central America foundered at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening. The rescued passengers were taken from pieces of the wreck.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want.

THE MOST SKEPTICAL PEOPLE Can be convinced by trial that all the family medicines are not humbug, and that among the thousand of butterfly life, there are a few of great merit and undoubted worth. Of these, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, stands first and foremost among the remedies of the day; that can be relied on as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its proprietors. It advertises itself on every trial, for there are none who use it but tell their friends to do so, and so it goes from mouth to mouth, till all the people of the Union have had the good of this truly valuable medicine. Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, as sweet, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

An amount of Heat required,

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed, without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel over any other Stove.

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH THE ENTIRE SEASON,

S. J. COURT, HILLSBOROUGH CO.

AMHERST, Sept. 14.—The Grand Jury made their final report on Saturday morning, and were dismissed. To-day, the Court opened with the trial of criminal cases. Robert Young of Piscataquog, was found guilty on two indictments for liquor selling. Damon Y. Stearns of Amoskeag, failed to appear, and his bonds of $500 were declared forfeited. Daniel Farmer, Jr., was one of the sureties. Cornelius Foley was also found guilty. W. K. Stearns was tried for passing counterfeit money, but the jury have not yet returned their verdict.—Manchester American.

All the cases for keeping liquor for sale, which in Manchester, included the cases of Ebenezer Clark, Dennis Cochran, Horace Bonney and Jacob Whittier, Charles Clough, Charles W. Hurd, Patrick Shehan, and Thomas Welch, were continued to the next term of the Court, on account of questions now pending before the Superior Court.—Mirror.

THE ESSEX COUNTY TEMPERANCE SOCIETY held a meeting at Salisbury and Amesbury Mills, on Wednesday. The morning session was held in the Universalist church, and the afternoon and evening at the Baptist meeting house. Throughout the day the meetings were well attended, and the exercises were of the most interesting character.

John G. Whittier, as chairman of the business committee, reported a series of resolutions which were debated and supported with considerable enthusiasm.—Rev. Messrs. Beman, Rand, Barnaby, Finney, Thompson, Byram, and Dr. Tuttle, took a part in the discussion. Rev. Mr. Byram, and Hon. D. P. Pike, who presided in the absence of Prof. Stowe, president of the society, took a very active part in the proceedings.

Not the least interesting of these exercises was the reports from the different towns in the county. The reform was represented as advancing, and the people in most of the towns are waking up to the importance of the temperance question. The Society elected a number of delegates to the State Convention, and adjourned to hold its next meeting in Haverhill.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Doesticks says, "Boston is crookeder than nine acres of ram's horns, and has got more corners than a cord of cross-cut saws. The streets look as if they had been made somewhere else, and dumped here in a huge tangle, and nobody had ever taken the trouble to straighten them out again. It looks as if somebody had been building a lot of cities by contract, and the job had not come out even, and he had thrown down his remnants of streets, and odd ends of alleys, and little snipped off bits of lanes and avenues, and called it Boston. If any street in the town should be cut straight a mile in any direction, it would go through a dozen private parlors and forty-five public music halls. In fact, Boston looks as if first rate material for an excellent city had been melted and poured through a seive on a side hill, and left to cool."

☞ At the Taunton, Mass. Baptist Association, Sept. 9, addresses were made by brethren Parkhurst and Aldrich in behalf of Home and Foreign Missions; by Bro. Jennings in behalf of the Tract Society; and Bro. Crawford in behalf of a niger, for whose emancipation from slavery he is laboring. A collection was taken for the last named object, amounting to $23.65.

A MODEL ALDERMAN.—A lady was robbed in New York on Tuesday, while walking on Broadway, near Ninth street. The thief ran down Ninth street, and the lady after him, hallooing loudly. Alderman Blunt rushed from his residence and joined the chase, bobbing around Fifth avenue, University place, Tenth and other streets, until he finally collared the thief, and led him off to the temple of justice in Jefferson Market. This is the third time that the Alderman has so distinguished himself.

☞ Madame Goldschmidt (Jenny Lind) recently gave her lord another daughter.—It is said that the family will soon return to England. Mrs. Goldschmidt's voice, it is said has neither lost in quantity nor quality, and she would not refuse the offer of another musical tour through the United States.

AN ALCOHOL SUCKER.—On Wednesday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, the police of the Boston harbor station found an Irishman named Humphrey Donahoe lying insensible on one of the wharves. From appearances he had applied a straw to the bung hole of a barrel of alcohol, and sucked from it until he became exhausted.—There is but little hope of his recovery, for in five hours after he was discovered he remained in the same stupor.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and the commissioners elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and carefully direct everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as carefully and safely guarded themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled from the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No distinct scheme is drawn, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, (no more than Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; Union, of the Nation; Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C. Address T. H. HUBBARD & CO.,

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Maryland, and the commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There are no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to prize winners.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Every prize drawn plainly, and distinct. S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m15ly

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much talk of the wonderful virtues of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced me to try of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white, and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using and testifying to its efficacy, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CARLTON, ILL., June 28, 1852.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Bloomington before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending it to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, premature gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BERRIEN, ex-Senator, U. S.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: relieves INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—Whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids, which is the potency that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a needle dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and has been used with never failing success.

The Carminative is emphatically

and is the only Child's Medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "dose of physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded, are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; a cure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all. PRICE 25 cents.

Parents who value rest should not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and tend to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and sickly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably relieve all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, losses of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. They are prepared purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No 4 581, Post Office, New York City, may have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ George R. Lewis, who shot his wife at Wrentham, Mass., receives much commiseration from his neighbors, who speak unfavorably of his deceased wife, as unchaste, and the same of her mother and grandmother. One Barrows, an ex-pedlar, who was caught with Mrs. Lewis, should have been shot with her. Lewis is arrested, and will be tried.

A correspondent of the Boston Herald, of the 15th, says:—

The business of shooting wives appears to be in favor here at this time, and is having an epidemical run. Last evening, a worthless, drunken fellow, named Willis Ballou, living in the vicinity of the Lewis tragedy, attempted to rid himself of his wife by shooting her with a gun. The fellow was crazy drunk at the time, and the loud cries of the menaced woman attracted the attention of the neighbors, who went to the house and disarmed the wretch before he could accomplish his murderous purpose. Had it not been for the timely interposition of the neighbors, the town would have been disgraced and horrified by another wife-murder.

A MAN ROBBED OF $1500.—Two men named Thomas A. Williams and James Webber were arrested by the Boston police on Wednesday night, charged with robbing Benjamin Yerxa of $1500, at a house of ill repute kept by Elizabeth Erwin, at No. 6. Edicott street. Yerxa came here a few days ago, from New Brunswick having with him about $1500 in money, which he imprudently showed at various bar-rooms which he visited, thereby inducing Williams and Webber to lay a plan for robbing him of it. They easily managed to make the acquaintance of Yerxa, and then induced him to visit the house of Mrs. Erwin, where liquors, probably drugged, were given him, until he became completely stupefied, when he was put to bed. His money was then easily obtained, and on awakening it was missed by Yerxa, who could obtain no satisfaction for his loss from the keeper of the house. He accordingly notified the police of the circumstances, and on Wednesday evening Williams and Webber were arrested, and the next morning Mrs. Erwin was also arrested. About $1300 of the stolen money has been recovered from Webber and Mrs. Erwin.

PRESENT TO "ETAH."—Next Tuesday evening a silver collar is to be formally presented to Dr. Kane's dog "Etah" who is attached to the exhibition at the Melodeon. It is of solid silver, and upon the centre is inscribed, "Presented to Dr. Kane's Dog 'Etah,' by Wm. Morton's Many Friends in Boston, Sept. 23d, 1857." At the right and left of this are the Masonic and Sons of Malta Emblems raised in bold relief, are representations of the Polar Bear, Wm. Morton with sledge and dogs, an Esquimaux javelin, a native hut amid icebergs, the brig "Advance," and "Etah" himself. It was manufactured by Harding & Co., at a cost of $100, and will be an elegant and appropriate gift to a very worthy animal. Even the heavy padlock is solid silver. It is expected that "Etah" will respond to the presentation address, if not otherwise, at least with a graceful bow.—Cour.

SALE OF THE WHITON FARM.—This farm, reckoned one of the best in the State, was sold yesterday. It lies on the east bank of the Pemigwasset, one mile east of Plymouth village, and contains 217 acres.—The purchaser is an Englishman. Six or eight gentlemen were present as competitors. Ex-President Pierce bid $17,000, a New Yorker $17,500, when the Englishman who had quietly dropped in among them, added $500 more and took the farm for $18,000. He also bought "Fairmeadow," a tract of 25 acres, for which he paid $100 per acre—making his total purchase amount to $20,500. It is said to have cost the former proprietor $28,000, about one-half of which was expended in buildings.—Manchester American.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1857.

☞ At the meeting, Sunday evening, of the Washingtonian Temperance Society, at Mercantile Hall, Boston, a gentleman from Minnesota, who has been a liquor dealer in that territory, became so impressed with the truthfulness of the remarks made by the speakers, that he signed the pledge at the close of the meeting. He stated to the President of the Society that he had just purchased $5000 worth of liquor which he had intended to take back with him. He had now, however, done with the business, and should not take the liquor.

☞ We learn that a man named Joseph Dearborn, of North Hampton, was found dead in a pasture in that town, last week. Dearborn was a man of 40 years and more, a widower, and left one son. The deceased was in early life left with property; he was a cabinet-maker by trade, and a good workman; but, alas, addicted to strong drink, and other vices connected therewith. He descended lower and lower, till he could find no boarding place in N.,—and left, three weeks ago, for Stratham, as he said. But last week some boys at play noticed a bad smell, and following the scent, found poor Dearborn's body with his throat cut. He had committed suicide.

SULLIVAN COUNTY.

In this county, the September terms of both Courts are rolled into one. This double Court is held this year at Newport,—and is reported in the Claremont Eagle.

Supreme Judicial Court and Court of Common Pleas.—Judge Sargent on the Bench.—The Grand Jury were discharged, having found nine indictments, to wit: One against John Reed of Claremont, for obstructions placed in the highway; two against Josiah Potter of Langdon, for assaulting officers; one against Eunice Stanton of Plainfield, for adultery; one against John Eleazer, for Burglary; one against William B. Weld of Cornish, for violation of the Liquor Law; three against Stephen Call of Newport, for selling liquor.

John Eleazer was arraigned, plead guilty, and was sentenced to two years hard labor in the State Prison for burglary.

William B. Weld plead guilty to the charge of selling liquor; paid fine and costs.

Stephen Call at first plead not guilty to the charge of selling liquor, but after taking the sober second thought, he concluded to plead guilty on the three indictments found against him, paid his fine on one, and costs on the whole, and the others hang in terrorem in case he persists in selling.

Bird Albion Cooper,—The Boston papers contain this item.

"The brig Black Squall picked up a boat on the Great Bahama Bank, with three men in it, who stated they belonged to and were the sole survivors of brig Albion Cooper, which was wrecked. One of them afterwards stated, that the captain, mate, and one seaman were murdered by the other two, and the vessel burned. They were all in prison in Havana.

The Portland Argus says:

The Brig belongs to this port, and is owned by Messrs. Whittier, Waterhouse and Ayer of this city, and the Captain, D. R. Humphrey of Falmouth. The mate, Mr. Smith, also belongs in this city. The Brig was chartered by Mr. Geo. S. Hunt, and loaded for Cardenas, for which place she sailed from this port on the 27th of July. The cargo is fully insured at the Ocean Insurance Office in this city, and there is also an insurance of $600 on the freight.

The general opinion here, is that the story told by the seaman, of the murder of the captain and mate and the burning of the vessel, is a hoax. The belief is, that these seamen stole a boat and ran away.

☞ John M. Bernhisel was elected delegate to Congress from Utah at the election held in that Territory on the 3rd day of August. Mr. Bernhisel is a quiet, elderly gentleman, who has little to say on the floor of the House, where he has now had a seat ever since 1851. He is of German extraction; in politics a strong Buchanan Democrat; in religion a zealous Mormon. He has only nine wives at home. They do not all accompany him, we understand, to Washington, this winter.

A Hard Hit.—The Boston Post says: "The English papers contain shocking instances of the barbarities practised by the East Indians upon European men and women, reminding the American reader of the atrocities perpetrated by the Indians of this continent while acting as the allies of Great Britain."

American House, Boston.—It will be seen by the advertisement in another column, that this popular Hotel has adopted the old plan of management, under which it has gained so favorable a reputation, and the gentlemanly proprietor will still continue to afford every comfort and convenience to the travelling public.

STEAMER CENTRAL AMERICA.

This vessel, formerly the George Law, had on board, at the time of the disaster, six hundred and twenty-six souls—525 passengers, and a crew of 101 men. Of this number 101 are reported saved—viz., 50 by the Eloise arrived at Norfolk, Va., 5 by the Saxony at Savannah, and 46 by the Marine, bound to New York. Unaccounted for, 525 men, women and children. The estimated loss of treasure and ship is $2,250,000.

The best account of the disaster is the statement of Henry H. Childs, one of the passengers of the Central America, rescued by the bark Saxony.

I left Havana in the steamship Central America for New York Sept. 8th. The weather was delightful and the sea calm on the passage from Aspinwall.

On the day of sailing from Havana, fresh westerly breezes sprung up. On the following morning the wind blew very strong, the gale continuing to increase as the day advanced. At night there was no abatement in the fury of the gale, and it commenced raining in torrents.

On Thursday it blew a hurricane, the sea running very high. On Friday the storm raged fearfully. At eleven o'clock in the morning of this day, it was first known among the passengers that the steamer had sprung a leak, and was making water rapidly. A line of men was immediately formed, and they went to work bailing out the water from the engine-rooms, the fires having already been extinguished. We gained on the water so much that we were able to get up steam again; but we held it only a few minutes, and then it stopped—forever.

The bailing continued, however, and was kept up in all parts of the ship until she finally went down.

During Friday night the water gained gradually, but all on board being in pretty good spirits, they worked to the best of their ability, feeling that when the morning came they possibly might speak some vessel and thus be saved.

The fatal Saturday came at last, but brought nothing but increased fury in the gale. At four P. M. we spied a sail, and fired guns, and placed our flag at half mast. It was seen, and the brig Marine, of Boston, bore down upon us. We then considered safety certain. She came near us, and we spoke to her and told her of our condition. She laid by about a mile distant, and we placed all the women and children in the only three boats saved, and they were safely placed on board the brig.

As evening was fast approaching, we discovered another sail, which responded to our call and came near us. Capt. Herndon told our condition, and asked them to lay by and send a boat, as we had none left.—She promised to do so, but that was the last we saw of her, except at a distance, which grew greater and greater every moment.

At 7 o'clock, we saw no possibility of keeping afloat much longer, although we all felt that if we could do so until morning, all would be saved. In a short time, a heavy sea, for the other side of the vessel, and then all hope faded away.

Life preservers were near, and supplied to all; we sent up two rockets, when a tremendous sea swept over us, and the steamer in a moment went down. I think some 400 or 450 persons were launched upon the ocean, at the mercy of the waves.

The storm, at this time, had entirely subsided. We all kept near together, and went as the waves took us. There was nothing, or very little said, except that each one cheered his fellow-comrades on. Courage was thus kept up for two or three hours; and I think, for this space of time, none had drowned, but three who could not swim, became exhausted.

After this, gradually, one by one passed away to eternity.

The hope that boats would be sent to us from the two vessels we had so recently spoken, soon fled from us, and our trust was alone in Providence—and what better trust could you or I ask for?

I saw my comrades sink fast, and at 1 o'clock that night, I was nearly alone upon the ocean, some 200 miles from land. I heard shouts, however, from all that could do so, that were not far from me; but I could not see them.

Within an hour from this time, I saw a vessel, which I judged to be about one mile from me. Taking fresh courage, I struck out for the vessel and reached it when nearly exhausted, and they drew me on board of it by ropes.

The vessel proved to be a Norwegian bark, from Belize, Honduras, bound for Falmouth, E. I found on board of her some three of my comrades, and at half-past 9 o'clock, the next morning, we had 49 noble fellows on board, and these are all I know of having been saved.

We stayed about the place, until we thought all alive had been rescued, and then set sail. We found the bark short of provisions, and the crew living on gruel. We had some tea and coffee to refresh ourselves, and at noon, on Sunday, we spoke the American bark, the Saxony, bound for Savannah, which supplied us with provisions, and took five of us on board.

Our names are: B. H. Ridley, of Maine, Jabez Howes of San Francisco, Samuel W. Cook of Maine, Adolph Frederick of San Francisco, H. Childs of New York.

The Norwegian bark set sail for Charleston, with the balance of the forty-nine passengers.

There is a lad saved, some seven years old, whose mother was, with the other ladies, placed on board the brig.

☞ The Endicott, Pear Tree, in Danversport, Mass., is 227 years old, and has a good crop of fine looking pears upon it.

For the Chronicle.

PUSH ON!

The pathway to eminence is beset with thorns and brambles: all believe them easily overcome; and, once subdued, the imagination pictures fields of happiness and contentment beyond. However illusive these conceptions of ultimate enjoyment may be, a large majority of our race grasp at them with avidity and hope of success. Now this conflict with brambles, this mastering of difficulties, constitutes the business and subserves the purpose of human existence. Action is a condition of our being, and we instinctively scramble after high places. The degree of success is based upon the energy of the effort.

In the race for distinction all succeed, in their own estimation—few, in the estimation of mankind. The various advancements made differ like thermometers in March weather. Some are able to satisfy their aspirations, some fail in toto, and some about half succeed. The latter class is by far the most dangerous to society, and injure rather than advance the pursuits in which they are engaged. Though superficial above the comparative degree, the world admires them and commends them for loving the surface of things. Such men were Paracelcus in medicine, Mitford in history, Swift in the science of government, Urband in the mechanic arts.

The half-way house has rare attractions for the simple-minded. To them the journey looks rough and craggy ahead, and they have no disposition to grapple with its difficulties. Moreover the progress already made glitters like the robe of orient at coming day, and seems to indicate the accomplishment of something extraordinary. Supposing some one were to whisper that enchanting word great in their ears, what would be the effect?—a total abandonment of the very means which might have conduced to their honor and reputation. We are all more or less subject to a weakness on this point. The lazy desire a view from a high place; the vigorous obtain it.

Those who would be truly eminent in any pursuit, must not be satisfied with titles, but seek for realities. Names are the hobby of little minds. If an individual be really great, if he act upon the elemental principles of manhood—probity, magnanimity, justice—will it augment his glory to annex to his name a string of letters chosen from the alphabet? Greatness occupies a different sphere, and never stoops to the petty distinctions of the ambitious. That man evinces a noble spirit who plunges at once into the middle of the stream and seeks its source, without spending his time in idle conjectures and vain speculation. There is much truth in the lines of the poet:—

A little learning is a dangerous thing;
Drink deep, or taste not the Pierean spring;
There shallow draffs intoxicate the brain,
And drinking largely sobers us again.

Exeter, September, 1857. T. K. A.

Died, in Eliot, on Saturday, Sept. 19th, of consumption, Mr. William A. Fogg, aged 25 years. Mr. Fogg was for a few months the publisher of the Great Falls Journal; and has for several years been a contributor to the columns of various literary and news papers in Portsmouth, Boston, and elsewhere. Last Fall he went to Florida, in hope of improving his health, which had long been feeble; but as we pressed his thin hand, and bade him good bye, as he sat in a carriage in front of our office, we felt that it was the last time we should see him on earth. He returned home a few weeks since, very sick, and died at his home in Eliot, on Saturday last. He was a writer of considerable ability, an independent thinker, and a warm and genial friend. Peace to his memory.

Boiler Explosion.—Baltimore, Sept. 18.—The boiler of the Telegraph Flour Mills, on Falls Avenue and Fawn street, exploded this morning, at half past seven o'clock. The boiler-house and three small dwelling houses adjoining were demolished, killing two children and seriously scalding the engineer. Three persons were fatally injured and fourteen wounded. The affair caused the greatest consternation.

The Treasury return for this week will show a large reduction of the surplus.

☞ The editor of the Nashua Telegraph cries out in view of an onion supper to which he sat down the other night—"Hurrah for fried onions!" Well, we don't know as we shall offer any objection to his eating the strong-scented vegetables he lauds so highly; but we must say that we rather prefer "Frangipanni" for a perfume of ourselves or neighbors.

THE FAIR.

Everybody that is anybody evinces an interest in "our Fair," which is to be held here Oct. 1st and 2d. Subscriptions have been tolerably liberal; but there is more money wanted yet—and the more the Committee of Arrangements got, the better display they will make. They are working most actively to make the first Cattle Show ever held in Portsmouth the best thing of the kind ever witnessed in this section of the State—and they will do it!

The City Council on Thursday evening last authorized the mayor and aldermen to employ the Portsmouth Cornet Band to furnish music on the occasion, at the expense of the city. Besides this, it is expected that the Manchester Cornet Band will be present; and we hope the Exeter delegation will bring their Cornet Band, and the Newmarket delegation theirs.

The field selected will probably be on Auburn street; and Jefferson Hall will be finely decorated for occupancy, and an other Hall if necessary.

The Procession will, without doubt, eclipse everything we've had here except the "Sons." Our entire Fire Department—which consists of three hundred men, and has never been seen in a body—is invited to join in, and we trust they will do so. We should also hope the Exeter and Newmarket Fire Companies, &c. would appear.

Things are working finely now, and we shall without doubt have a Fair the like of which old Rockingham never saw before, and hardly deemed herself capable of.

See our advertising columns for particulars; and the list of Committees on the fourth page. The general Committees, Chief Marshal, &c., were appointed last year.

PORTSMOUTH—PAST AND PRESENT.

A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror, who writes from Concord, after a visit to our city, remarks thus:

The only seaport in this State is favored with one of the best harbors to be found upon the whole of our Atlantic frontier, and I do hope the day is not far distant when a few enterprising men will establish a few wholesale stores in that city, and make business there as lively as the scenery around it is delightful and charming.—When the people of Portsmouth gave their influence and poured out their money to aid in constructing a railroad from Boston to Portland, via Portsmouth, they gave the business of Portsmouth a stunning blow, as it brought those two large cities within some two hours' ride of itself, and aided them much to its own detriment. The true interests of that port was to have opened a direct and easy communication with the interior of our own State, and thus secure to itself a large business that had long been divided between Boston and Portland.

But while Portsmouth was engaged in building the Eastern Railroad, Boston was planning to have the Boston, Concord and Montreal opened to bring business from around the Lake to Boston, while Portland was to aid in constructing the Atlantic & St. Lawrence road from Portland to Montreal, passing through the northern part of this State, taking almost the entire control of the business in that region, which Portsmouth should have been ambitious to secure.

At the time these matters were engrossing attention, I urged friends in Portsmouth to see them in the light I viewed them, and had a railroad been constructed from Portsmouth to Alton Bay, via Dover, Rochester, Farmington, &c., &c., it would have given life and activity to business in Portsmouth such as it will now be hard to secure.

The following ordinance was passed in Portsmouth in the year 1652. It is not now enforced:

Sept. 25. Ordered that a cage be made or some other means invented by the Selectmen to punish such as sleepe or take tobacco on the Lord's day, out of the meeting, in time of the publique exercise.

DIVIDEND POSTPONED.—The Directors of the Portsmouth Steam Factory, have voted that in the existing state of the money market, which may affect the value of their bills receivable, they deem it expedient to postpone the payment of the dividend announced at the recent annual meeting of the stockholders, until a larger portion of the receivables shall mature.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound. Molasses for 40 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices, the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cts.; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. au18 tf

THE MOST SKEPTICAL PEOPLE Can be convinced by trial that all the family medicines are not humbug, and that among the thousand of butterfly life, there are a few of great merit and undoubted worth. Of these, Dr. Sanford's Liver Ointment, stands first and foremost among the remedies of the day; that can be relied on as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its proprietors. It advertises itself on every trial, for there are none who use it but tell their friends to do so, and so it goes from mouth to mouth, till all the people of the Union have learned the good of this truly valuable medicine. It is recommend, by testimonials to prove its virtue, for the cure of liver complaints of every kind, from the worst Dyspepsia to a common headache, and is particularly adapted to Jaundice, Deranged Stomach, Bowel Complaints, and diseases of Children.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease in management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

Any amount of Heat required,

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them,

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to relight without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed, without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH THE ENTIRE SEASON,

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and falling but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Proof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF O. J. WOOD Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, baby dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in regard to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by means of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Hillsfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it was doubtful to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CARLTON, ILL., June 28, 1852.

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but OWE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, bowels, or joints. It does this—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin, slightly dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, one of the discovery, must be the judge.

Lawrence's Carminative,

—OR—

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable preparation is a favorite selfentitled remedy in one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been successful as any other in the treating of

and has been used with never failing success.

The Carminative is emphatically

and is the only Child's Medicine in this country; intended to do away with the offensive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "dose of physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded, are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the respective cures of

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

One regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all. Price only 25 cents

Parents who value rest should not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THIS combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the sale and healthy countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably relieve all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, in cases of spasms, hysterics, &c., they are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in a plain square wrapper.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1857.

THE STEAMER GEORGE LAW.

This was the former name of the now lost steamer Central America. Under the old name she performed 89 voyages: at the close of the last, as we learn from the Boston Advertiser, the passengers raised an indignation meeting, and protested against scant fare and bad provisions on board the George Law. Whereupon, presto, change! her name was the Central America.

From the accounts now received, not far from one hundred and fifty persons have been saved from the Central America, and there is a faint hope that some few others may yet be heard from.

Mr. Ashby, Chief Engineer of the Central America, says he is ready to meet any investigation that may be ordered as to his conduct in leaving the steamer, or the manner in which he performed his duties. He says he left in the boat by the Captain's orders, to arrange with the Captain of the brig Marine to bring his vessel closer, and that the crew of the boats refused to return to the steamer with him, all deserting the boats. He says the engines were stopped by the rapid rising of the water, making it impossible to get at the coal. He however gives no explanation why all the pumps on the ship were out of order, and the donkey engine unserviceable.

It appears from the statement of Captain Badger that the main cause of the catastrophe was the stoppage of the engines, which left the ship at the mercy of the waves. Captain Badger attributes the stoppage to the neglect of the fire and engine departments to provide a sufficient supply of coal. He also states that the ship's pumps were out of order and useless, throughout the storm.

MAINE ELECTION.—The Portland Argus of the 21st has returns from 368 towns and cities, giving Morrill 52,069; Smith 30,214; sat. 202. Morrill's majority 12,653.

The towns not heard from gave, last year, for Wells 3,802; Hamlin, 3,119;—Patten, 246. These towns will probably reduce the majority of Mr. Morrill to 12,000, or less.

"To the Senate (says the Argus) we have not as yet ascertained that any democrat is elected. Aroostook has gone against us on account of local divisions, and from Washington county we have not yet received a full report of the votes. Our impression is that the republicans will have the whole of that body."

For county officers the republicans have carried everything, save, perhaps, a portion of the officers in Lincoln and Washington counties.

The Advertiser has accurate and reliable returns from every Representative district in the State, except the far distant one in Madawaska region, and the result is as follows:

Republicans - - - - - - - -	115
Democrats - - - - - - - - -	35

The whole vote for Governor has fallen off 25,000 or so, from 120,000 last year,—and the majority of Morrill this year, at 12,000, is a falling off of 6000 from Hamlin's majority (18,000) last year.

ARREST FOR RAPE.—Dr. WM. Young, a notorious quack, who made Portland his stopping place for a short time two years ago, was arrested in Westbrook on Friday evening last, by officer Ring, of Portland, and Deputy Sheriffs Sawyer and Sanborn, of Deerfield, N. H., The "doctor" is charged with having perpetrated a gross outrage upon the person of a young girl of 17, who visited his office for professional advice; having first drugged her, and while she was in a state of insensibility, accomplished his abominable purposes. He was taken to Deerfield, where the crime was committed, in custody of the officers, on Saturday moning.

The Portland Advertiser says of him, this "Dr. Young will be remembered as having distinguised himself here by his conspicuous part in the bogus inquest in the case of John Robbins. He assisted Dr. Lord to dress the wounds of that martyr, and made himself a very prominent figure throughout the farce that followed the 'Neal Dow tragedy.'"

☞ Isaac J. Stevens has been elected Congressional delegate from Washington Territory. He was appointed Indian Agent and Governor of the Territory by President Pierce, in 1853, when the Territory was set off from Oregon. His Gubernatorial term expires with this year.

People frequently reject great truths, not so much for want of evidence, as for want of inclination to search for it.

THE GRAVE OF JEFFERSON.—A writer in the Crayon furnishes an interesting account of a visit to the former residence of Jefferson in Virginia. He says, "save the shy negroes, watching with idle curiosity a stranger loitering about the grounds, it was a desolate house, and decay and neglect were everywhere leaving their imprints." He found the grave of Jefferson a scene of desecration and vandalism. The inscription of the monument was defaced, the monument broken, and like indignities recently offered to the marble slabs which once marked the grave of his mother and other near relatives, and which will soon be lost in the weeds, brambles and rubbish that cover the inclosed area.

THE POLYLINGUAL JOURNAL.—What Journal can that be?—Answer: Polylingual means, of Many Languages; and we have received the first number of a quarterly magazine, in five languages, French, Spanish, Italian, German and English, designated as an assistant to teachers and learners of these languages, to which it will afford important aid. The present number contains the narrative portion of Fenelon's Telemachus in the original, together with a line-for-line translation in each of the other languages. The terms are $2 per year, in advance. Published at 335 Broadway, New York.

CONGREGATIONAL SINGING.—The committee appointed by the last General Convention of the Episcopal Church, to prepare a new Tune Book, adapted to the wants of congregations, have entered upon their duty with a zeal which promises success.—Among other measures adopted to secure favor for the new book, they have addressed a circular to those interested and competent, in the various parishes, asking what tunes have been sung to particular psalms and hymns in particular places, until they have become so associated in the minds of the people, as to seem to belong together. By means of such information they hope to avail themselves of a strong sentiment already in existence, and to appear rather as carrying out an old principle, than as introducing a new one.

THE NEWMARKET FIRE.—The mill which was burnt, was No. 2. The walls, which are all of stone are still left standing, but much injured. The lower weaving room, which is in the basement, was uninjured—except by water, with which it is flooded. Loss probably $70,000—insured. No doubt the work of an incendiary. No. 1 cannot be run, as the filling used in that, was spun in No. 2. No. 3 is undergoing repairs, so that all business of the Manufacturing Company is at a stand still for some time, at least.—It will be a serious blow for the village, besides throwing hundreds out of employment.

DRUNKARDS ON THE TRACK.—John Rice, employee on the Western Railroad as a track repairer, was found dead on the track between Brookfield and East Brookfield, Mass., on Monday morning, and is supposed to have been killed by one of the Sunday night express trains, while under the influence of liquor. An Irishman was run over and killed on the Providence and Fishkill Railroad at East Hartford, Conn., on Saturday. He had a bottle of liquor by him, and was evidently intoxicated.

THE RECORD OF INTEMPERANCE.—George Kline, a German, in New York, while laboring under an attack of delirium tremens Tuesday, swallowed a quantity of arsenic for the purpose of self destruction. Jeremiah Overbagh, residing a few miles south of Catskill, went into the woods on Sunday, and deliberately shot himself through the head. He was 68 years of age, and intemperate.—Mrs. Anthony Jordan, of Dansville, N. Y., died in the Livingston county jail, at Genessee, last week, of delirium tremens.

"BLOOD WILL TELL."—Experiments prove that the difference between the bones of thorough-bred horses and common stock, is about the same as between ivory and beef-bones. The high-blooded horse has bones solid, heavy, dense, and almost transparent—those of the lower grades, are lighter, opaque, and not near as strong or heavy.

ANOTHER NEW HAMPSHIRE RAILROAD TO BE SOLD.—The Contoocook Railroad is to be sold to the highest bidder, at Concord, on the first day of October next. Anthony Colby, Enos Blake and John G. Fuller are the trustees of the first mortgagees, by whom it is advertised.

☞ A son of Mr. Charles Taylor, of Squantum Farm, Quincy, Mass., while at play a few days since, threw a stone up into a tree, which fell back upon his head, and caused his death in a few days.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

QUEBEC, Sept. 20.

The steamer Indian arrived at this place on Saturday afternoon. She left Liverpool on Wednesday, the 9th inst., and her dates are consequently four days later than those received by the steamship Persia, at New York.

ENGLAND.—The English underwriters have settled all claims growing out of the loss of the Atlantic cable.

There was a religious riot at Belfast, Ireland, on Sunday, owing to street preaching. The constabulary force fired upon the mob, killing one person and wounding several others.

Additional troops are under orders for embarkation to India, which will make a total reinforcement from Great Britain, of 40,000 men.

The Mormons have held their sixth annual Conference in London. Reports were submitted exhibiting the spread of the doctrine in England.

Vague rumors were current in Paris, of an approaching visit of the Pope, and the Coronation of the Emperor.

The trade of Pa is is improving. Corn is on the decline throughout France.

Paris letters say that the bullion in the the Bank of France has increased £1,400,000 during the month.

SPAIN.—It is said that Spain has suspended the preparations for the expedition against Mexico, and that the difficulty is to be submitted to the arbitration of France and England, with Bavaria as umpire.

Spanish advices say that Comonfort has accepted the proposition for mediation.

ITALY.—The Pope has returned to Rome, and received a cordial welcome.

It is rumored that Mazzini is organizing another Italian Revolution.

LONDON, Wednesday, 9th.—The Times city article reports a dullness in the funds, and an active demand for discounts.

The Daily News says speculation is stagnant in the absence of Indian news. The stock market, to a certain extent, is prejudiced by gloomy accounts from Paris and New York.

The Emperor Napoleon has sent £1000 as a personal contribution to the Indian relief fund; and £400 were contributed by the Imperial Guard.

FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.—Punta Arenas, Aug. 9.—President Mora of Costa Rica has published his death penalty proclamation against Walker and any new fillibusters.

A grand Spanish-American Congress was to meet at San Jose.

The Costa Rican government had decreed to the Electric Telegraph Society of Paris the right to establish a line of telegraph running from North to South, through the republic, on certain conditions.

PANAMA, Sept. 3.—Commodore Paulding of the U. S. Navy, accompanied by a corps of scientific men, had passed from Aspinwall to Panama, with the purpose of testing how far it would be practicable to make a ship canal there.

The negotiations in Washington relative to the Isthmus difficulty were regarded with much attention.

☞ New Haven responded to the President's letter by a Republican triumph in its town election on Monday, by 214 opposition majority. The town was carried by the democrats at election two years since, and that result has now been changed by a decisive vote.

☞ F. Fowler, accused of keeping a bogus ticket office in New York, was arrested on Thursday, and held to bail in $2000. The Herald says the Recorder is determined to punish all bogus ticket sellers severely in future.

☞ The Washingtonian Temperance reform is progressing in Salem. On Wednesday evening of last week, 46 new names were obtained to the pledge. The Gazette says, "we may now speak confidently of a revival of interest in the Temperance cause in Salem."

☞ Last Wednesday and Thursday the summit of Mt. Washington was covered with snow.

We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks New and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street, ALLEN & PAINE.

THE MOST SKEPTICAL PEOPLE

Can be convinced by trial that all the family medicines are not humbug, and that among the thousand of butterfly life, there are a few of great merit and undoubted worth. Of these, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, stands first and foremost among the remedies of the day; that can be relied on as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its proprietors. It advertises itself on every trial, for there are none who use it but tell their friends to do so, and so it goes from mouth to mouth, till all the people of the Union have learned the good of this truly valuable medicine. It is recommend, by testimonials to prove its virtue, for the cure of liver complaints of every kind, from the worst Dyspepsia to a common headache, and is particularly adapted to Jaundice, Deranged Stomach, Bowel Complaints, and diseases of Children.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 3 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly grassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. urts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound. Molasses for 40 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices, the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cts.; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphone and Burning Fluid. au13 tf

LOCAL.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Falmouth, which has been lying in our Lower Harbor for a few days, was hauled up to the Navy Yard on Saturday. Her officers and part of the crew are enjoying the freedom of our city.

The Falmouth was taken into the Dry Dock on Monday, in the most approved manner; and is now ready for examination and repairs—notwithstanding the arrangements made by the reporter of the Boston Journal, who was going to take out the Roanoke from Charlestown Navy Yard Dock, and put the Falmouth in. The old Constitution is also in our Dock, or rather hauled up on the Railway above; if Uncle Sam has and more craft that need repairs, why send them along to Portsmouth Navy Yard—we have accommodations for his whole fleet, without "taking out" any.—"If you want your potatoes dug, fetch 'em on."

☞ There is to be a meeting of the Fire Department, this evening, at Jefferson Hall. This we think is the first time the entire Department was ever called together except by the alarm bell; and we hope every man will respond to this invitation of Chief Engineer Hadley—who has been for about thirty years in the service, and takes much interest in its efficiency.

LYCEUMS.

Quite a number of hints over the left have been thrown out recently, referring to the management of past Lyceums, of rather a disparaging character; and very significantly referring to one of these institutions, stating that it has always given general satisfaction. Without making any comment, we here give the names of those who lectured before the Mechanics' Lyceum last season: and the reader can judge whether they were of the doubtful fame referred to by a late writer:

Rev. Dr. Huntington, Rev. Dr. Chapin, Rev. Dr. Burroughs, Rev. Dr. Thompson, Rev. T. S. King, Rev. T. W. Higginson, Rev. L. Whiting, W. Phillips, Esq., Hon. T. H. Benton, and readings by Mrs. Barrow.

We think that no Lyceum Committee in New England last season introduced to any audience a larger amount of talent than is combined in the above list; and we shall consider any Committee fortunate that can offer as good a course the coming season.—We would not speak disparagingly of the doings of the Committee of any institution; but wish the Committee of the Mercantile Lyceum the best of success in their selections, such as will secure them a full house the coming season. A MECHANIC.

LYCEUMS.—The Boston Journal states that B. P. Shillaber, (Mrs. Partington) is preparing a new lecture-poem for next winter; and also that he will contribute a series of engagements in the West, about the middle of next month, which will extend to the principal cities and towns, and will occupy several weeks.

It has already been announced that T. B. Aldrich is preparing to read some of his Poems in public—which we should judge he would do in the most finished and agreeable manner.

And last, but by no means least—Albert Laighton of this city is reported to be preparing a Poem to be read before our Mercantile Lyceum. We hope the report is correct, and that A. L. himself will recite the Poem, here and elsewhere. His thousands of admirers would gladly greet him, face to face, both in "his own country" and abroad.

IN JAIL.—On the 9th inst., the store of J. P. Elkins, near North Hampton depot, was broken open, and a quantity of goods stolen. The thief, whose name appears to be Brown, offered his goods for sale next day, in Salisbury, went to Newburyport, and thence to Boston, but came back to Newburyport, and was arrested on Friday; was examined before a Justice of the Peace in Hampton, on Saturday, and in default of $500 bail to answer to a higher court, was committed to the jail in this city. Brown professes to belong to Boston, but his name and residence are both rather apocryphal.

☞ We learn the City Phalanx, Capt. Sides, have accepted an invitation to escort the procession at the Rockingham County Fair, on the 1st of October.

The Mechanics' Association have also been invited to join in the procession.

☞ We called on Capt. Clark on Monday, and were handsomely treated to numerous kinds of fruit. The Capt. "still lives," and can be found on State Street, just below H. F. Wendell's Auction Store, amid apples, pears, peaches, plums, beer, confectionery, &c., &c. Give him a call.

REPORTER.

☞ An extensive revival of religion has been going on for a few weeks past, at the Independent Christian Society, now worshipping in Hanover Street Chapel in this city. On Sunday last, at noon, Rev. Austin Damon, who is preaching there temporarily, baptized at Noble's Island seventeen applicants for admission to the church; and in the afternoon twenty members received the right hand of fellowship from the church.

We learn that this Society has extended a unanimous invitation to Rev. Thomas Holmes, to resume the pastoral charge of the Society. Mr. H. was formerly settled over them for two years; but has for a year or two past been connected with Antioch College. It is understood that he accepts the call, and will recommence his labors here early in October. It is also the design of the Society to occupy the Temple again—the old original home of the Christan denomination, in the days of Elias Smith.

☞ As Timothy and Daniel Hennessey were wheeling coal from a vessel to one of our wharves, on Monday afternoon, a scaffold gave way, by which both were precipitated into the vessel's hold, and seriously if not fatally injured.

☞ We are pleased to learn that Laconia Engine Company, No. 2, on Monday evening voted to accept the invitation of the Committee of Arrangements, and will appear in the procession on the occasion of the Fair. The Twos are not generally behind all the rest, in work or play. They have already appeared twice on parade this season.

For the Chronicle.

ABOUT A BIG DRUM.

Elegiac—poetical effusion in the night

Sept. 15th, 1857.

Came down by the last train; tired, and just tried
To change boots for slippers, when I heard Musical noise.
Ile-on-pulled boots, roofed my head, and went
In search from—soon I knew—whence came Real music.
Made my way through hcops and cigar-smoke
Until they both stopped me in front of the "Parthenium."
[That 's as much as I can remember, they told me the news-room was so-called, with the fine glass-plate door; but no matter.]
Just opposite was a scaffolding with lanterns, and Upon it, I learned, was your young Brazen Band.
Soon they commenced discoursing through their Shining mouth-prolongations, music sublime,
Beautiful, nay, pretty well!
But hardly had they commenced, when some Rascal somewhere in the neighborhood began to Beat a big Drum!
And kept on so furiously that nobody could'nt
Hear nothing no longer, that the good Band was Playing so finely.
Now this was too bad! I reckon the fellow did it
For extreme fun; or in vengeance of something
Hurtful done to him
By one of the Brazen Band. Or perhaps he is a Seeker for office among them, wishing to show
That he can beat a big Drum,
If they want one. But no! he then would show
A little more taste, a little better ear for time
And decency!
I'm sure, 'tis a rogue who only makes a fuss!
And to stop it at once, I started in search of The Villain.
Within my pocket I had opened my penknife,
Wherewith to cut, as soon as I found him, the Rascal's hideous hide.
Now guess where he was? You would'nt believe
It; right-up-on-the-scaffolding, amidst the brazen Band was he!
I had a good mind to take him by his legs,
(Or limbs, if you please) and pull him down
From his roost;
But did not venture near enough; he making
Such an infernal noise that I had to run
To save my life.
And so I ran and ran, until I could exchange
Again, the boots for slippers; and now I nothing
Hear but boom—boom—boom!
But how came he up there? is what puzzles me.
How can they bear to have up there
Such a nuisance!
I should'nt wonder if they lose their sense of Hearing; so that before long they will know not
If they blow right or wrong.
You know of artillery-men getting deaf from Being behind the booming cannons,—of bursting
The tympanum.
But, by Josh; I'd rather be aboard a man-of-war,
While they are blowing away for days,
Their loudest,
Than to be near or in rear of that infernal,
Outrageously, out-of-time
Big drum and drummer!!
He's deaf already; that is clear; but how to get Rid of him, and at the same time
Make amendments.
I beg leave to devise the means: change his force
From arms to lungs—give to him the
First Bugle! SENSITIOUS.

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

Any amount of Heat required,

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and that leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed, without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH THE ENTIRE SEASON,

TEMPERANCE.—The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at the Convention of the Essex County Temperance Society, at Amesbury and Salisbury Mills, on Wednesday the 16th :—

Resolved, That while we have confidence in the ultimate success of stringent laws for the suppression of intemperance, we also favor the means formerly employed by the Washingtonians with so much success in their labors of reform.

Resolved, That the statements made in this country and England respecting the Maine law and the decline of temperance in the United States, are not justified in fact. but on the contrary, the success of the law is highly encouraging, and requires nothing but decided action on the part of its friends, to make it a final triumph.

Resolved, That a very considerable impulse has been given of late to legal and moral suasions, and that it is highly important that the interest now manifested should be kept active.

Resolved, That the extraordinary success of the movement connected with the establishment of the "Home of the Fallen," in Boston, in rescuing inebriates, and exciting a favorable feeling in behalf of temperance in the community, demands our thanks to God, and we earnestly recommend the establishment of similar institutions in all the larger towns and cities.

Resolved, That inasmuch as the natural, but too often misguided desires of the young, for exercise and amusement, is a great cause of the use of intoxicating drink on their part, we recognize the gratification of their desires for innocent recreation, such as the establishment of Lyceums, Reading Rooms and Libraries, and the encouragement of social reunions and gatherings, participated in by the older portion of the community, as agencies of temperance and reform.

☞ The "Home for the Fallen," or Asylum for inebriates, in Boston, has been open six weeks, and has benefitted 147 persons—thirty of whom had delirium tremens. The crew of the U. S. frigate Roanoke have contributed $178 to this institution.

A very enthusiastic temperance meeting was held on Sunday afternoon last, on board the U. S. ship Ohio at Charlestown Navy Yard.

INTERESTING TO FILLIBUSTERS.—Washington, Sept. 18.—The administration has determined to enforce the neutrality laws, and to-day took the initiatory steps for that purpose. In addition to information having been received of fitting out of three several expeditions—viz., at New York, New Orleans and Mobile—for the reinvasion of Nicaragua, under the leadership of Gen. Walker, intelligence from an official quarter has come to hand of another expedition, having its centre in, if not altogether confined to, Texas, for the invasion and, it is supposed the seizure of the State of Tamaulipas. Gen. Sam Houston is, by the reports received, implicated as its leader.

To-day, the form of instructions was prepared by executive authority, and copies of which will be dispatched to-morrow to the various U. S. Marshals and District Attorneys on the seaboard, as well as to officers of the Army and Navy, to use all lawful means in their command, to prevent such expeditions leaving the United States to invade any country with which we are at peace; in other words enjoining them to strictly enforce the neutrality laws. At present, no Presidential proclamation will be issued.

☞ Wm. Wood committed suicide at Fall River, Sunday morning, while confined in one of the cells under the market, by hanging himself with his suspender, from the post of his bunk.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and is a company formed by the Legislature, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, for the benefit of those parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact we would the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent without the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (called the Havana plan), and every combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Times, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the order they reach to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. A BEAUTIFUL HEAD
OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,
Completely Preserved
TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence country some months since when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not merely because of its cooling effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects. I was among the skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidently recommend it to all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending it to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

CARLILE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SURDUS INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by its application, and extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this? simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin, dissolved into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THIS compound is without ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed for a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from a cold, or from any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c., do are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, No. 2 Local Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

INCIDENTS OF SHIPWRECK.

The largest dailies are crowding themselves with particulars of danger and rescue of passengers from the lost steamer Central America.

It is now ascertained that 173 persons were rescued from the wreck, leaving the probable number of drowned to be 419, unless, perhaps, others were saved by passing vessels.

Two points of defective equipments are already brought to light: the inefficiency of the boats, and the imperfectness of the tin life-preservers. A vessel with a living cargo of nearly six hundred human beings, is not properly furnished, when she has only five boats. The tin life-preservers are a dangerous reliance. They are easily punctured or broken, and when they fill with water, they become of course, worse than useless. The cork-made articles are the safest and best, and none others should be tolerated.

It appears as if these disasters had occurred with such appalling frequency that we might need no further experience of sorrow to teach us exactly how steamers should be built and equipped.

Many of the passengers blame Ashby, the engineer. Mr. Bassford, in particular, gives testimony most strongly against him. Bassford says:

Upon our boat loads arriving alongside the Marine and being taken on board, Ashby asked Captain Birch if he could not get his brig nearer the Central America. This, Capt. B. said, was impossible, owing to the disabled condition of his vessel and the heavy sea. Ashby now promised $100 a man to those who would go back in his small boat. David Raymond, quartermaster, said he would go to the steamer if she was fifty miles away, and that he was above taking pay for such services. Four men went back in the boat. Ashby remained on the Marine, notwithstanding his pledge to Capt. Herndon.

In endeavoring to bail the steamer, when the men became tired, some of the ladies behaved most generously and nobly—several of them volunteering to take their places at the buckets; but the men, tired as they were, had too much gallantry to allow this. The offer of the ladies, however, to assume a portion of the trying toil, gave renewed encouragement to the men.

I know two of the passengers of high social and political association, who refused to work, but got alarmingly drunk, so much so, that their more sober companions had to put them in their berths. In that condition they lay when the steamer sunk.

Mrs. Small of Newburyport, says:

When the women and children had been rescued, the boats that brought them from the wreck were cast loose from the Marine, the men who had manned them positively refusing to return for fresh loads. It was a melancholy spectacle we were now compelled to witness. Three staunch boats floating uselessly upon the rough waves, while the wreck of the steamer, black with people, was visibly sinking before our eyes. Yet all attempts to persuade or drive the seamen to undertake the rescue of others proved utterly unavailing.

MORALS IN MANCHESTER.

In the city of Manchester, as we learn from the American, the application of the law to the disobedient has done good, or at all events prevented evil. From the Records of the Police it appears that "during the three months ending September 19, 1856, there were 212 arrests in that city for all offences, of which 92 were for drunkenness. The whole number of arrests for the three months expiring the 16th inst. was 143, about one-third less than for the same period last year; while the arrests for drunkenness are 45, just one half as many. It is also found that while last year one-half the arrests made were specially for drunkenness, this year less than one-third of the criminals arraigned were brought up for that crime."

Does any one ask for the reason of this considerable change for the better? There is only one that can be given; viz., the increased efforts of temperance men there, who have done as much in the moral way this year as the last, and who especially urged upon the City Government of this year the importance of doing what they could to carry out the law. This has been done, not without defects and failures;—but yet, imperfect as it is, it has crippled the drunkeries, and diminished intemperance and crime in the largest city in the State.

The law is not a dead letter—nor is any honest effort for good ever made in vain.—The cup of cold water, given in christian charity, shall surely meet its reward.

FATAL SCHOOL BOY FIGHT.—In Bangor, on Monday, two boys—Wm. C. Crosby and Charles Lowell, about 15 years old, got into a fight, when Lowell stabbed Crosby with a pen knife, killing him in ten minutes.

FROM KANSAS.—The Kansas Herald of Freedom of September 13, says: "Col. Cooke received an order on Tuesday last from Gen. Harney, in command at Fort Leavenworth, directing him to remove the six companies of dragoons under his command at Lawrence, forthwith to that post, agreeably to the order of the Secretary of War. On Thursday the camp was broken up, and the troops crossed the river en route for the fort. Gov. Walker had received two requests prior to this, desiring the troops to be returned to the fort, but, deeming their services necessary to preserve the peace, he neglected to comply with the command. Hence, probably the reason of the order from the Secretatry of War. Gov. Walker left Lecompton on Tuesday noon last for Fort Leavenworth, it is said with the view of telegraphing the President, and resigning his commission unless sustained by the U. S. troops.

A DIFFERENCE.—If a man in business of most any sort, chances to be unable to pay his creditors—or even wilfully cheats them of their just dues, each grins and bears it as best he can; and the public knows nothing of the matter, except as it happens to be talked about. But let a concert-giver or a play-actor fail to pay his bills for a single night, and straightway the press is down upon him. Why this odds? While we wouldn't perhaps disapprove of having every man "posted" who can but won't pay his bills, we would have every man served alike. The giving of concerts and the like is not so much more sure and profitable than all other business, that those concerned in it should be subject to extra penalties in case of failure. We have known more than once how comforting it is to pocket a loss of fifty or a hundred dollars on a single evening's entertainment, where as much gain might reasonably have been expected. Thank good fortune, we happened to have the necessary funds elsewhere, wherewith to meet the deficit; but all who come out thus may not have—and we can't see why they are not entitled to the same sympathy with other men in similar circumstances.

We are led to these remarks particularly at this time, by the rubbing a couple of our city papers gave a certain singer who gave a concert here last week. Now probably we lost more than both of those offices which "came down" on him; but as we chose to risk our pay on his success—which was a total failure—we will only say that there are more people here who would like to hear from him, than there were present to hear him when he sang.

The Charlestown Advertiser of this week also gives Mr. J. M. Mozart, "the itinerant singer, and his wife," (late Miss Bothamly,) a first-rate notice; stating that he "is a young man of good address, and cheats, dresses and lies in the height of the fashion;" and that he has left the vicinity of Charlestown, "and thereby severed the tender ties universally known to exist between himself and scores of his friendly creditors, of several years' standing."

☞ A negro slave was tried at Appomattox, Va., last Thursday, on a charge of the murder of another slave belonging to the same owner. The evidence was brief, showing that death was caused by a single blow given by a hoe. It was plain that the prisoner acted under an impulse of jealousy toward the deceased, who, it seemed, had supplanted him in the good graces of a female fellow servant. The Court condemned the negro to be hung on the 23d day of October, and assessed his value at $400.

☞ The Portland Argus informs us, in relation to the scoundrel Doctor Young, that:—Upon being taken to the police office and searched, a five-barrelled revolver was found upon him, every barrel loaded with ball. He was placed in charge of officers from New Hampshire, and taken to Portsmouth on Saturday morning.

☞ In view of the high prices of meat, the New York Post says, The wicked, wanton waste of breeding power, which is the besetting sin of American farmers, ought to be checked. Every farmer ought to be required to give an account of himself, who kills a female calf. We ought to preserve every 'cow-calf' for five years to come. By this method we might soon have a supply of beef, not only for ourselves, but for any emergency abroad.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN GRAFTON, VT.—On Sunday morning, Sept. 13, Mr. Horace Taylor and wife and father were riding to church in Grafton, Vt., when the harness becoming disengaged, the horse started upon a run, and overturned the carriage, throwing them upon the ground, and fatally injuring all of them. Mr. Taylor died almost immediately; his wife had both of her arms broken, besides receiving other injuries; and the old gentleman was so much hurt as to preclude all hope of his recovery.

We did not conceive it to be worth while to pay any heed to the letter of Gen. Pillow to the people of Tennessee, published in some of our papers, a week ago, or to afford so suspicious a document any circulation in the colums of the Courier.—Boston Cour.

We have never mentioned, till now, the fact that such a letter was written. Pillow was the dunce who dug the ditch on the wrong side of his wall, in the Mexican war. His opinion on military matters is not worth a button.

THE COUNTRY BANKS.—Many of the banks in the rural districts and in towns and cities on the sea board will be sufferers by their recent attempts to secure usurious rates of interest. Instead of attending to the wants of the regular trade in their localities, and sustaining business men near about them, the officers, turning a deaf ear to their regular customers, came to Boston, and bought paper at the "street rates."—Some of these gentlemen were in town last Saturday and were "anxious inquirers."—Have the Bank Commissioners no voice to stop such illegal proceedings?—Boston Transcript.

THE FALL IN THE PRICE OF WHEAT.—A cargo of wheat arrived at Buffalo, last week, says the Republic, consigned to a house with instructions to sell at $1 15.—when it arrived, all that was offered was $1 10; and the consignee telegraphed the owner to come down and sell it himself.—On the day of his arrival, it had gone down to $1 05; he offered at that figure, and was offered one dollar, but he thought he would look about before selling at that price, and when he went to make the trade it had fallen to 95c; he waited till the next day, and was offered 90c for it, and took it—fearing if he held it a week longer, it would not sell at any price.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Yesterday the keel of a seventy-four for the Russian government was laid at the yard of Wm. H. Webb. She is to be a screw steamer of extraordinary dimensions, and will be the flagship of the Russian Navy. Baron Stockl, the Russian Minister, together with several distinguished officers of the Russian Navy, were present.

Pim White, a noted character, was arrested yesterday on a charge of having swindled a firm of brokers out of $47,000 by exhibiting a check on the Suffolk Bank, Boston, for $100,000, and by other fraudulent means.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—As it is understood that the Hon. H. F. French, of Exeter, who has been the President of the Society since its inauguration, positively declines being a candidate for re-election, we would nominate for the consideration of the farmers of the county, that eminent practical agriculturalist and citizen of Greenland, Col. Joshua W. Peirce, for the next President of the Society. This selection would be an excellent and fitting one. Col. Pierce is one of the best practical and theoretical farmers in New England, and his varied knowledge and large experience in all agricultural matters would prove invaluable to the Society.—N. H. Gaz.

SHORT WEIGHT.—A good deal of fault is found with some of the Boston pork packers by our traders, for short weight. A barrel of pork should weigh 200 pounds. We saw a barrel weighed a few days since, which fell short 20 pounds. But on an average, they will turn out about 190 pounds.—Newburyport Herald.

SHORT TIME.—We are sorry to hear that the Bartlett Mills are to yield to the "hard times," so far as to reduce their work one-third part. This week they will not run on Friday and Saturday; but shortly they are to run every day, but reduce their hours one-third, and thus save their gas bills. The other mills will probably soon do the same.—Newburyport Herald.

THE EFFECT OF INTEMPERANCE OVER NIGHT.—Alex. Smith says—

"I often sat at those wild drinking hours,
Which seemed divine,
In a great flash of wit—and lose next morn, Throat like the parched Sahara, and each ear loud as a cotton mill."

The steamship Glasgow, from Glasgow 5th inst., arrived at New York, reports that on the 16th inst., experienced a terrific squall, carrying away every stitch of square canvass, and the fore and main topgallant mast yards, and main yard, and started the mainmast,

☞ In the Lowell Police Court, on Monday morning, Heman and Wm. H. Woodward and Catherine Gill were each bound over for trial as common sellers.

FRANKLIN, N. H., Sept. 22. — James Yale, brakeman, fell from the cattle train and was killed, about 2 o'clock this morning, at Fisherville.

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 36 in., 40 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks New and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street, ALLEN & PAINE.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 21.—The most extensive fire that we have had here for years, occurred yesterday. Johnson's Hotel and many other buildings were destroyed. Loss $50,000, of which one-half was insured, principally in southern offices.

FINANCIAL.—New York, Sept. 21.—The money market to-day was fully as stringent as last week, notwithstanding the banks discounted to the full extent of their means. Stocks were consequently unusually depressed and some fell largely.—First class endorsed paper sold in the street at the rate of 18 and 24 per cent, and single name bills for 24 a 30. The announcement of heavy failures in the dry goods business in Philadelphia added to the depression. Of these failures the most important are:—Hecker & Lee; John Farnum & Co.; Thos. P. Remington; Deal, Milligan & Co., and Newhouse & Spatz.—The aggregate liabilities of these houses are estimated at $4,000,000. The two first have an extensive connection with New England manufacturers.

Cyrus W. Field & Co. extensive paper dealers, failed to-day. Liabilities very large.

A SOUTHERN CORNFIELD.—Mr. Daniel S. Morrison was lost in an immense cornfield in Hot Spring County, Arkansas, and wandered about for three days, trying to find his way out. He was found on the fourth day by his negroes, who went in search for him.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FITS! FITS!—The Princess Charlotte of Wales was destroyed by fits! acrid matter in the stomach and bowels, green stools, &c., &c., are some of the causes. The celebrated Carminative will regulate the system.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward ($25) for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound. Molasses for 40 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices, the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cts.; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. au13 tf

Dr. Wilson's Dysentery Powders are a Medicine long needed. Persons are often suddenly attacked with Dysentery, Diarrhea, and Cholera Morbus, without being able to procure medical assistance, until the disease has completely prostrated the patient. No family should be without these Powders. One, taken in the first stages of the disease will almost invariably check it. They are perfectly safe and effectual. For sale by J. H. Thacher and Wm. R. LOCAL.

THE FAIR GROUND.—We learn from the Committee of Arrangements that the lot for the Fair has been selected and secured, and arrangements are in progress for enclosing it, and building the pens for the animals. The lot is the best in the city; situated on Middle street, at the head of Anthony street; and is owned by Dr. Edward Rundlett. Much credit for his liberal offer is due to Dr. R., who asks no remuneration whatever.

The ground for the Plowing Match has not yet been decided upon, but will be in a day or two. The Committee are laboring arduously, and are fully competent to do up all the business required of them, in good style.

DRUMS, FIDDLES AND FIFES.—Uncle Toby is greatly amazed, but not much frightened, to see young Mr. Sensitious pitch into the big drum, which is one of our city institutions. Uncle T. don't believe the Union would be dissolved, or the band, or the drum; but he does believe the latter can be judiciously beaten, exactly as he believes the laws can be judiciously executed, that is to say, with just enough noise and no more—and the beats put in just when and where they are wanted.

Let no modern Sensitious be frightened, when we carry him back 45 years or so, to hear a band of four and twenty fifes and drums—(snare drums, not bass, for there were none here)—with no other instrument! Let the dozen fifes all play the air of the tune, and the dozen drums beat as loud as possible—and Sensitious will get an idea of the charming rub-a-dub-dub which we enjoyed then, on Portsmouth Plains, and—crowning glory of all—as the regiments marched into the town at the close of the day, with the drums beating, colors flying, and now and then a musket popping, as some not very sober soldier discharged his firelock on his own hook.

Such was a military band in that day.—A little later we had the Portsmouth Band, wherein the bass instruments were two bass viols, lashed on the players' breasts by bands round the neck. The bass drum got along here about 1812, and was added to our drum and fife band; and on the Plains in 1813 or '14, Sensitious might have seen and heard bands of over 30 drums and fifes, with 4 or 5 bass drums, making a grand clatter. A couple of German buglers were brought in here prisoners about this time, and, leaving the British army, they joined ours, and added their blasts to our outdoor music.

But the drum, all over the world, is the delight of noisy boys—not to mention thousands of old boys, who still relish a noise, though they have become rather too old to make much noise themselves.

Large bands usually have several drums, and to beat them well demands a first-rate musician.

A BADGE.—On Monday, says the Traveller, the operatives of the Eastern Railroad at East Boston, presented to Elijah B. Young, for seven years past a Conductor of the Portsmouth Passenger train of that road, a beautiful gold badge, as a token of the respect and esteem of his fellow operatives. The presentation speech was made by W. J. B. Kenney, who said that it was given to one worthy to receive, by honest hearts and willing hands. Mr. Young, upon receiving the badge, made a brief reply, returning them his thanks for their elegant and appropriate present. Mr. Young is one of the best conductors who ever had charge of a train; and deserves a gold badge every trip he makes. Long may he run, and always be Young.

☞ We learn that our Portsmouth Cornet Band is to be immediately reinforced by the addition of two new treble instruments, which will be a great improvement. Their evening concerts have been very popular; but the weather is getting a little cool for the audience, and we should think for the players too.

☞ It will be seen that there is to be an exhibition of Indian manners and customs at the Temple this evening. A troupe of the Penobscot tribe, from Oldtown, Maine, have been camping in Frenchman's Lane for a week or two past: and are to give the public a "taste of their quality," as delineators on the stage. They are said to be performers of good abilities.

HORRIBLE POISONING CASE.—Augusta, Ga., Sept. 20.—On Sunday last, in Pike county, Alabama, a family of 37 persons was poisoned by the negro cook, who mixed arsenic in their food. Six are already dead, others are in a very critical condition. The family is that of Thomas Fazell, overseer. The cook says she was instigated to the crime by a man named Cosikima, a Hungarian. She was burnt immediately, and the Hungarian will share the same fate to-morrow.

DIED.

In this city, on Monday night, Sept. 21st, of consumption, Mr. Horatio Parker, aged 28 years, youngest son of Wm. B. Parker, Esq.

OBITUARY.

The good die young. A true friend has gone to his long home. We met him often on the busy street, at our place of business, at the Reading Room; at the Mercantile Library Association; he entered into our discussions,—and always made himself an agreeable companion. His education placed him on a level with the learned; his good sense and amiable manners endeared him to all who met him, in all the walks of life. A few months since he was with us, the first in discussions and debates; always ready to advance any cause for the benefit of those who needed his voice or means. A librarian of the M. L. Association for two years, until his health obliged him to resign, he was very efficient; and in fact, did more to build up the Library, and make it one of the best in the State, than any other. We miss his quiet step, his cheerful laugh and kind words; but he has gone to his wished-for home in Heaven.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

Any amount of Heat required,

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them,

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed, without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH THE ENTIRE SEASON,

Morning Chronicle.

RUINED YOUNG MEN.—Call the roll of the "young men of 1830," and ask where they are! DeBalzac is dead,—coffee killed him. Federic Soulie is dead,. the victim of coffee and licentiousness. Eugene Briffant died a madman in the Charenton Lunatic Asylum. Grandville went mad, and breathed his last in a private insane house. Lasally died at the Charenton man house, a raving lunatic. Lowe Weimars died from opium-eating and licentiousness.—Rabbs, after suffering agony from a loathsome disease, took poison to end his prolonged torture. Alfred de Musset died a victim to the bottle and the cigar. Count Alfred d'Orsay was killed by the cigar and licentiousness. Charles de Bernard died from coffee and licentiousness. Henri Boyale died from coffee and bad women.—Hippolite Royer Collard died from tobacco and coffee. Gerard de Norval, after oscillation between plenty and want, abstemiousness and licentiousness, went mad and hung himself. All died of softening of the brain or spinal marrow, or swelling of the heart! All moved down in the prime of life, in the meridian of their intellect and fame!

Eugene Sue's name is added to the fatal list. Coffee and bad women were his ruin. He died away from his friends, away from his family, away from the home he had adorned with elaborate care; an exile in a foreign land. Who would have predicted such an end to Eugene Sue in 1841, when he was the favorite of Paris, rolling in wealth, courted by every one, a darling of most aristocratic pretentions? Ah! who can read the future?—From a Paris Letter.

ROBBERY AND SUICIDE.—The St. Paul Minnesotian of the 12th inst, says the Quarter Master at Fort Snelling was robbed a few days previous, of about $6000 in gold. Suspicion fell on two men who had deserted the day the gold was missing. It was ascertained that they had taken the stage to a place called Henderson. A sheriff was notified to meet and arrest them there. When the coach drove up to the office, one of the robbers perceiving the crowd assembled, and divining the meaning, stepped from the coach with his carpet bag, and before the sheriff could execute his warrant, drew a knife and stabbed himself to the heart! He had only time to utter, pointing to his carpet bag, "there is the money," and fell dead. The other gave himself up.

A SHARP BROKER.—An old and very sharp broker in Cleveland, thinking to lessen the express charge on a package of money, marked it $1,500, when in reality it contained $2,350. It went at that rate, but unfortunately it was lost, and the broker not daring to claim the whole amount, had to accept $1,500 from the express company, thus paying $850 for his "sharpness." The best of the story is, the company found the package after they had paid the broker, and discovered the cheat that had enriched them in a cool $850.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, authorized by the State of Maryland, and commissioned elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the money and prizes will be paid wherever the Managers are well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another point which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month, and as particular days are named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket and the Havana and Bowery Company's combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The owners of the numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

Address R. S. HUBBARD & CO.,

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything is done with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being just as safe as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and as so simple anyone can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; a prize in every 10 drawings, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since. when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white, and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not merely because of its beautiful effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do now cheerfully and confidently recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Bilesfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

CARLISLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, premature gray. Its use by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BASSETT, ex-Senator, U. S.

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, if it be easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the finkie and solids. Such is its potency, that HIS vaccine matter, if required, merely will adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptives among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and wherever that is the case, he Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections, in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c.! Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, for they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, can remit a Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box 1531, Post Office, New York City, and have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGE AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors with the Patent Office, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but ONE AILMENT—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, or extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It is asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, after the discovery, need no further proof.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which is attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24. 1857.

A COMPLIMENT—OVER THE LEFT.—The Boston Traveller speaks a good word for Mr. Choate, as a Judge of the Supreme Court, and says of him:

It would reflect honor no less upon the country than upon him, if he should assume this ermine of judicial magistracy.

This is doing the fair thing for him;—but now hear the Traveller on the rest of the bench.

Too many small men are already perched there, for a bench of imperial jurisdiction.

Small men! eh? Is that the way for a National paper to speak of the old roosters who hatched the Dred Scott brood of chickens? Does the writer mean to insinuate that they must be old hens after all?

Miss Harriet Martineau is full of womanly anger at the way in which she is handled in Mrs. Gaskell's Life of Charlotte Bronte. "When I find," she writes, "that in my own case, scarcely one of Miss Bronte's statements about me is altogether true, I cannot be surprised at her biographer, having been misled in other cases of more importance."

All this is as natural as life. Miss Martineau is as frequently belied in England, as Theodore Parker and Parker Pillsbury are in this country. And Miss Bronte and Mrs. Gaskell believe common report there, as readily as Sigma does here. Hence the great errors of honest writers.

THE CENTRAL AMERICA.—The official statement of the Chief Engineer, Ashby, which appears in the New York papers, and is sworn to by him, and also confirmed in part by some of the survivors, contains nothing new, but goes to prove that the steamer leaked badly early on Friday forenoon, and that the water flowing in from these leaks put out her fires, and thus caused the fatal catastrophe.

The New York Evening Post has been "assured upon very competent authority, that the steamship Central America always strained dangerously in a heavy sea, and was not regarded as a safe vessel by seafaring men who knew her qualities." If this is correct, it is conclusive of the culpability of her owners, and not a thousand certificates from builders will save them from the just execration of the community.

☞ One Walter Hughes, a loafer of Manchester, was sent to jail on Monday, for stabbing a man on Sunday. From the American it appears that two young men, Walter Hughes and Owen McQuiney, recently employed in the Stark Block, went to the Mammoth, where they got drunk and quarrelled. They took a ride upon the pond, and while in the boat came to blows. On their return to the city the fight was renewed. Hughes approached McQuiney in the shop with a shoe knife, and told him he was intending to settle the matter. McQuiney replied that he did not wish to have a fracas in the shop. At that moment, Hughes made a rush at McQuiney, and after some resistance, stabbed him dangerously.

MAINE ELECTION.—The Portland Advertiser has accurate returns from 378 towns and 74 plantations, and the result is as follows:

Morrill,	53,891
Smith,	41,044
Morrill's majority,	12,847

There are twelve small towns and seventeen plantations to be heard from, and they will probably return about 1000 votes for each candidate, leaving Mr. Morrill's majority just about thirteen thousand.

It appears in the evidence before the coroner at Albany, in the case of Mr. C. M. Fletcher, from Vermont, who committed suicide in Stanwix Hall on Sunday night last, that the barkeeper of the Delavan House furnished him with three drinks of liquor within a period of twenty minutes. The Knickerbocker says the house belongs to E. C. Delavan, "the head of the great temperance party there."

If the above statements were all exactly true, they should be published everywhere to Mr. Delavan's disgrace. If we remember rightly, however, the Delavan House has not been under Mr. Delavan's control for some years, in consequence of some legal decision in a contest of his with a lessee.

☞ On Tuesday last, two ladies belonging in Kennebunk, Maine, passed through this city on their route homeward from Cuba. They were desirous to take passage in the Central America, from Havana, on her fatal trip, but were refused, on account of yellow fever. Disappointed, but not discouraged, they took passage in a sailing vessel and arrived safely in New York, without accident.

A PLEASURE TRIP OUT WEST.

NO. II.

CEDAR CREEK, Wis., Sept. 17.

Messrs. Editors:—Leaving Montreal on the morning of the 7th, for Toronto, we had a long ride through rather an uninteresting country. Where the Ottawa joins the St. Lawrence, soon after leaving Montreal, is, however, particularly fine; the water being thickly studded with the most beautiful islands.

A little incident happened in the cars that day. A native of the "Gem of the Ocean," came very near making a bull. Being in search of a seat, the Conductor told him he could probably find an empty one in the back car. Out he goes, but soon returns and accosts the Conductor with, "If you place, sir, ivery empty sent is full."

For some distance, the Grand Trunk Railroad runs on the very beach of Lake Ontario; and though this has caused some harsh remarks from Canadian newspapers, still we enjoyed it very much, and as the full moon rose up out of the lake, ere we arrived at Toronto, the scene was beautiful, very beautiful.

At Toronto, we stopped until noon the next day; the waiter having, of course, forgotten to call us in season for the morning train. Here we saw many very fine-looking horses. The largest building appeared to be the market,—which bears the name of St. Lawrence Hall.

From Toronto to Detroit in the afternoon, by the Great Western Railway,—dusty and warm; but as it was not quite 300 miles, there was no cause to complain. A large steamer takes us across the river to Detroit, on board of which we find an excellent supper. We purposed stopping over one train in Detroit, having heard so much of its beauty, but on looking around a few squares, we concluded that the sooner we left for Chicago, the better, and therefore jumped aboard the first train.

Arrived at Chicago, I must confess I was very agreeably disappointed in my expectations of that place. Fine buildings erected and in process of erection are on all sides. The grade of the streets has recently been raised, and they are now, in some places, four or five feet above the sidewalks.

On Thursday, the 10th, was the annual parade of the Fire Department of Chicago. The Companies made a fine display, and the Hope Hose Company, with their splendid carriage, seemingly all silver, was the most brilliant of the lot.

From Chicago to Milwaukie, is short and rather uninteresting; Waukegan, built upon a sand bank and said to be a fast rising place, being the chief exception. All the passengers stretch their necks and try to see where in the world the town is, but the height of the bank prevents such observation.

At Milwaukie, we tried two hotels in a stop of 18 hours, and came to the conclusion that they were rather poor. Here are many fine buildings; the handsomest of all is the State Bank of Wisconsin, built of White Illinois marble. Here we enquired for Cedar Creek. "Can you speak Dutch?" was the interrogative reply. We asserted our ignorance of that language. "Well, then, I don't know how you'll ever find it." However we did find it, and here we are, enjoying just the wildest sort of backwoods life to be had where there are no ferocious beasts or wild Indians.

But the ducks are in the creek, and that is too strong a temptation to be resisted.

From your sporting friend,

CYPHAX.

☞ Mabel Vaughan is a delightful book, "by the Author of the Lamplighter;" just published in Boston, by John P. Jewett & Co., and for sale in this city by J. H. Foster.

It is not enough to call Mabel Vaughan a Story with a Moral; it is that and great deal more. It is a tale studded full of natural incidents, every one of which has its moral, sometimes stated, always visible. The novel reader will go through it rapidly, for the interesting thread of the discourse; and the moralist will pause many times, to smile and to weep at the life-like touches of the writer's pen.

RICH EDITORS.—An exchange says that editors are, as a general thing, not overstocked with worldly goods. Humbug. Here we are, editor of a country paper, fairly rolling in wealth. We have a good office, a double-barrelled rifle, seven suits of clothes, three kittens, a Newfoundland pup, two gold watches, thirteen day and two night shirts, carpets on our floor, a pretty wife, own one corner lot, have ninety-three cents in cash, are out of debt, and have no rich relatives. If we are not wealthy it is a pity. Hurrah for hurrah! Who cares for cash.—Horicon (Wis.) Argus.

That's right. Who wants to keep money, when there are so many things infinitely better which can be had for it? Only look out to get something worth having, that's all.

WHAT HAS PRESIDENT BUCHANAN DONE FOR THE SOUTH?—This question is triumphantly answered by Hon. A. H. Stephens of Georgia, in a late electioneering discussion, as follows:

What had Mr. Buchanan done to recommend him to the confidence of Southern men? He had appointed four Southern men as members of his Cabinet, and from the North he had selected three others who had been distinguished for their firm, unyielding and unselfish devotion to the constitutional rights of the South. Two of them, Gen. Cass and Mr. Toucey, had sacrificed themselves at home, and been defeated by Black Republicans, because they stood by the South in her hour of need, and Mr. Buchanan had shown his appreciation of their broad nationality, and his inclination to protect Northern defenders of Southern rights, by calling them to high office and selecting them as his Cabinet advisers.

What had he done? He had, in his inaugural address, done more than any man who had preceded him in the Presidential office ever had done, in giving in his adhesion, in advance of its delivery, to the principles of the Dred Scott decision of the Supreme Court, and proclaiming, as a rule for the conduct of his administration, the true doctrine of Southern equality in the Territories of the Union.

What had he done? He had given us the whole governmental organization of Kansas; had recognized the laws of that Territory, against which the Black Republicans had revolted; and had placed Southern men in every office of honor or influence in the Territory; and he had placed no man in office in Kansas, or anywhere else, who was not pledged to sustain the Kansas-Nebraska act, and all the other legislation in Congress which secured to the South her rights under the constitution.

What had he done? What had he not done which a Southern man with any propriety could ask that a President of the United States should do?

CONSCIENCE AND CONSOLATION.—A Southern paper, among its watch-house items, tells of a "nice looking young gentleman," who was taken up one evening, for intoxication, and the next morning was fined $7. He paid the fine cheerfully, considering it very lenient and gentle, "for," he added, "I certainly disgraced myself and outraged the community: but, Mr. Officer, can you tell me where to get a glass of sweetened wine, with loaf-sugar, nutmeg, and a fresh egg in it?"

This nice young gentleman puts Uncle Toby in mind of Solomon's fool, (Prov. 23: 25,) who says, "When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again."

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.—A man named Albert Patterson was indicted by the Grand Jury, at the present term of the Municipal Court, Boston, for bigamy, and was arraigned with the other prisoners. The allegation of the government was, that Patterson, under the name of Eli Merrill, married one Elizabeth Atkins on the 2d of May last, he having then a lawful wife alive. The theory was supported by Rev. Perez Mason, who testified quite positively, before the Police Court and before the Grand Jury, that he married the parties at the house of a Mrs. Stone, under the names stated above. Two other witnesses testified to the same effect. The defendant had been in jail several weeks, but was released yesterday under somewhat extraordinary circumstances. Doubts existed in the minds of some, of the guilt of the defendant, and exertions were made to discover the truth. The result was, that the real Eli Merrill was produced in Court, and testified to his own identity and to the fact of his marriage. A nolle prosequi was at once entered and the prisoner discharged.

Among the deaths in Providence, last week, was one caused by intense conviction of sin, from which the unhappy sufferer, a young lady of much promise, could obtain no relief. Medical men could discover no trace of physical disease, and the efforts of faithful clergymen to lighten the burden from her mind were unavailing. Overpowered by a sense of the Divine wrath, she steadily refused nourishment, and thus entered upon the untried scenes of a future state.

Sad and pitiable, that any human being should be so misled. If the blind lead the blind, &c.

THE SUPPLY OF SUGAR IN FRANCE.—Mr. Walsh, in his Paris letter to the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, says:

Sugar is falling; the beet root factories will supply this year two hundred and forty million pounds. The Isle of Reunion (Bourbon) will produce one hundred and twenty millions; the French West Indies will probably send a hundred millions. Altogether the supply will exceed the demand in France.

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks New and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street, ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ A meeting of the Sullivan Association of Universalists was held at Claremont a few days since. The National Eagle says:

The services closed on Thursday afternoon by the celebration of the Communion, in which we were pleased to notice several persons belonging to other churches participated with those of the Universalist denomination. An interesting feature of the meeting was the presence of three of the former pastors of the Universalist Church in this place; Rev. Mr. Balch of New York City, Rev. Mr. Adams of Worcester, Mass., and Rev. Mr. Willis of Warner. The re-union was pleasant to them and to their numerous friends in this and the adjoining towns.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The New Haven morning train was thrown off the track this morning near Fordham. All the cars were smashed; one man was killed, and several were injured.

Another Railroad Disaster.—The morning train from Norwalk for this city ran off the track, smashing all the cars. Several persons were hurt, but probably none seriously.

Bank Failures.—Western papers announce the failure of the Central Bank, and the Bank of the Capital, at Indianapolis.

The merchants to-day held their adjourned meeting, when upwards of $8000 were handed in towards the fund for the relief of the suffering passengers of the Central America.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FITS! FITS!—The Princess Charlotte of Wales was destroyed by fits! acrid matter in the stomach and bowels, green stools, &c., &c., are some of the causes. The celebrated Carminative will regulate the system.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound. Molasses for 40 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices, the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cts.; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. au13 tf

Dr. Wilson's Dysentery Powders are a Medicine long needed. Persons are often suddenly attacked with Dysentery, Diarrhea, and Cholera Morbus, without being able to procure medical assistance, until the disease has completely prostrated the patient. No family should be without these Powders. One, taken in the first stages of the disease will almost invariably check it. They are perfectly safe and effectual. For sale by J. H. Thacher and Wm. R. NEUTRAL PAPERS.—The Exeter News Letter copies from a Manchester paper a table of the newspapers in New Hampshire, wherein several papers are characterized as Neutral—and then the News Letter remarks:

Some of the above named papers, indicated as neutral, are, if we have read them right, far from being of that character. So far as the News Letter is concerned, we altogether eschew that term, if taken in its common acceptation; NEUTRAL, as defined in the dictionaries, signifies "not on either side." We disclaim such neutrality. We are and have been, ever since we undertook the conduct of the News Letter, on the side of the Free Soil party and against the extension of slavery beyond its present limits. The Portsmouth Chronicle and the Peterborough Transcript can speak for themselves, but they do not appear to us to be at all inclined to neutrality in politics, or anything else.

No: we claim to be independent; and aim to be impartial;—but we have never professed to be neutral. Some papers have chosen to speak of our neutrality—and if they choose to speak thus, so let them speak. It is a sort of armed neutrality, if any.

For the Chronicle.

Dear Uncle Toby:—You have got a hard brain, Uncle Toby, to pierce. Sensitivus does not hate the Drum, but he dislikes the beating of it in such a way as to annihilate all the other sounds of the creation, when it accompanies a little Band of 12 or 15. The "infernal drummer" beats loud enough, if not too loud, for a Band of 48. On the contrary, Sensitivus thinks a Band without a big drum, would be like a face without a nose; but a little face with a very large nose, is not everybody's charm. Sensitivus is charmed by the exciting rythm of 12 or 24 drums, when beaten in perfect time, as he is by the volleys of a 74 man-o'-war; but everything in its place. We don't go, when the Band plays, to hear drums; we go to hear the music. In short, Sensitivus wished to convey the idea, generally acknowledged, that there is too much and too heavy drumming in our Band; so much so indeed, that the greater part of the music is drowned by it.

But now, three cheers for our aspiring, smart and diligent little Band! They have accomplished as much, if not more in the short time of their existence—as anybody can reasonably expect.

SENSITIVUS.

☞ It was a sad sight on Wednesday, to observe a drunken fellow staggering along the street followed by about half a dozen boys, who were making very personal remarks relative to the man's gait; and also looked him very intently in the face, which raised his ire to quite a high pitch; and caused him to express himself in the following words:

"Who are you looking at? go right straight off! not be standing here, gaping at me;" but the command was not heeded, except by one of the youngsters, who applied his thumb to his nasal appendage, which retort did not seem satisfactory, but rather tended to increase his wrath, than diminish it; and thereupon he made a sudden spring at them, when they started to run, and he followed in pursuit. We don't know whether he caught them or not, but we do know that he would have avoided this annoyance if he had let liquor alone, and passed on without noticing boys, who are always on hand for fun or tricks.

REPORTER.

☞ On Sunday last, a young man named James Pickering, living in the south part of the city, saved a child of six years, from being drowned in the dock. Pickering is an invalid, and lame; and as he went out, his mother charged him not to get wet; but as soon as he closed the door behind him he heard shouts of alarm from terrified bystanders who saw the child in the dock but did not seem to know how to get it out. He plunged in at once, and seized the poor thing as it was making its last plunge; and after restoring it to the mother, went home to his own, thoroughly wet, but as thoroughly happy in the performance of a good deed.

☞ Mr. Timothy Hennessy, one of the men injured on Monday, by the falling of a scaffolding on which he was wheeling coal, died of his injuries on Monday night.

CARD.

The Officers and members of Piscataqua Engine Co. No. 4 tender their sincere thanks to volunteers, for their valuable services rendered at the reception of the Masebesic boys on Thursday evening last. Per order of the Company.

J. T. FRENCH, Clerk.

TO CURE A COUGH, buy a bottle of the Balsam of Wild Cherry. We have more faith in this combination of Dr. Wistar, than in any other remedy known, having witnessed its entire success in many cases of protracted cough.

TOWN TEAMS FOR THE FAIR.—We understand that several of the towns in the County are getting up teams of oxen to appear in the procession. We hope Portsmouth farmers will get up one.—A team of ten yoke can be entered for a premium of $10. Portsmouth can make as good a show as any other town. Let three or four farmers club together, select their best cattle, rig up a cart with specimens of the products of their farms, and show the multitude that we are not behind the rest of mankind. "Hus-star up!"

☞ The Mechanics Association have accepted the invitation to appear in the Fair Procession on the 1st of October. Good—let the farmers and the mechanics join together, hand in hand, and show of what stuff they are made. Fill out the column.

☞ We learn from Exeter, that Ex-Fountain Engine Co., No. 1, of that town, Capt. H. E. Clough,—will probably attend the County Fair in this city next week.

Another of those mis-named "military encampments," was held at Lynnfield on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday last.—Even the reporters of the Boston press, who always 'dress up the doings in good shape,' for favors received, did not condescend to give this camp the usual puff of praise.—Many of the soldiers acted fast and loose. Gambling, rum-drinking and rowdyism were the most noted features of the occasion, and the blackleg profited more by the exhibition than the people of the State! The "Executive knife" will need sharpening if we are to have many more such exhibitions.

THE MOST SKEPTICAL PEOPLE

Can be convinced by trial that all the family medicines are not humbug, and that among the thousand of butterfly life, there are a few of great merit and undoubted worth. Of those, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, stands first and foremost among the remedies of the day; that can be relied on as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its proprietors. It advertises itself on every trial, for there are none who use it but tell their friends to do so, and so it goes from mouth to mouth, till all the people of the Union have learned the good of this truly valuable medicine. It is recommended, by testimonials to prove its virtue, for the cure of liver complaints of every kind, from the worst Dyspepsia to a common headache, and is particularly adapted to Jaundice, Deranged Stomach, Bowel Complaints, and diseases of Children.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Senator Slidell has received a letter from Senator Benjamin, dated City of Mexico, 4th inst., announcing that he and his colleague had succeeded in making satisfactory arrangements with the Mexican government, relative to the Tehuantepec Transit Route, and that President Comonfort acted in this matter against the earnest protest of our Minester, Mr. Forsyth, who thwarted Messrs. Benjamin and La Sere to the extent of his power, and causing them by his opposition the loss of a million of dollars.

Mr. Benjamin promises at an early day, to set forth all the facts in proper form, to be laid before the President of the United States. It is further stated that Forsyth was overreached by Mr. Soulé, who is represented as the attorney of parties who are opposed to that transit route. The administration having sactioned or advised the movement which has resulted in the annulling of the Sloo and Garay grants, it is reasonably inferred that our government will take the conduct of Mr. Forsyth into serious consideration. Senator Slidell has submitted Mr. Benjimin's letter to the President.

A letter has been received from contractor Magraw, who has reached Scott's Bluffs, and was progressing finely with his portion of the California Wagon Road.

It is now positively known that Dr. Tate, of Va., has been appointed Sixth Auditor of the Treasury, in place of Mr. Phillips; and James Madison Cutts, father-in-law of Senator Douglas, second comptroller, Vice Brodhead.

ODD FELLOWS ANNUAL MEETING.—Baltimore, Sept. 22.—At the annual session of the Grand Lodge of the United States Odd fellows, opened here yesterday, Geo. W. Race, of La., was installed Grand Sire; Timothy G. Senter of N. H., Deputy Grand Sire; J. L. Ridgley, of Md., Grand Secretary, and Joshua Van Zant of Md., Grand Treasurer. The address of the retiring Grand Sire gives an encouraging view of the prospects and success of the Order throughout the Union.

AN UNCERTAIN CONVERT.—Rev. Mr. Bakewell, an English Unitarian clergyman, the author of a singularly feeble book upon his conversion to Episcopacy, afterwards a member of the Roman Catholic Church, has now found a new body in which to rest his weary thoughts for a while, by joining a Catholic Church at the West, said to be independent of Rome and wholly apostolic. He proved to be a bitter controversialist.—Bos. Transcript.

The Board of Examiners having reported in favor of the plan of Mr. Jacob A. Westervelt, of New York, for the new screw propeller sloop-of-war, the Secretary of the Navy has awarded him the contract.

Morning Chronicle.

LARGE CONTRACT.—Messrs. M. & J. H. Buck, of Lebanon, N. H., the other day took a contract for building 2000 of Allen's Patent Mowing Machines, for the next season, amounting to between one and two hundred thousand dollars.

"Are you afraid of banks failing?" asked the cashier as Mrs. Partington went to draw her pension. "Banks failing," said the dame. "I never had any idea about it at all. If he gets votes enough, I don't see how he can fail, and if he don't, I can't see how he is to help it." "I meant," said he, the banks that furnish currency for the country" She stood a moment counting her bills. "Oh, you did, did you?" said she; "well, it's about the same thing. If they have money enough to redeem with (and heaven knows there's need enough of redemption for a good many of them, and more grace than they allow their customers,) they may stand it, but doubtful things are uncertain." She paused off like an exhalation, and the cashier counted out one hundred and fifteen dollars and seventeen cents fifteen times while pondering what she said, in order to catch her meaning.—*Boston Sat. AYER'S Cathartic Pills,
(SUGAR COATED.)
ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK
Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, and their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.
Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach
PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1856.
DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will do others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.
Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Sawyer Clarion.
Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints
DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1, 1856.
SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their range of adaptation on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease to obstinate that it did not yield to them.
Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.
Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.
POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of them had been bedridden and bent, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.
GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.
Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.
From Rev. J. P. Hines, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.
DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best medicine I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.
WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.
DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.
JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.
From a Farmerding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little boy of a disease setting upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and it is her belief they are now cured, as she has taken your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE.
Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.
From the Rev. Dr. Hunter, of the Methodist Episc. Church.
PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 4, 1856.
HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the benefit your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.
SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1854.
DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has defied medical skill for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.
For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.
For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.
Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.
Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the doubtful consequence that frequently follow its incautious exhibition. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, IN CIPIENT CONSUMPTION,
and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.
We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the dangerous diseases that fasten upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumption it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable destroyer that fastened on the vitals, calls your life away. All know the fearful fatality of lung disorders, and they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not dwell upon them to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and then offer it to those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.
The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCE & Co are the managers, are authorized by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the public should pay attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. Where a class is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of whole tickets ranges from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number drawing a prize, and (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or parts of tickets receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.
☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also the Baltimore Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

LOTTERIES.
THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries are legalized by law, and are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received during the week filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that a child can tell the number drawn. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing published in the papers.
☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and Savannah Weekly Dog Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m15ly

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD
OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,
Completely Preserved
TO THE GREATEST AGE.
AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.
ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not from vanity, but because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. I know my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and virtues are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray; (by reason of lapse of time, or other causes) to its former color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.
Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.
FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Hillsdale before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the most likely to do us good. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending it to us to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.
Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.
CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1853.
I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

Re-establishment of the old Plan of management.
LEWIS RICE, Proprietor, respectfully announces that he has resumed the old plan of his management, as it existed before the recent alteration. Trial of the European system in this Hotel, proves that although the advantages are great, yet the plan is better adapted for the smaller class of hotels.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience
THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restore the nature to its regular element, in every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular and if from any cause an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to suffer and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.
These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind at the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full models of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most learned and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot find a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—and but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUNDRY INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It is asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely a slight abrasion to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

REPUBLICAN.—DEMOCRAT.—Speaking of party names, and especially of the name Republican, the Boston Courier says:

In the early days of the Republic, when it was imagined or pretended that the Federal party was anti-republican in its doctrines or tendencies, there was more reason for the assumption of such a name as a distinctive party title. But even Mr. Jefferson, the father of Republicanism, admitted that all were Republicans and all Federalists. And the title of Republicanism then assumed by Anti-Federalists, scarcely adhered to the party. The enemies of the party only recognized its adherents as Jacobins; and by a tacit compromise the name of Democracy was finally substituted.

We would respectfully suggest that the above quotation is a historical error. While it is true that the federalists sometimes called their opponents Jacobins,—it is not true that the name Republican "scarcely adhered to the party." So far from this, they called themselves by that name, and no other, and under that name, they carried five successive presidential elections, viz. Jefferson twice, Madison twice, and Monroe once. Then, and not till then, when the federal party died, and federalists joined the republicans,—the republican papers began to change their head "Republican Ticket," which they had used for twenty years, and to put in "Democratic Republican Ticket."

But the name Democrat, as the title of a party, was never adopted generally over the country until the contest which resulted in the election of President Jackson.

REV. DR. DICK.—The Christian Ambassador, of the 12th September, publishes a letter written by the late Dr. Dick, the eminent author of the "Christian Philosopher," dated Broughty Ferry, near Dundee, Feb. 22, 1849. In the letter Dr. Dick distinctly and very modestly avows himself a believer in the universal restoration. Dr. Dick says:

When I consider the boundless nature of Eternity, and when I consider the limited duration of man, I can scarcely bring myself to believe that the sins of a few fleeting years are to be punished throughout a duration that has no end; more especially when it is declared, more than a score of times, that "the mercy of the Lord endureth forever," and that "his tender mercies are over all his works." If his mercy endureth forever, it is scarcely consistent with the idea that punishment will be inflicted throughout unlimited duration. Many good men have been much perplexed on this subject, although they have said little about it in public.

The late Mr. John Foster, whose works are so highly esteemed, and who appears to have been a profound thinker, has expressed himself very decisively on this subject, in a long letter which appears in his correspondence, in which he alludes to the case of many ministers of his acquaintance who appear to have imbibed the same sentiments, though they did not make them a prominent subject of discussion. As to myself, I have never said anything against such opinions, though I have never formally supported them, except in private. It has always been my opinion, that the doctrine of the universal Restoration ought to be made an open question among Christians, and that no one should be considered as a heretic, whatever side he takes on such a question; and therefore I condemn the Evangelical Alliance for excluding from their body those who do not believe in the eternity of punishment, as well as for excluding the Society of Friends, whom I consider the best practical christians in our country.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The Bank of Canandaigua, N. Y., is reported failed.

The Chicago, St. Paul and Fon-du-Lac Railroad failed yesterday for one million four hundred thousand dollars, assigning to Moses Taylor & Co.

Persse & Brooks, paper manufacturers, also failed yesterday. Liabilities four hundred thousand dollars.

The nominal surplus of Platner & Smith is stated to be four hundred thousand dollars.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Advices have reached the Interior Department from Superintendent Leach, in charge of the El Paso and Fort Yuma Wagon Road Expedition. It reached Texas on the 23d of August, and was to leave immediately for El Paso on the Rio Grande. All on the expedition were in very good health.

Col. Benton continues dangerously ill. His recovery is improbable.

ASIATIC CHOLERA.—A case of this terrible disease occurred at the Charlestown State Prison on Friday, presenting each and all the symptoms by which it is known to physicians. The purging and discharges were stopped in the course of the day, but the patient never rallied, and lingered till Monday morning. It is stated that two other cases outside the prison have occurred; but an epidemic is not feared.—Charlestown (Mass.) Adv.

FROM EUROPE—3 DAYS LATER.

The steamship Canada, from Liverpool 12th inst., arrived at Halifax at noon on Wednesday.

The London Times contains an extended article in relation to the financial crisis in New York, and American securities generally.

The East India Company have chartered twelve more steamers to convey troops to India.

There is no later news from India.

The monster steamer Great Eastern is to be launched on the 4th of October.

Mrs. Catharine Sinclair had made a successful debut at the Haymarket Theatre, London. The critic of the London Daily News describes her as the widow of the late Mr. Forrest!

The London Advertiser says that a well known Attorney has quitted England, with debts amounting to £150,000, including forgeries on a gigantic scale. Other journals say that this figure is an exaggeration, and that the attorney's name is Dean.

A memorandum has been issued from the Horse Guards, to the effect that gentlemen, qualified in other respects, might obtain commissions in the army, by raising 100 recruits.

Rev. Dr. Livingston had attended meetings of the Manchester Cotton Supply Association, Chamber of Commerce, &c., for the purpose of explaining the commercial resources of Africa. He said the country was well adapted to producing sugar, cotton, &c., and he proposed to devote the next few years of his life to special efforts in developing these pursuits in Africa.—Resolutions were adopted, calling on government to furnish Dr. Livingston with a steamer to ascend the Zambesi River, and enlist the Portuguese government in favor of the enterprise.

The Indian Relief Fund in London exceeds £20,000. A meeting is called in Liverpool to inaugurate a subscription in that city. Similar movements are being made in various parts of England.

Letters from the Lady Franklin Arctic steamer Fox, at Baul's river, in Greenland, state that the progress of the expedition had exceeded expectations. The vessel answers admirably. The winter had been very severe, which would have the effect of breaking the ice up, and rendering the head of Baffin's Bay clear.

The sub-marine telegraph cable from Europe to Africa was successfully laid on the 9th, between Bona and Cape Tenlada; distance 145 miles. It was submerged about two miles in depth a part of the distance.

The renewal of religious riots in Belfast had caused the government to issue a commission of inquiry into matters, with a view to punish offenders and adopt preventive measures; for the future, government promises prompt and vigorous action.

The Catholics of Belfast had organized a "Gun Club," with the view of arming themselves against the violence of the Orangemen.

The Gazette officially announces the elevation of Macaulay to the title of Baron Macaulay, and Lord Robert Grosvenor to Baron Ebury.

Latest. — Capt. Rogers, recently condemned to death for murdering a seaman by cruelties on board ship, was hung at Liverpool on Saturday noon. The two mates, also condemned, were respited.

FRANCE.—The "Assemblee Nationale" reappeared on Tuesday, under its compulsory new name of "The Spectateur."

Official accounts state that the French harvest exceeds the expectations of its abundance.

SPAIN.—Reinforcements were continuing to be sent off to Cuba. Within a few days 400 had sailed from Barcelona, and 800 from Cadis and Malaga.

ITALY.—Investigations into the late insurrections at Leghorn had terminated.—Seven prisoners are to be tried for murder, or maiming soldiers; the remainder for high treason.

RUSSIA.—The Emperor arrived at Warsaw on the 6th.

Two parties, Russian and English sailors, had a row in St. Petersburg, which resulted in the death of a Russian, and numerous severe injuries to others. The police took about 100 in custody.

FAILURES.—New York, Sept. 23.—The failure of the Rock River Bank, at Beloit, Wis., is announced.

There are reports to the discredit of the Hopkinton Bank, R. I.

The failure of Platner & Smith, paper manufacturers at Lee, Mass., is announced.

THE ERIE RAILROAD.—At the meeting to-day, of the officers and stock and bond holders of the Erie Railroad, the President stated the finances of the concern, alluding particularly to the existing financial pressure, which has overtaken the Board at a time when they have a million and a half dollars to provide for the current month. Of this sum, $575,000 has been loaned temporarily by some of the leading banks of the city, but even this aid, owing to the continued pressure of the money market, is likely to prove inadequate, and the Company is threatened with protest. Its labor has not been regularly paid, and unless its friends come forward, there is imminent risk of a failure. The Company have determined to issue Income Bonds, at 7 per cent., payable in any of the floating debt or obligations of the Company, and appointed a committee to procure subscriptions.

U. S. LOANS—TEXAS INDEMNITY STOCK. The Treasury Department will purchase such certificates of the United States loans of 1847 and 1848, and Texas idemnity five per cent. stock, as may be presented previous to the 1st of November, at the rates heretofore fixed and paid, together with the interest accrued in such cases since the 1st July.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.—Lawrence, K. T., Sept. 11.—The telegraph has doubtless told you before this of the raising of the siege. The last tent is struck, and every dragoon is off for Utah. Poor fellows! they have a terrible service before them. Some of them will never see the other side of South Pass. They go, some to find their last resting place in the barren sands of the Platte, or the desert beyond; some to leave their bones to bleach amid the everlasting snows of the mountains.

Lawrence survives, and so does her charter with its Mayor and Aldermen, and all their rebellion unpunised; so too does the Union, for all that we outsiders can learn in those distant parts.

Walker rages, threatens to resign unless he can have back his troops and this identical regiment. Rumor says he has gone down the river on his way to Washington. Of that you will know before this can reach you. We think better of Walker than we did a few weeks since. I verily believe he is bent on better things than we have given him credit for—far juster things than the fire-eaters who control this U. S. administration are willing should be done. They are attempting to crush him. They want no governor with U. S. troops, and a reputation to sustain, between them and their prey. They want another Woodson, with a proclamation for Territorial militia, and that they hope to have in Stanton. Like Geary, his successor will need the troops for his body guard. Like Geary, he is learning that there is no middle ground between ruffianism and absolute justice; between the reign of the blue lodges of Missouri and that of the free people of Kansas; between a murderous, whiskey-drinking oligarchy and popular sovereignty. I believe he will soon be forced to show himself on the right side in toto, relying on the people of the Territory to sustain him, or resign, if he has not done so already.—Traveller.

PROCLAMATION OF GOV. WALKER.—St. Louis, Sept. 23.—The proclamation of Gov. Walker relative to the October election in Kansas is received. While admitting that injustice is exhibited in the apportionment, which excludes fifteen counties from participating in the election, the Governor attempts to exculpate himself from blame by declaring that only four days remained after his arrival in the Territory to make the apportionment; that he did not know there existed a law requiring him to make the apportionment, therefore the duty involved upon others. He expresses the opinion that no one can vote except those who are qualified under the Territorial law of the 20th of February last; also, that, under this law, the Territorial tax is not required as a qualification for a voter. The Governor states that troops will be stationed at various places where violence is apprehended, and that he will use his best exertions to make the election a fair and honest expression of the views of the people.

The Mormons.—In addition to what was stated in last night's despatch, the Interior Department has received official information that on the 25th of May last, a large Mormon colony took possession of the Valley of Deer Creek, 100 miles west of Fort Laramie, and drove away a band of Sioux, whom the Indian Agent, Twiss, settled there in April, and induced to plant corn, and which section of country was assigned to them by the treaty of 1857. The pretext under which these settlements are made, is under cover of a contract of the Mormon Church to carry the mail from Independence to Great Salt Lake City. The number of Mormons who have settled in the Valley of Deer Creek is about 300. They have ploughed and planted 200 acres of prairie, and are building houses for the accomodation of 500 persons, and have a large herd of cattle, horses and mules. The Agent adds;—"I am powerless to control this matter, as the Mormons obey no laws enacted by Congress."

MR. SAMUEL K. HEAD AND HON. HENRY WILSON MAKE A BET.—The well-known politicians, Mr. Samuel K. Head, of Malden, and Hon. Henry Wilson, of Natick, met on Washington street, the other day, and, as a matter of course, had something to say as to the prospects of the gubernatorial campaign. They became excited. Mr. Head submitted a proposition, to wit, a bet: Ten dollars that N. P. Banks would not be elected Governor of Massachusetts, this year; fifty dollars that he would not get a plurality of 1000 votes, and twenty-five dollars that he would not get a plurality of 1500 votes. The Senator "took that bet," and in less than no time, the money was placed in the hands of the bookseller on the corner, to be, by him, paid over to the winner after the election.—Sunday News

Mr. Head has probably lost his money. The Newburyport Herald says:

Hon. Timothy Davis, our representative in Congress, contrary to the general expectation, in this quarter, has published a letter in the Boston Bee, giving in his adhesion to the Banks nomination, so that the whole delegation in Congress, are now upon that side. We cannot say that we are greatly surprised to find Mr. Davis where he is, but where, perhaps, he did not think to be, a few weeks ago. Many of the young men, who are fully imbued with anti-slavery opinions, like Mr. Davis, hesitate to put themselves under the lead of the Fillmore wing, and since the very singular speech of Maj. Cobb, who was put forth as Gov. Gardner's mouth piece, at Charlestown, in which he declared that he only went for Fremont, last year, for State spoils, and now returns to the Fillmore ranks, as to his first love, we have noticed quite a staggering of the Gardner line. We should not be surprised if this had operated upon Mr. Davis's mind. Without saying now, whether Major Cobb was right or wrong in his position, it is very clear that Massachusetts cannot be carried upon any such platform, if it is fairly understood.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PARTIAL DEAFNESS AND DISCHARGES from the Ear. DR. HARTLEY generously offers to attend all persons suffering from affections of the ear at his office, 780 Broadway N. Y., without charge until cured, thereby proving his success unequalled, and protecting the deaf from being swindled by paying self-styled aurists exorbitant fees in advance, and the infliction of still more serious evils by permitting the application of dangerous remedies by inexperienced and unskillful hands. Dr. H. may here state that he has no connection whatever with any person advertising to cure deafness, neither has he given permission for the publication of a certificate purporting to emanate from him, and cannot, therefore be responsible for any alarming consequences resulting from rashness and desperation. The loss of money may not be material to some persons, but the deprivation of one of the most important of the senses ought to be respected and treated with more than ordinary solicitude. Deafness, noise in the head, and all disagreeable discharges from the ear, speedily and permanently removed, without causing the least pain or inconvenience. A cure in all cases guaranteed where malformation does not exist. Thirteen years' close and almost undivided attention to this branch of special practice has enabled him to reduce his treatment to such a degree of success as to find the most confirmed and obstinate cases yield by a steady attention to the means prescribed.

The following testimonials are submitted with confidence; they will show at a glance in what estimation his professional qualifications are held by some of the most distinguished medical men of the country:

sept16 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

NEW HAMPSHIRE MUNITIONS.

The new Militia Law of New Hampshire allows necessary and reasonable repairs and improvements to be made in the State Arsenals. Of these there are two in this State—one in this city, and the other, much less stocked, in Lancaster. The new Commissary General, Franklin Dennett, has devoted his whole time, since his election, to putting the buildings and contents in muster order.

The Arsenal here, which is probably unknow to most of our citizens, is a two-story brick building, situated on South street, near the Haven School, and surrounded by a high wall. Until recently the State has taken but little care of her munitions of war—which, if worth buying, are certainly worth preserving; and the muskets have been stowed in boxes of twenty each. But Gen. Dennett has made the old place look like an Arsenal.] Outside, paint renders the old wall hardly recognisable; and a good flag-staff has been raised from the roof, and a handsome new flag furnished for display thereon on public occasions.—There are also about twenty iron and brass field pieces in the yard and basement of the "Gun-House," all which have been cleaned, painted and properly covered from the weather.

In the second story of the building are about 1300 muskets, handsomely stacked around the room,—most of which have percussion locks. Those with flints will be sent to one of the U. S. Arsenals, and fitted for percussion caps. There are also here about 250 rifles, and 120 of Colt's revolvers of large size—almost equal to six rifles each, and a pair of them probably weighing more than a musket.

The new Militia Law required the return of all the old stands of arms in the State—of which New Hampshire owned about ten thousand muskets, loaned to various towns in the State. Upwards of 2,000 muskets have been received here, and forwarded by Gen. Dennett, to the Springfield and other Arsenals, for repair or condemnation. Some of them had been out for more than thirty years, and were wretchedly out of order. These are packed in boxes of twenty each.

In the attic, there is a good supply of cartridges, with knapsacks and other military accoutrements, in excellent order.

There are nearly 1,000 of these old muskets at the Lancaster Arsenal—which has also been somewhat repaired and improved.

The Arsenal here is the State depository of the standard weights and measures.—The measures, dry and liquid, beer and wine, from a glass to a bushel, all of copper or composition casting, requiring about fifteen to go through every grade—and the various weights of avordupois, apothecary, &c., from one grain to fifty-six pounds, in copper and brass, are here deposited, as well as the brass rules of standard measure. The whole establishment is now very conveniently arranged and in excellent order.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Sept. 22.

Before Justice Odell.—Wm. H. Moore, was accused of stealing four $5 bills, and three silver half dollars from Rodney Arbuckle. Plea not guilty. He was bound over for trial on the first Tuesday of October, in $400. For lack of sureties, he was committed.

☞ Uncle Toby cannot exactly agree with Sensitivus about the Drum and the Drummer. Uncle T. thinks the drum a nice one of the kind, and the drummer very fair for his amount of experience in the business, likely to improve by practice, and altogether too good a musician to be driven from the ground. The drum is a popular part of what we are glad to say, is a popular band, the playing of which this summer has drawn an orderly and well behaved crowd of people, who came to be pleased, and were pleased. The playing of the band has tended to keep order and promote innocent pleasure,—we have no doubt.

☞ We have seen statements in various papers, of Sugar Cane stalks growing eleven and eleven and a half feet high; but in the garden of Col. Jacob Cutter, in this city, there is one a little rising twelve feet. He has quite a sugar-cane brake;—part of which was planted in March, in the house, and part where the whole now stands, in May—but it all looks alike.

☞ The name of the young man who saved the child from drowning in the Dock, last Sunday, is James M. Pickering.—We give his whole name, that so good an act may be credited to the right source.

☞ Among the new music, just received by Chas. C. Harvey, is the "Campaign March," and "Invitation to the Chase,"—piano pieces, just published.

MUNICIPAL.

THURSDAY EVENING, Sept. 24.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—A petition was received from the contractor of the new Custom House building, for permission to open a drain on State street, from the basement of the new building to the river.—Granted, under the following restrictions: That in constructing the drain, they shall not interfere with individual or corporate rights.

A petition of Samuel G. Folsom for a sidewalk in front of his residence on Warren st. was granted.

An application from several citizens for a gas-light in front of the new vestry on Court st. was referred to the Committee on Gaslights.

James Moses applied for a relaying of the sidewalk in front of the new Bank building on Pleasant street, and also one on the northerly side of said building. Referred to Committee on Streets, Roads and Bridges, with power to act.

It was voted that the Mayor shall appoint, if necessary, a special police on the days of the Rockingham County Fair.

In consequence of numerous depredations and thefts having been committed on the premises of citizens residing in the outskirts of the city, it was voted that Daniel H. Spinney be appointed as special police for sixty days.

☞ Thirty-one applicants presented themselves for admission to the Girls' High School on Thursday; and after a thorough and faithful examination by the Committee, which lasted from 8 o'clock in the morning till sunset—the whole number were admitted. This school now numbers 120 pupils—all the seats being occupied. The Committee tested the candidates in every practicable way; and the exercises were most pleasant and interesting throughout—at least to all but the scholars, who must speak for themselves. This speaks well for the primary and grammar schools.

The boys are to be examined to-day.

☞ The members of the Mercantile Library Association are requested, one and all, to meet at the Library Room this (Friday) evening, at 7 o'clock, on special business. Per Order.

NEW ENGLAND HORSE FAIR.—The New England Horse Company are holding a Fair at Chelsea. On Tuesday afternoon, a span of bay mares failed to trot 14 miles in an hour, thereby forfeiting $500. Forest Maid won $75 in 2:49, 2:51—Toby second, Somerville third.

About one hundred and fifty horses have thus far entered. Among the late arrivals are two English horses, from St. John, N. B., which are to run five mile heats for a silver cup on Friday afternoon. The Transcript says one of Gen. Pierce's thorough bred horses will be at the Fair, and will try speed with either or both of them.

☞ At the Manchester trotting park, on Saturday, a couple of gents tried alternately the driving of a tandem team. The first made the mile in 3:27—the other, with the same team, in 3:44.

On Monday, there was a Walking match of five miles, between the stock horses Young Morrill and Clifton, for $50. Clifton won in 1 hour, 2 minutes, forty-six seconds.

☞ The three American race-horses now in England, have been "beat all to pieces" by the English and French horses. But this don't prove much; for all the three had been beaten at home before they started. An intelligent sportsman in Germany, writes the Spirit of the Times, that "last year my bay dead season for horse-flesh in America, and almost all the horses sent to Europe, turned out badly." He also says the relative value of the rival horses in the great Goodwood Cup race, should be considered. The American mare Prioress cost $2,500; Fisherman, one of the defeated English horses, $7,000; while the victorious French horse Monarque, cost $10,000. But he says the French and English horses can beat ours for distances less than three miles.

AN ORIGINAL SERMON.

The editor of the Northwestern has at least one written sermon, though we believe he prefers the extemporaneous style. Having recommended Luke iv. 16—19 as a good text for the Southern preachers, in Kansas, the Richmond Christian Advocate took up the gauntlet, and recommended Matthew xvii. 23—25.

"Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants.

"And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him which owed him ten thousand talents.

"But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made."

"Try your hand on that, Bro. Eddy," says the Advocate. "If you fail, we may cover your retreat with an exhortation."

Whereupon we have the following

SERMON.

Introduction.—The text furnished by our esteemed friend is given to show that "some things can be done as well as others." We notice:

I.—THE OBJECTS OF SALE.

1. The whole family.—The king did not order the sale of the wife, or of the husband, and thus divide whom God hath joined. Nor did he sell the boys to be barkeepers, the mother to be a cook, and the daughters to be ——.

2. It was not one man for the debts of another. In other words, "Uncle Tom" was not sold to meet the matured paper of Mass Shelby. The man who made the money and spent it, and the family who arrogantly wasted it, were sold. We propose that the same rule be applied in the next sale advertised by a "hard up" F. F. V. Instead of the "boy Sam," let the auctioneer "put up" and knock down the reckless spendthrift who thus offers to sell from home, and wife, and child, an innocent, industrious man, for whom the Redeemer died, — to sell him to provide means to buy his fast horses and support his paramours.

II.—THEIR CONDITION AFTER SALE.

1. They had one year in seven of entire rest.—LEV. XXV. 6. At least, they had all its privileges.

2. They enjoyed all the religious privileges of the land.

3. If the master's son espoused one of "the girls," she was to be treated as a daughter. If he married another, she was to go "free without money." Ex. xxvii. 7.

4. If the brutal master struck out an eye or tooth of either of them, he went free.—Put that in the next Virginia bill of sale made for one of God's adopted children!

5. If any of these slaves escaped, they could not be captured. Here was the law of rendition: "Thou shalt not deliver unto his master the servant which is escaped from his master unto thee: He shall dwell with thee, even among you, in that place which he shall choose, in one of thy gates where it liketh him best."—Deut. xxiii. 15, 16. Put that in the next bill of sale, beloved brethren of ancient Virginia. Order that no Legree shall pursue with his bloodhounds,—no calling out of army and navy to chase along the path of the retreating fugitive. No, brethren, "let him dwell in one of your gates"—in Richmond, or Norfolk, or "where it liketh him best."

6. They were all to go free in the year of Jubilee.—LEV. XXV. 8—13. Insert this in your bill of sale.

III. SOME FRACTICAL INFERENCES.

The underground railroad is a dangerous institution, and the North star should be abolished.

2. The best thing a State can do when thriftless husbandry and indolent cultivation have worn out the soil, is to buy men and women, and raise men and women to sell in other markets.

3. Kansas should be made a slave State, as that will at once raise the price of such property to $5000 per head. Therefore, brethren, hurrah for Walker, Stringfellow, and Titus.

4. All who desire to secure their claims, by taking a lien upon such property, will do well to be in haste. Their time wares short. Slavery is to wilt, vamose, retire. See Life and Times of Jesse Lee, page 174:

"It will succumb to the power of the gospel of Christ. Its doom is written, but 'the time is not yet.' It will retire before the Christianity of the nineteenth century, as the dew drop that sparkles and dies in the morning blaze." That is, it will be "dried up."

Dr. Lee will please exhort.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special act of assembly, and money is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the money and orders come to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1; five for $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount of money each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Augusta Chronicle, New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full, no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m31y

OF the Newest Styles.—Just received and for sale at low prices, by JOHN SISE, sept19 5 Market Square.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since. When you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. We then done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BARNES, ex-Senator, U. S.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,

SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and not one of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

Any amount of Heat required,

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then having fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed.

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the sick and debilitated female changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature; and wherever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. they are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers, Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL, AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and refusal decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him, at least, good question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
Testimonials.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors of the United States. I shall have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office, regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—Wherever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like a molecule matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

AT PORTSMOUTH.

On Thursday and Friday of next week, Oct. 1st and 2d, our city will be favored with the first Agricultural Fair ever held within its limits. For some of the details of the arrangements, see our advertising columns. The spacious field belonging to Dr. Edward Rundlet, on Middle, and opposite Anthony street, has been secured for the Cattle Show; and Congress and Jefferson Halls have been engaged for the show of fruits, flowers, fancy articles, and mechanical productions. Our horticulturists and farmers in this vicinity take a lively interest in the exhibition, and will contribute liberally to the show. Engine Companies Nos. 2, 4 and 5 have voted to appear in the procession on the day of the Fair, and Companies 1, 3 and 6, and the Hook and Ladder Co. probably will also.—Invitations have been extended to all the Fire Departments in the county to join in the procession. The Mechanic Association has accepted an invitation and will join the procession, which promises to be a grand affair. The municipal authorities have engaged the Portsmouth Cornet Band for the two days, and if the state of the committee's treasury will admit, another band will be engaged for the procession. The City Phalanx, Captain Sides, has accepted the invitation of the committee to perform escort duty.

It is hoped that every article which will tend to give interest to the exhibition will be forwarded to the committee, not only by the citizens of Portsmouth, but by those of every other town in the county. Let us have for exhibition specimens of needlework, of painting, and of good workmanship in any mechanical art.

We hope that interesting feature of the exhibitions at Exeter, the decorated Teams, will not be dispensed with on this occasion—we trust ample accommodations will be afforded for all who may be in attendance.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE FAIR.

The Committee of Arrangements for the County Fair to be held in this city on Thursday and Friday, the 1st and 2d of October, would solicit contributions of Needlework, Painting and Drawing; Clothing of all kinds; Furniture, Fancy Articles made in the County; Fruits and Vegetables of all kinds; Bouquets of Flowers, Cut Flowers, specimens of Dahlias and Asters; &c. &c.

Vegetables and fruits to be sent to Jefferson Hall. Flowers, fancy articles, clothing, &c. to Congress Hall.

The halls will be open for the reception of articles on Wednesday till 9 o'clock, P. M. and on Thursday morning till 9 o'clock.

Ten cents will admit to both halls.

THE COUNTRY BANKS.—Many of the banks in the rural districts and in towns and cities on the sea board will be sufferers by their recent attempts to secure usurious rates of interest. Instead of attending to the wants of the regular trade in their localities, and sustaining business men near about them, the officers, turning a deaf ear to their regular customers, came to Boston, and bought the paper at "street rates." Some of these gentlemen were in town last Saturday and were "anxious inquiries." Have the Bank Commissioners no voice to stop such illegal proceedings?

The above from the Boston Transcript is a palpable hit at the officials of Banks outside of Boston, whose offices in that city are upon the curb stones of State street, to the detriment of the local business of their own vicinage. There is much wrong in the bank management of the present time. These institutions are chartered, ostensibly, for the benefit of the business of their own immediate localities, but the temptations in large cities of usurious rates of interest are such that they seek foreign city paper, their means are there absorbed, and hence they are unable to accommodate their domestic demands, which would be of real benefit to the local trade and their legitimate customers.

It is, also, too often the case that a bank is found wholly in the hands of a few, who use its funds for private ends, the sequel of which is speculative temptations, bankruptcy and ruin. We do not allude to the banks of any particular locality.—This is a characteristic of these institutions throughout the land. We learn that one of the Boston banks at this moment holds near four hundred thousand dollars in the notes of one mercantile house that suspended last week—a good many eggs in one basket.—Journal.

THE GREAT EASTERN.—A London correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser writes:

"This afternoon, I spent on board of the Great Eastern an hour, which is all the time allotted to visitors, while the men are at dinner. As the dimensions of this mammoth vessel have been often published, I will not repeat them. Her strength is all that iron can afford. Her launch will be a novelty in its way, as she is to slide into the water sideways. Many doubt its feasibility.—This, however, will soon be decided, as the company are driving the work as fast as possible, there being at the present time twelve hundred workmen employed on the ship. I do not hear anything said about her going to Portland in the spring; but there is a good deal of talk about sending her to Australia or India. Should government want her to convey troops, she will of course be employed in that service. The Portland people must not be so sanguine of her making that city a visit, notwithstanding the preparations made for her reception. I am told that the steamer will be launched in October, should no accident occur to delay the necessary preparations."

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1857.

☞ It seems after all, that President Buchanan's answer to the New Haven Memorial, did not quite "crush out" the memorialists, as some papers seemed to suppose it must. So far from it, the same gentlemen have reviewed the president's essay, and rather cut it up. The president has great political power, and his essay, in its lordly tone, shows that he feels it; but in intellectual and moral power, he looks small, when his essay is compareed with their review.

By the way, it has been assumed very generally, that the forty memorialists are all clergymen. This is not correct;—tho' they are all men of high character and position, as Mr. Buchanan suggests in his essay. The controversy will do good.

☞ The Portland Advertiser says: The large package of money ($1,800) stolen from Mr. Libby, of the Bates Mill, in Lewiston, was taken by an old Irish woman who worked in the factory. The old hag took $500 of the funds to buy her a young husband, and the couple started on a tour. They came to this city, where they failed to find a minister who would marry them. They then went to Lowell, where they met the same obstacle to the perfection of their bliss; and when last heard from, they were on their way to Philadelphia. Measures have been taken to arrest them.

The Argus says that the "young man" was engaged and published to be married to a young woman, but the "old bag" bought him off with her promise of the [stolen] $500. They are a likely pair.

☞ Francis Gideon of De Kalb county, Ga., left all his slaves to the American Colonization Society, with a large amount of other property, to be used, in sending them to Africa. The heirs of Mr. Gideon contested the rights of the Colonization Society, and the Supreme Court of the State has decided that the Society is incompetent to sue for the freedom of the slaves.—They therefore return to slavery, and with the other property, go to the heirs. It is very difficult to make a will stand that emancipates slaves. The penitent slaveholder should be his own executor, before death.

A GOOD ARGUMENT.—The Philadelphia Bulletin makes use of the late terrible disaster to the Central America, as an argument for the construction of the Pacific Railroad, saying:—"If the fact could have been presented that over five hundred persons must perish at one instant, there would have been no difficulty in getting Congress to authorise the work. Now over five hundred persons have perished, because there was no Pacific Railroad, and five thousand may perish in the same way, in the course of years, unless one is built. Will not this make an impression upon Congress?"

A NEW RELIGIOUS QUARTERLY.—The Puritan Recorder says that at a meeting of ministers, held at the Congregational Committee Room, in Boston, on Monday, 21st inst., it was resolved to attempt to form a company to publish a Quarterly Review, to defend and promote the Puritan Theology. A committee was appointed to digest a plan of procedure, and report at an andjourned meeting.

A SLAVE HUNT IN NEBRASKA.—A Missourian named Myers, discovered three negroes near Brownville, Nebraska, and gave information of the fact, when a company was sent from Brownville in pursuit. Myers went with them, and while pointing out the fugitives, was shot through the head and killed. The negroes fled, but one of them was wounded and captured.—The others will probably escape.

SENTENCE.—At Dedham, Mass., Sept. 24, Judge Perkins, upon the bench of the Norfolk County Court of Common Pleas, sentenced Margaret O'Brien of Randolph, upon three convictions for violation of the liquor law, to $10 fine and costs upon each, and twenty days in the House of Correction, with thirty days additional imprisonment upon each, if the fines are not paid, also to give bonds in $1000 not to violate the law.

☞ Harper's Monthly for October, just received by A. Williams & Co., Boston, and by the booksellers in this city, contains three illustrated articles, viz., the Ship of the Desert; A Winter in the South; and the French National Assembly. The Pride of Moses Grant is an interesting story, almost impossible—but not quite.

Elderberry leaves laid upon the shelves of a safe or cupboard, will drive away ants.

LOSS OF LIFE.—A letter from Ellsworth, Me., to the Boston Journal, says that Capt. Jeremiah Thornton, of Crotch Island, with his daughter, two grand-daughters, Sarah and Helen Jordan, Captain Edmund Beals, and two passengers from New York, was capsized on Tuesday morning, the 15th, while going from Northwest Harbor of Deer Island to his home, and all were lost but Capt. Beals and the youngest of the girls, Helen Jordan. All the men and women except one of the strangers came to the surface and got upon the bottom of the boat, but she rolled over several times, and in the end, all perished, but the two above named.
